PERIL IN TAX LOSS MET

State Income to Get Safeguard

Officials Outline Plans to Make Up Possible Revenue Deficit

Court Actions May Cut Off Foreign Corporation and Bank Levies

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (Æ)—Recommendations for legislative action to preserve the State's tax laws from the disorganization which State officials say is threatened by recent United States and State Supreme Court decisions were worked out here this afternoon at a conference of Gov. Young, Atty.-Gen. Webb, the chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee of both houses of the Legislature and financial officials of the State. They will be presented to the Legislature early next week. The result of the conference and the decision to seek "appropriate" legislative action was announced by the Governor tonight.

The legislative action will be taken to plug the gaps in the corporation franchise-tax laws and the statute taxing national banking systems doing business in California. The former law was held invalid, in so far as it taxed foreign corporations, in a recent California Supreme Court decision. The tax on the latter branches of business may be lost through the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Minnesota and Wisconsin cases relieving national banks from taxes that must be paid by state banks.

MAY AVOID LOSS

Although the officials attending the conference stated they are not certain at this time that the United States Supreme Court decisions will be applicable in California, the statement issued at the Governor's office stated that "fortunately these decisions came at a time when the Legislature may take steps to prevent disorganization of our tax laws and avoid any considerable loss of revenue to the State."

The action of the Legislature, in addition to preserving the tax laws from disorganization, administration heads expect, will safeguard all the present source of income and the $60,000,000 general-fund surplus. This surplus will be reduced several millions by the requirements of the $190,788,465.00 budget, which is before the Senate, over and above the estimated income of the State for the next two years.

The need for immediate safeguarding of the State's tax laws and sources of income was disclosed today when administration leaders revealed the unstable condition of the revenue system resulting from the court decisions that might result in a loss of $12,000,000 to the general fund. This sum was pointed out by

POOR RICH MAN MUST BORROW

Senator Couzens Gets "Broke" and Almost Hungry, But for Senator Borah

WASHINGTON, April 1. (Æ) Senator Couzens of Michigan, who is a multimillionaire, was forced to borrow a dollar from Senator Borah of Idaho before he could eat his lunch.

The Michigan Senator had forgotten that the Senate restaurant, where the Senators have charge accounts, had closed and he was faced with either going hungry or raising some money. He met Senator Borah outside the Capitol and explained that he had left his pocketbook at home and needed a dollar.

"That's an old story," replied Borah. "I don't believe you're broke, but here's the dollar. This is the proudest moment of my life."

SHARK BILL TO SENATE

Assembly Passes Act to Halt Grafting Through Delinquent Tax

Way Paved to Adjourn Both Houses on 22nd Inst. With Night Sessions

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (Exclusive) Without a voice raised in protest, the Assembly adopted and sent to the Senate today the Los Angeles bill designed to eliminate the delinquent assessment shark.

This bill was drafted by City Attorney Stephens and Deputy City Attorney Cragin, and was handled in the Assembly both in committee and on the floor by Assemblymen Scofield and Woolwine, both of Los Angeles.

Opposition to the bill was apparent, but was withdrawn for fear the restrictions might be drawn tighter in case of a fight. The provisions of the bill as it is at present afford ample protection to the property owner, the bond dealer and the contractor, but erases from the scene the shark, who for several years in Los Angeles has taken advantage of loopholes in the law to impose on property owners not prepared to fight.

The city, under the provisions of Berlin Hands Over Interest on Reparations

BERLIN, April 1. (Æ)—In accordance with the Dawes agreement, the bank for German industrial obligations today handed 125,000,000 marks to the Agent-General for reparation payments. The sum represents the first half-yearly installment of interest due, for the third reparation year, on the mortgage on German industry of 5,000,000,000 marks.

BAY REGION DRENCHED

High Sierra Passes Choked With New Precipitation; Rain to Continue

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2. (Exclusive)—Flood waters of surprising strength, almost wholly unexpected, burst the spillway of the Vallejo municipal dam at the mouth of the Gordon Valley, six miles northeast of Cordelia, shortly before midnight last night and gave rise to fears that the entire structure will go out. If the dam gives, the flood waters will rush down on the towns of Cordelia, Suisun and Fairfield, the latter two twelve miles from the structure.

There are approximately 3,000,000,000 gallons of water backed up behind the dam and volunteer workers have been called out to throw up a temporary barricade. Ranchers and residents were being warned shortly before midnight.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (Exclusive)—With blizzards raging in the vicinity of Blue Canyon, Truckee and Redding and rain falling in amounts varying from a drizzle to nearly three inches of precipitation, Northern and Central California tonight is in the grip of the elements. Three feet of snow has fallen in the Sierras in the last twenty-four hours. The forecast is for continued rain with snow in the mountains. So far no appreciable damage has been reported.

Scattered rains which began in the bay district and generally elsewhere in Northern California yesterday changed to a steady downpour last night and continued most of today. Precipitation in San Francisco amounted to 1.72 inches.

The rain here was accompanied by whipping winds, which, at times, attained considerable velocity. In isolated places, a few small trees were uprooted.

OAKLAND SUFFERS

In Oakland, business in the Grand-avenue shopping district was suspended for several hours when storm sewers were unable to carry water near Lake Merritt. Street cars were halted temporarily.

The McDonald-avenue subway in Richmond, carrying Southern Pacific and street car tracks, flooded when the pumps broke and traffic was stopped. Some passengers had to climb over the top of the subway to surface cars at either end.

Reports were received from Sacramento that numerous small streams are rising as a result of heavy precipitation and snow in the mountains.

Wind bearing rain in Santa Rosa reached a velocity of thirty miles an hour and precipitation was nearly three inches, but no damage to fruit trees, now in blossom, was reported.

Rain, hail and snow fell at Redding, reaching blizzard proportions. Rainfall at Redding to date is 51.80 inches, compared to 22.14 on April 1 last year.

A small landslide at Matcheson in Shasta county, scene of a slide during the February storms, tied up traffic for an hour on the Southern Pacific.

TWELVE-FOOT SNOW PACK

Four feet of snow at Summit in the Sierras has increased the pack there to 145 inches.

Following are rainfall measurements reported up to 5 p.m. today:

	Last 24 Hours.	Seasonal to date.	Seasonal last year.
Eureka	1.00	45.50	24.71

UNSETTLED WEATHER DUE IN SOUTHLAND

Despite the clear skies and sunshine yesterday the forecast issued by Col. H. B Hersey of the United States Weather Bureau last night called for unsettled weather with possible showers last night and today.

The presence of a low-pressure area off the coast at San Francisco caused the weather man to hang out the shower possibility. The "low" was moving slowly southward, but another twenty-four hours might see it pushed over the horizon by a "high."

According to reports to the offices of the Southern California Edison Company rain and snow were falling at 4 p.m. yesterday in the Huntington Lake country. Up to that time six inches of snow had fallen at that point, with .77 of an inch of rain at Big Creek. The figure brought the total rainfall for the season at Huntington Lake to 32.76 inches, as compared to a ten-year annual average of 24.94 inches.

RADIO HEARING CONCLUDED

Commission Expected to Tackle Broadcast Muddle by Banning Useless Stations First

WASHINGTON, April 1. (Æ)—Concluding four days of public hearings at which scores of representatives of radio interests appeared, the Federal Radio Commission tonight took under advisement a voluminous record of testimony oue of which it hopes to bring a semblance of order to the present chaotic radio situation.

A multitude of proposals to remedy the congestion resulting from 7323 stations using ninety-five available wave lengths was offered and these the commission is at liberty to use in reaching a starting point for relicensing stations after the 24th inst. when the sixty-day respite allowed by law expires.

Out of the mass of suggestions, came several large scale plans which, if adopted, would revolutionize present broadcasting by wholesale reduction of the number of stations; almost general opposition to revision of the present broadcast band or other physical changes on the ground that existing equipment would have to be scrapped, and less drastic formulas for numercial curtailment of stations.

INDIVIDUAL PROBLEM

While no announcement was made by the commission, the prevailing opinion among competent observers was that the control body will not adopt any station reduction plan for general application to the country as a whole, but rather will tackle its admittedly difficult problem in a gradual manner by eliminating only those stations which from time to time are proven useless from a public service standpoint.

One proposal put forward today and which is expected to have some weight with the commission was that of S. B. Davis, solicitor of the Commerce Department, who is considered an expert on radio matters. He proposed that the commission consider each application for a license on its merits from a public service standpoint, classifying them by wave lengths desired, and go down the line for all available wave lengths, which would make possible at least a tentative ruling as to which stations shall use a particular broadcast channel.

He realized that under this procedure there must be some stations eliminated but declared the commission should not "shut its eyes to that necessity."

NECESSARY TO PRUNE

Several favored Mr. Davis's idea, although R. S. McBridge, of this city, said it would be better to proceed on a geographical rather than a single wave length basis in passing on applications.

Further pleas were heard today on behalf of market, educational and religious program broadcasters, especially those of land grant colleges and the extensive farm radio service of the Department of Agriculture.

Alfred E. Waller, of the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association, said a drastic reduction of stations to possibly less than 200 is necessary, retaining those which have not departed from the gentlemen's agreement of previous radio conferences on wave lengths.

Mexico Sends Cargo of Lead Off to Russia

MEXICO CITY, April 1. (Æ)—Efforts of Mme. Alexandra Kollantay, soviet minister to Mexico, to establish commercial intercourse between Russia and Mexico, are bearing fruit.

The first ship from Mexico for Russia left Tampico today with a $100,000 cargo of lead, according to El Universal, which adds that the vessel will bring back raw materials from Russia.

STOCKS HIT BUT LITTLE BY RULING

Wall Street Indifferent to Commerce Commission Rail Valuation Decision

NEWYORK, April 1. (Æ)—The Interstate Commerce Commission's decision in the St. Louis and O'Fallon case, holding that railroad rate valuations should be based on 1914 costs instead of present replacement value, as contended by the railroads, caused only a flurry of selling of railroad shares on the New York Stock Exchange today. Early declines of 1 to 2½ points were generally reduced or wiped out and in a few cases followed by the establishment of record high levels.

At the close of the market the average of twenty leading issues showed a net loss of only 1-3 of a point and was within ½ of a point of the highest level since 1913.

Although the decision indirectly affects billions of dollars in railroad securities, Wall street was inclined to take a philosophical view of the case. The Interstate Commerce Commission's decision was characterized by some officials as a blessing in disguise, in that it provided a ready means of bringing the troublesome question of valuation before the Federal courts for final determination.

While Atchison, New York Central, Reading, New Haven, Wabash, Frisco common and several other popular railroad stocks closed lower on the day, Rock Island jumped nearly 5 points to a record high at 92 5-8 and Norfolk and Western and Bangor and Aroostoock touched record high prices at 183½ and 71 1-4, respectively, the last named later losing all its gain and closing 2 1-4 net lower.

Outside the railroad shares, chief interest centered in the establishment of another new high record by U. S. Steel common at 196 5-8, despite Chairman Gary's denial of rumors that an extra cash dividend was under consideration and the renewed weakness of several of the baking, oil, packing and textile shares, which sank to new low records for the year.

France Reported in Plan to Make Payment on Debt

PARIS, April 1. (Æ)—It was rumored in lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies today that the government may introduce a bill shortly for the raising of a loan to make payments on the French debts to the United States and Great Britain, during 1928 and 1929.

The reports fixed the amount of the loan at from 10,000,000,000 to 14,000,000,000 francs.

AMERICANS TO DISARM NICARAGUA

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

MANAGUA, April 1. (Exclusive)—For the first time in its history Nicaragua will be a nation without guns, as soon as Rear-Admiral Julian Latimer decides to issue the proclamation that all the parties hand over to the United States marines their arms and ammunition.

Admiral Latimer has completed arrangements with Brig.-Gen. Logan Feland for a final settlement of the present intolerable situation, with brothers fighting brothers, and the outlook worse than it has been in months, creating a civil war situation in the interior which it is most difficult to subdue without the firmest hand.

It is learned unofficially but unquestionably that Admiral Latimer plans to issue a lengthy proclamation throughout the country intimating kindly, but firmly, that within a given time—eight days is suggested—every gun, rifle and cartridge must be handed over to the marines.

WINTER IN ALL-FOOLS' DAY PRANK

Midwest 'Shivers in Icy Gale With Snow and Rain Retarding Spring Advance

CHICAGO, April 1. (Æ)—Winter played a cold All Fools' Day prank on Middle America today, pouring snow down the back of thinly clad spring and roaring his glee with winds of gale force and Arctic chill.

Rapid City, S. D., saw eighteen inches of snow when it threw back the shutters this morning and the ground was unseasonably white in other parts of that State and in the northern Rocky Mountain region. It rained over a wide area of the plains States and there were thunder storms and high winds.

Chicago, too, had some snow, but its chief weather complaints were biting rains driven by a gale that picked up biting chill as it swept over Lake Michigan. The Chicago temperature dropped to 35 deg.

Some parts of the Northwest had comparatively mild weather, contrasting with that in South Dakota, where the blow was so strong that the roof of a large barn was lifted off.

CHINESE TO FEEL GRIP

New Marine Unit Mobilized

America to Use Every Force Necessary to Protect Lives of Citizens

Kellogg Denies Order Issued for Countrymen to Quit Shanghai Area

WASHINGTON, April 1. (Æ)—Firm intention of the Washington government to use whatever means necessary to protect Americans in China was reiterated today in a formal statement by Secretary Kellogg, issued shortly after orders had gone out sending 1800 additional marines to stand by at San Diego, awaiting developments. A platoon of light tanks and two batteries of motorized field guns go with the new contingent of marines.

"The United States government is taking necessary steps to protect the lives and property of Americans in China," Secretary Kellogg said.

He added that no orders for American evacuation of Shanghai have been issued from Washington and that only those Americans located at points in China where protection cannot be afforded have been advised to withdraw by Minister MacMurray at Peking.

RESENT CRITICISMS

Mr. Kellogg's statement was prompted by published criticism among Americans at Shanghai, including certain officials of the Municipal Council, which governs the international city, charging lack of firmness in Washington in dealing with the crisis, and failure to co-operate with other western powers.

"American diplomatic and military representatives in China are co-operating fully with other foreign representatives when faced with a joint problem such as protection of the lives and property of their nationals," Mr. Kellogg said.

The same resentment at misconstruction placed on official announcements in Washington as they are circulated in Shanghai was disclosed at the White House. It was indicated that in the future the views of President Coolidge, in connection with day-to-day developments in China, may not be made available as freely as in recent weeks.

As to the movement of additional marines to San Diego, besides the force already en route there to embark on the transport Henderson for Shanghai, it was said that the President does not expect these to be sent to China unless they are called for by Admiral Williams.

PRECAUTIONARY MOVE

The movement is a precautionary one, it was explained at the Navy Department, and in line with Admiral Williams's call for reinforcements received a week ago when the situation at Shanghai appeared critical. The admiral asked for 1500 additional men then, and recommended that another 1500 be concentrated for quick movement if needed later.

The provisional regiment ordered concentrated today will be drawn from detachments in all parts of the United States. Norfolk and New Orleans will be concentration points, from which detachments will move out for San Diego by next Wednesday.

The tank platoon and "75's" will go from Quantico, Va., and the regiment will be commanded by Col. Henry C. Davis, now commandant of marines at Norfolk, with Col. Harry Lay of the artillery brigade of the remnant of the Tenth Regiment at Quantico, commanding the guns and tanks.

ALARMING REPORTS

Despite the official explanation that the concentration of additional marines at San Diego had been recommended some days ago by Admiral Williams, there were suggestions that new and disturbing reports as to conditions in Northern China have reached Washington from various sources and may have had a part in bringing about the sudden decision to issue the new orders. Up to noon, orders affecting only two replacement battalions of marines had been sent out.

Rumanian Ruler Held Dying

Daughter Rushes Home to Bedside, But Carol Stays in Paris

Dispatch from Bucharest Says "Improvement in Health" Noted

PARIS, April 1. (Æ)—Advices from Belgrade say it was reported tonight in court circles that King Ferdinand of Rumania, whose illness was reported today to have taken a turn for the worse, was expected to face a crisis tonight which his physicians do not believe he will survive.

The police and military authorities in Bucharest were said to have taken all precautions in view of possible disorders which might follow the King's death.

Although direct news from Bucharest merely stated that the King's condition had taken a serious turn for the worse, the cutting of the communications between Bucharest and Vienna and other points has caused intense anxiety in the Rumanian colony in Paris.

Late today it was reported from Vienna that the King had died, but this was taken with a considerable grain of salt in Paris. Dispatches to Vienna tonight from Bucharest were reported to show evidence of censorship.

Prince Carol remained at his home in Neuilly tonight and refused to receive callers bearing news of his father's condition. So far as could be learned he made no preparations to hurry to the King's bedside.

A French secret-service guard still is maintained outside the residence of the former Crown Prince, who has given his word of honor to the Paris Prefect of Police not to leave Neuilly without giving advance word of his intentions and destination.

The sudden stoppage last night of communications from Bucharest to neighboring countries was the first indication that the condition of King Ferdinand had become worse and the Rumanian Legation in Paris today had merely the three-day-old news that the King was suffering from an attack of grip.

It is known that Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia, daughter of King Ferdinand, took a train for Bucharest at 11 o'clock last night. It was learned also in Paris that Dr. Sluys, the Belgian radium expert, who recently gave the King radium treamtents, has gone to Bucharest.

IMPROVEMENT IN KING'S HEALTH REPORTED

BUCHAREST, April 1. (Æ)—A slight improvement in condition of King Ferdinand of Rumania was announced in an official bulletin issued tonight over the signature of Prof. Danielopol. The bulletin read: "His Majesty's condition is slightly improved. Temperature, 37.4 Centigrade, (99.32 Fahrenheit;) respiration 20; pulse 100."

KIDNAPED AMERICAN MURDERED

Body of Engineer Held for Ransom by Mexican Bandits Found in Jalisco

MEXICO CITY, April 1. (Exclusive) The body of Edgar Clark Wilkins, American electrical engineer who was kidnaped several days ago, has been found near the village of Santa Ana Actian, State of Jalisco, according to a dispatch from Guadalajara received tonight by Excelsior.

Representations were made by the United States Embassy here Tuesday in behalf of Wilkins, who was held for $15,000 ransom.

Wilkins's body, the dispatch stated, bore knife slashes. His death is attributed to the bandits who had been holding him for ransom.

The body is being brought to Guadalajara. Wilkins had lived in Mexico for many years and was well known throughout the country. He leaves his widow and a small son.

LOST EXPLORERS SILENT

No Word Received in Two Days from Capt. Wilkins and Pilot Stranded in Arctic

NEW YORK, April 1. (Exclusive)—The plans of Capt. George H. Wilkins and his pilot, Ben Eielson, for rescuing themselves from the Arctic ice 100 miles northeast of Point Barrow, still are unknown, though nearly two days have passed since a message was received from them saying that their plane had been forced down by engine trouble. The latest message from Point Barrow, received last night, stated that the explorers had not been able to get the signals of their light, short-wave set through since 6:30 p.m. Wednesday (8:30 p.m. Pacific time.) Slight weather disturbances, accompanied by static, still persist about Barrow.

Wilkins and Eielson took off at 6:03 a.m. (8:03 a.m. Pacific Time) Tuesday, to search for land in the unexplored Arctic. They carried a fifteen-hour supply of gas. Two hours out they signaled all well, after which nothing was heard from them until 4 p.m. Wednesday, thirty-six hous later, when a brief message came through, saying that they were well, but had been forced down by engine trouble, presumably on their return trip from the unexplored regions.

Two hours later the message was repeated and nothing further had been heard from them when the Barrow base last communicated with Fairbanks last night. This may mean that they have left the plane and their radio apparatus and are walking to Point Barrow over the ice, or it may mean that they are still at the plane attempting to get it in the air, but are unable to reach the short-wave set at Barrow because of the uncertain radio conditions of those latitudes and unfavorable atmospheric conditions.

The Detroit News No. 2, sister ship to the No. 1, in which the flight was made, is standing by prepared for a rescue flight, but as Capt. Wilkins's last instructions were emphatically against such a flight, unless he commanded it by wireless, Pilot Alger Graham will await such instructions before starting a search for the men.

They are known to include, however, intimations that funds have been sent into Tien-tsin and into Peking itself, either from Nationalist war chests or from Russia, for the purpose of stirring up disorders and antiforeign demonstrations as an advance wave of the Nationalist drive toward Peking. In some official quarters apprehension is felt that the most serious problems of protection of foreigners may develop at these points should the northern war lords prove no more able to control the situation than they were at Shanghai or should there be widespread defection in their ranks due to radical propaganda.

BRITAIN MAY PLAY LONE HAND IN NANKING

LONDON, April 1. (AP) — Great Britain is prepared to play a lone hand and a strong hand, if necessary, in settling the Nanking affair.

A note to the Cantonese authorities stating the British demands was approved by the Cabinet today and is to be forwarded to the Washington and Tokio governments in the hope they will agree to make the protest jointly, otherwise Great Britain will act alone.

It is understood the final draft of the note demands reparations for the victims of the Nanking outrage, or their families, punishment of the perpetrators, and apologies to the governments whose consulates were looted and whose officials were attacked.

The Cabinet also considered what action to take in the event of rejection of the British demand by the Cantonese. On this question, however, it is indicated that Great Britain's policy has not taken very definite form

UP TO NATIONALISTS

Much depends upon the wishes of the United States and Japan. Suggestions have come from both capitals which may be incorporated in the British plan of action. However, in this case, also, Great Britain will act alone if not supported by the other powers.

The fixing of responsibility for the Nanking attacks on individuals of the Cantonese troops will be left entirely to the Nationalist government on which the British place responsibility for the events at Nanking. Officials here believe that establishment of a commission of inquiry composed of foreigners would be futile, resulting only in delay in liquidating the whole affair.

Although advocating drastic and immediate action to obtain full satisfaction regarding Nanking, officials here emphasize that Great Britain's fundamental policy of conciliation for China and recognition of the legitimate aspirations of the Nationalists is unaltered. When the Nanking affair is closed, it is stated, Great Britain intends to carry out this announced policy to the fullest extent, or to whatever point the Nationalists will co-operate.

CHUNKING CONDITIONS GROWING WORSE

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Conditions at Chungking, where the American Consulate flag was destroyed yesterday by Chinese, is growing worse, Admiral Williams, the American commander in China, reported today to the Navy Department.

He said advices received by him indicated the possibility of serious disturbances shortly in Hankow, present political capital of the Cantonese Nationalist armies, whose sweep forward has been accompanied by antiforeign agitation.

The admiral reported that the second Japanese fleet, comprising three battle cruisers, five light cruisers, fourteen destroyers, five submarines and auxiliary craft has been ordered to Amoy. No explanation for the order was given in the report. A news dispatch from Amoy, where a seamen's strike is under way, said twenty-seven vessels of the second Japanese fleet have arrived there on the annual China cruise.

CONSULATE SEALED

Admiral Williams said the Japanese force, headed by the battle cruiser Kongo, will remain at Amoy at least until the 5th inst.

Admiral Williams reported that the American Consulate at Chinkiang had been closed and sealed and that the Consul and Vice-Consul have taken refuge on the river gunboat Monocacy. Previous reports had told of the closing of the Consulate at Chungking, and it was regarded as probable that dispatches had been garbled and that reference was to the Chinkiang station.

Gen. Liu Hsiang has assured American and British Consuls at Chingkiang that foreign property will be protected, Admiral Williams said, but he expressed the opinion that Liu's control of Chingkiang was "incomplete."

The American gunboat Monocacy, with the American Consul aboard, was said to be waiting until word is received from Americans in outlying districts as to whether they intend to leave or to remain there.

TWO JAPANESE FLEETS ARRIVE ON CHINA COAST

SHANGHAI, April 1. (AP)—Two strong Japanese fleets have arrived on the Chinese coast, one at Tringtao, in the north and the other at Amoy, in the south.

Questions as to the significance of this development brought the statement in Japanese quarters that the visits are merely part of the annual cruise and are not intended as a display of force in the present Chinese situation.

TOKIO, April 1. (AP)—The Japanese cruiser Yakumo has been ordered to leave Yokohuka tomorrow for Shanghai, with a landing party of 500 bluejackets.

BRITISH WOMEN FORCED FROM CANTON

CANTON (China) April 1. (AP)—British women and children are understood to have been ordered to evacuate the native city of Canton and proceed either to Shameen, the foreign quarter, or to Hongkong.

A company of British soldiers is expected here for defense of the foreign settlement.

The provincial government has issued a warning to the Cantonese not to molest the peaceful foreigners in China.

FOREIGN QUARTER IN CANTON UNDER SIEGE

PARIS, April 1. (AP)—The Anglo-French concession at Shameen, the foreign quarter of Cantop, is reported to have been strongly fortified and as in a veritable state of siege in a special dispatch from Hongkong to the Havas Agency.

Antiforeign agitation is said to be increasing throughout the whole district. Antiforeign agitators invaded the French hospital at Hongkong yesterday, but their visit was without incident.

Official advices from Canton say that a brigade of White Russians serving at Shanghai has been exterminated.

PROTECTORATE BY JAPAN IN CHINA URGED

TYRANNY OF REDS RESENTED BY WORKERS

LONDON, April 1. (AP)—Reuter's Shanghai correspondent says there are increasing signs that Chinese labor is beginning to chafe "under the tyranny of Red unions."

Union headquarters at Ningpo and Hangchow have been attacked and burned by workers whose chief complaint is that the general labor union is controlled by a small dictatorial clique whose members punish and prosecute any who dare disobey orders or disagree with their methods.

The workers also complain they are not benefited under the new (Nationalist) regime owing to prevalence of strikes and lockouts which have closed many shops. Briefly, the correspondent says, the workers in Ningpo and Hangchow feel that they were better off before.

Only meager details of the troubles in those cities have reached Shanghai, but there are indications in Shanghai that all is not well in the Kuomintung camp.

While a meeting of moderates yesterday was passing a resolution asking Chang Kai-Shek, the military commander, to eliminate the Reds from the party, another meeting comprising the Left section was demanding expulsion of conservatives and moderates, and immediate restoration of the foreign settlements to Chinese hands.

The correspondent says trouble is believed to be brewing between the two sections in Shanghai and that the Reds are expected to win.

EARLY DAYS OF WAR REVIVED

Oklahoma Congresswoman Feeds Marines on Way to China

MUSKOGEE (Okla.) April 1 (AP) — Reviving the spirit of war days, Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma's first Congresswoman, served refreshments here today to 275 Unuited States Marines who may be sent to China.

Miss Alice, as she commonly is known, with other townwomen, served coffee, sandwiches and cigarettes to the "devil dogs," who detrained for twenty minutes.

Salvation Army lasses passed doughnuts in further reminiscence of the tense days of 1917 and 1918. The Marines were en route to San Diego, where they are being concentrated.

DELINQUENT TAX BILL ADVANCED

the law, will act as a collection agency for all assessments under $25. The time for payment is extended from twenty to thirty days and permits the property owner to pay his assessment up to the time foreclosure suit is filed. Provision is included that the city each year send to the tax collector a record of all unpaid assessments, which will then be appended to the tax bill. Attorney's fees may be allowed to the defendant in case foreclosure suit is filed without proper notice. The City Treasurer may mark the assessment paid in case the possessor of the delinquent assessment makes demand for attorney's fees prior to the filing of the suit or prior to the award. The bill makes $15 the limit for attorney's fees, except at the discretion of the court, and allows the consolidation of suits. Five dollars is allowed for title search, but proof that such a search has actually been made must be included.

NIGHT SESSIONS TO HASTEN ADJOURNMENT

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP)—The sixth week of the working half of the Forty-seventh Legislature closed today with the question of adjournment three weeks from today dependent entirely upon the speed which can be reached next week. Speaker Levey of the Assembly announced that night sessions of the lower house will be held next week. Lieut.-Gov. Fitts, presiding officer of the Senate, warned members that they must get their bills out of Senate committees during the next week.

Thus plans were set for possible adjournment the 22nd inst., three weeks from today. Today both houses spent their time on uncontested measures and cleared quite a few from their calendars. The Assembly succeeded in getting out bills as fast as the committees reported new ones in today and the night sessions next week are expected to permit the lower house to catch up with the Senate.

The budget bill did not get to second reading today and it will not get through the Senate before Tuesday at the earliest.

The Senate today cleared up a question which has been a subject of a mild controversy for some fourteen years in the shape of who should represent California in the Hall of Fame, Statuary Hall, Washington, D. C. The selection for the two niches were Thomas Starr King and Fra Junipero Serra. This question is passed on to the Assembly, but indications are that complete agreement has been reached on the two candidates.

BEACH SALE BY RAILWAY AUTHORIZED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today authorized the Pacific Electric Company, operating in and around Los Angeles, to sell its Redondo Beach amusement property to T. R. Gardiner, representing the company to be known as "The Amusement Company." The purchase price is set at $1,800,000.

Negotiations for the purchase by the Redondo Land and Improvement Company of the Pacific Electric Company's Redondo Beach holdings, including nearly a mile of beach frontage and amusement concessions that yield a gross annual revenue of $275,000, were completed here late last February. Twenty-two Los Angeles business men were represented to the State Corporation Department as having contributed $200,000 to the finances of the buying company, which was organized under the laws of Nevada and incorporated for $2,500,000.

The company plans improvements, it is said, which will bring the gross yearly revenue of the amusement property to $350,000.

Latin-American Program Goes on Air Tuesday

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The radio public was extended an invitation today by the Pan-American Union to listen in next Tuesday night to a concert of Latin-American music. Miss Rosita Renard, a Chilean pianist, is making a special trip to Washington to take part in the entertainment.

The program includes selections from composers of seven Latin-American countries. A descriptive announcement will start at 8 p.m., while the concert will begin fifteen minutes later.

It will be broadcast from the Hall of the Americas over Station NAA on a wave length of 435 meters.

NEW BREAK HITS CHANG

Cantonese Split Reported

Dismissal of Nationalist Chief Indicated and Struggle Impends as Result

Chinese Laborers Declared Turning Wrath Against Red Union Rule

SHANGHAI, April 1. (AP) — War-torn China, already divided by a great civil conflict between the north and south, tonight appeared threatened with further dissension arising within the Cantonese camp between the Nationalist commander-in-chief, Gen. Chang Kai-Shek, and the Hankow government.

Reports from usually trustworthy sources today indicated that Gen. Chang has been dismissed as generalissimo of the Nationalist forces by the Hankow government.

There was every indication, it was stated, that Geu. Chang, whose military victories have placed the entire Yangtse Valley under Nationalist control, is concentrating his strength in the Shanghai district to defy the reported dismissal.

Whatever the outcome of the political struggle believed to be in progress between the military, which is the more moderate, wing of the Cantonese regime, and the civil government at Hankow, the foreign powers in China today continued their operations to protect their Nationals from antiforeign activities.

WARSHIP PATROL

Within a short time United States warships will be on duty along the Chinese coast, from Canton in the south to Tien-tsin in the north, guarding American citizens. The destroyer Pillsbury, is on its way to Tsingtao. Shantung Province, and the cruiser Asheville has been ordered to Tien-tsin, used in the Boxer uprising of 1900 as a base for the foreign expeditionary force.

Although there have been no antiforeign incidents in the north comparable to those which took place at Nanking and other Nationalist-controlled cities, there is anxiety here over a pronounced weakening in the authority of the Ankuochun, or northern, war lords. It is feared that the collapse of the northern militarists wight result in anarchical conditions which would imperil foreigners.

NEW DISORDERS LOOM

The ignominious defeat of Gen. Chang-Tsung-Chang at Shanghai and Nanking by the Nationalists greatly diminshed his prestige in the Province of Shautung, and consequently has increased the possibility of disorders there

A majority of foreign women and children have been evacuated from Ningpo in Chekiang Province, south of Shanghai, while virtually all foreigners have left Changsa, in Hunan, and Wuhu and Chungking on the Yangtse.

Two strong Japanese fleets have appeared on the Chinese coast, but it was explained the visits were merely part of the annual cruise and were not intended as a display of force in the Chinese situation.

JAPANESE VESSELS

One fleet consisting of thirty-one vessels, including four battleships, arrived at Tsingtao in the north. The other, consisting of twenty-seven vessels, including three battle cruisers, arrived at Amoy in the south.

Reports from Japanese sources in Peking said that the Japanese Minister there, acting on instructions from his home government, has called on the British Minister and has suggested the formation of a joint commission made up of representatives of the powers concerned and competent Chinese authorities, to investigate the Nanking affair of last week. This commission would take steps to have punished those responsible for the disorders and to demand from the Nationalist government an apology, indemnity and guaranties for the future in accordance with its findings.

Young Vetoes Two and Signs Two Measures

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP)—Gov. Young today vetoed one Assembly and one Senate bill and gave his approval to two other measures that originated in the upper house. The bills vetoed were returned to the Legislature at the request of their authors so that they could correct defects and follow:

Senate Bill No. 221, Boggs, exempting co-operative and mutual corporations from the cumulative voting of stock where such voting is prohibited by the by-laws.

Assembly Bill No. 251, Wemple, providing increases in salaries of the deputy sheriff and county librarian in Plumas county.

The bills signed were:

Senate Bill No. 65, Breed, amending the Municipal Utility District Act provisions relating to the estimating of cost and offering of utilities for sale.

LAND-BOARD MEASURE PASSES ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP)—A bill to abolish the Land Settlement Board and place the administration of the two land settlements at Delhi and Durham, under a board composed of the Director of Agriculture, the State Engineer and the Director of Finance, today passed the Assembly. Assemblyman Deuel, introducer of the bill, declared this to be part of the departmental reorganization scheme of Gov. Young and that supervision of the land settlements should be placed under the State Agricultural Department.

IZETTA J. BROWN TO WED

MORGANTOWN (W. Va.) April 1. (AP)—Prof. Hugh Miller of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., must be a handsome man. Handsome Izetta Jewel Brown is to marry him. When she seconded the nomination of John W. Davis at Madison Square Garden one of her telling arguments was his good looks.

BILL WOULD GIVE MAN ALIMONY

Measure Providing Support by Wife Sent to Senate by Assembly

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP) The Senate today received from the Assembly a proposed change in the divorce laws to permit a husband to sue a wife for permanent support of himself and children and to obtain alimony. The measure, introduced by Assemblyman George W. Rochester of Los Angeles was passed by the lower House last night.

It would provide that the court may require either the husband or the wife, as the case may be, to give reasonable security for making payments of alimony or providing maintenance.

BILL PLANS INQUIRY ON PRISON NEED

Senate Passes Resolution Favoring Investigation of Requirements in South

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP)—Investigation of advisability of establishing a new State prison in Southern California would be conducted by a joint legislative committee under a Senate concurrent resolution passed through the Senate to the Assembly today.

Senator Joseph L. Pedrotti of Los Angeles, author of the resolution, explained that the present two State prisons, at San Quentin and Folsom, are insufficient in size to properly care for the annual increase of inmates.

"The transportation of prisoners sentenced from southern counties of the State is expensive and imposing a burden on the taxpayers of the State," Senator Pedrotti explained. The committee will comprise three Assemblymen and two Senators and report back to the next session of the Legislature.

OFFICIALS MEET TAX-LOSS PERIL

them to include $1,000,000 in foreign corporation license taxes; $1,700,000 in similar taxes paid by domestic concerns, $3,000,000 in taxes on national banks and $5,700,000 in taxes from State banks.

LOSS ALREADY RESULTS

The loss of the foreign corporation license fees already has resulted from the State Supreme Court decision and the national bank taxes, they pointed out, will follow if the United States court ruling is found to be applicable in this State.

The domestic corporation license fees and the $5,700,000 biennial receipts from the State banks, they said, might follow under a court interpretation of a constitutional section which provides that no foreign corporation shall do business in California under conditions more favorable to them than to domestic concerns.

An added necessity for close scrutiny of the entire tax situation advanced by the financial officers at the time it was disclosed that such a study was in progress, is the $6,000,000 loss of inheritance taxes they say will result from passage of Senator Chamberlin's bill now before a Senate committee.

OTHER LARGE SUMS

In addition to these large sums, the State's officers point to $3,000,000 in national bank taxes paid under protest, $1,000,000 in special appropriations already reported to the Legislature by the Ways and Means Committee for consideration, the $120,000 in deficiency appropriations necessary to meet the shortage in departmental expenses during the last year, all of which would cut into the treasury balance. Also there are some $10,000,000 in special appropriation requests contained in bills in committee other than the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly.

The only money officials say that might come to the State within the two years to make up for any sums lost through legislation or court decisions is some $5,000,000. Judge Shields of Sacramento has held the electric railroads must pay to make up the difference between the 5 1-4 and 7 per cent tax rates of the King tax bill. The electric lines now pay 5 1-4 per cent and Judge Shields has ruled they must pay the 7 per cent tax on their gross receipts the same as the steam lines are assessed.

BALKED BY APPEAL

State Controller Riley, however, does not anticipate any possibility of collecting any part of this sum in the immediate future because of the time necessary to prosecute an appeal.

The statement given out at the Governor's office following the conference follows:

"Recent decisions of the State Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court threaten seriously to disturb the State's present tax system. Fortunately these decisions come at a time when the Legislature may take steps to prevent disorganization of our tax laws, and avoid any considerable loss of revenues to the State.

"The decision by our State Supreme Court has the effect of relieving foreign corporations of paying the license tax heretofore imposed on them. The decisions of the United States Supreme Court in cases involving laws of other States similar to ours, appear to have the effect of relieving national banks from the payment of taxes to which State banks are now subject. The discrimination thus imposed against domestic corporations and State banks can be avoided and the income of the State preserved through appropriate legislation, and recommendations to that end will be presented early next week."

PRICELESS PAINTINGS SAVED FROM FLAMES

QUEBEC, April 1. (AP)—Led by the parish priest, Rev. Horace Gagnon, several persons today saved the most sacred vessels and priceless paintings from the burning Roman Catholic Church at Port Neuf, thirty-five miles above Quebec. The interior of the edifice was wrecked with damage estimated at $100,000.

FORD RESTS AT HOME

Injury Conceded Accidental

Investigation of Possible Murder Attempt All But Abandoned

Sprained Back Nursed as Manufacturer Chafes Under Restraint

DETROIT, April 1. (AP)—Amid the quiet, peaceful surroundings of his home Henry Ford tonight impatiently obeyed the instructions of his personal physician that he remain flat on his back in bed, as the quickest and surest means of recovering from injuries received last Sunday night when the little coupe in which he was riding alone was forced from the road.

Meanwhile, the statements and rumors describing the accident as a result of a deliberate attempt to kill Mr. Ford dwindled to an expression of belief that it actually was an accident, possibly unknown to the driver who caused it. The possibility of further official investigation virtually had vanished.

REMOVAL TO HOME

Never having known the restraint of a hospital, the world's richest man chafed under that imposed upon him even in his own institution, the Henry Ford Hospital, and demanded that he be returned to his home for the period of complete rest and recuperation directed.

That the doctors permitted the injured man's wish to prevail was accepted as an indication that the X-ray and other examinations made at the hospital had disclosed nothing seriously wrong, despite the concussion and slight internal hemorrhages spoken of in the first announcement of the accident as having appeared and been overcome.

The two sources close to the 64-year-old manufacturer who last Wednesday night expressed the belief that an attempt to kill him had been made still had not recanted tonight, but Harry H. Bennett, head of the large force of Ford investigators, said that neither his principal nor he regarded the crash as anything but an unavoidable accident which was headed toward the realm of unsolved mysteries.

AUTOMOBILE FOUND

Bennett admitted that he at first entertained the theory of an attempted assassination, but stated that investigation by his men and the report of the Dearborn Police Department convinced him of the accidental nature of the side-swipe which sent Mr. Ford over a six-inch curbing and down an embankment at the foot of which his little coupe, fabricated in his own vast factories, struck a tree.

The Ford investigators had found the automobile at first mentioned as that in which would-be assassins rode, and had learned that it had not been in the vicinity of the crash last Sunday night, Bennett said.

Only one medical bulletin was issued today. It read:

"This is the fifth day after the accident. Last night Mr. Ford was removed in an ambulance from the hospital to his residence. The sprained back still is most painful.

"R. D. McClure, M.D., surgeon-in-chief."

Robert M. Toms, Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne county, tonight requested investigators of the Ford Motor Company, to lay before him the results of their investigation of the accident.

OIL HUNT CONTINUES

Senator Told Investigation Will Go on Despite Lack of Funds

WASHINGTON, April 1. (Exclusive) Shale-oil investigations in Colorado will be continued by the government despite the failure of Congress to provide funds for the experimental plant at Rulison, Colo., Senator Waterman, Republican, Colorado, was informed today by the Bureau of Mines.

The present plant was scheduled to close down July 1 because of failure of the second deficiency appropriation bill, carrying an item of $30,000 for it. Senator Waterman, however, prevailed upon Secretary Hoover and Director Turner of the Bureau of Mines to continue the work on a co-operative basis between the State and the government.

TALE OF SAPIRO FEES TOL

Reed Brings Out Data on Large Revenues M Rapidly in Co-operative Counsel Field

DETROIT, April 1. (AP)—An amazingly lucrative field of endeavo held up to view at the $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford to Senator James A. Reed revealed the activities of Aaron Sapiro, organiz farmers' co-operative associations. A story of fees from organizations parts of the United States was unfolded so rapidly that it sounded like a fable than testimony in a Federal court.

Almost $20,000 was collected by the ation as a result of Sapiro's e Chicago attorney for obtaining loans ties, and fees paid Sapiro, wer for associations he had helped form. ed by the witness as follows: C He represented thirteen co-oper- nia Prune and Apricot C atives before the War Finance Cor- $2000; Washington and Idaho poration at Washington, in the fall $3000; Texas Farm Bureau Cotto of 1921, and collected fees from ten. sociation, $3500; Oklahoma C

What fees did you get?"

REBUKED BY JUDGE

Sapiro answered readily and rapidly, too rapidly for the Senator, who was taking notes as well as conducting the questioning.

Reed and Sapiro continued the wrangling that characterized the two previous days of testimony and finally drew a rebuke from Judge Fred L. Raymond.

"It is natural that the proceeding should be more argumentative than usual," said he, "because both the witness and questioner are lawyers. But it is not good form and does not make for speed. I must ask both of you to hold more closely to question and answer."

Earlier in the day the Senator appealed to the judge because he said Sapiro was splitting hairs on questions the defense attorney asked, and throwing in comment which had no place in the record. Sapiro had objected to a question that made it appear he had made speeches for a solid year in Texas in the interest of the cotton association. The judge upheld him.

Sapiro's attitude clearly was one of confidence in the soundness of his co-operative plans and the justness of fees charged for organizing and counseling the associations. He answered questions to which William Henry Gallagher, his attorney, attempted to object, getting them out before his counsel could get to his feet.

REED DRAWS FIRE

The defense attorney drew fire when he touched on Sapiro's first address to cotton growers at Montgomery, Ala., in 1920.

"It is true, is it not, that when you arrived at Montgomery, you found your name was not on the program and complained to the chairman of the meeting?"

"It is absolutely not true," flared Sapiro.

"Well, you turned in a bill for $250 expenses, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"And you had some discussion about it?"

"None at all, they just did not pay it," said Sapiro.

The meeting was before representative cotton growers of the South and was the first step in formation of co-operatives.

Part of Sapiro's duties as counsel for co-operative associations, he testified, was to prosecute growers who violated their contracts. Reed asked Sapiro if his firm had been connected with an Arkansas Supreme Court case in which a grower by the name of Brown had been sued for not sticking to his contract. Sapiro said it had, the Supreme Court having reversed a lower-court decision upholding Brown. Reed prevented him from giving the substance of the ruling.

UNION CHIEFS TERM NEW SCALE RIDICULOUS

PITTSBURGH, April 1, (AP)—Announced determination of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation to operate its mines nonunion, thus severing an extended relationship with the United Mine Workers, overshadowed all other developments today in the bituminous coal suspension resulting from the failure of the operators and union to reach a wage agreement.

Union leaders termed the corporation's new wage scale—a reduction from that provided in the Jacksonville agreement—ridiculous and expressed the belief that the 3100 union miners employed by the company would stand firm with the union in the determination to accept no cut.

While more than 40,000 union miners of the Pittsburgh district suspended work today the situation in other fields, including the nonunion region of West Virginia, was confused by the fact that the expiration of the union agreement and the "eight-hour-day" celebration came simultaneously, and it was not known just how many miners had left the workings to take a holiday. Both operators and union leaders agreed that definite figures would be unavailable until next week.

Many miners' mass meetings were conducted by union leaders throughout the Western Pennsylvania region, and in each instance the union officers urged the men to be peaceful and lawful. Picketing was reported from the nonunion mining sections, especially at workings of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, where officials of the concern asserted more than 4000 open-shop miners worked during the day.

The suspension was marked by a single arrest in the Pittsburgh region. After dynamite was exploded in an open field at Wyano, a nonunion mining village in Westmoreland county, a miner was arrested and held for investigation. The Sheriff was asked to send in six deputies to guard the town.

In the nonunion coke region of Fayette county several additional squads of State troopers were sent in to patrol the district, and the Sheriff issued an order against unlawful assemblages.

COOLIDGE PLANS TO KEEP "HANDS OFF"

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—In view of information now before him, President Coolidge expects to refrain from taking any action with reference to cessation of mining in a portion of the unionized bituminous area.

It was said at the White House that the President understands that though the union and operators in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and parts of Pennsylvania have failed to reach an agreement upon wages, a large production from coal fields in other parts of the country will continue.

FRENCH COAL ROW SETTLEMENT FORCED

PARIS, April 1. (Exclusive)—Playing a strong hand for the government against both the owners and miners, Minister Andre Tardieu forced a settlement of the coal row that loomed in France. The miners agreed to accept a reduction of 2 francs 50 centimes (about 8 cents) a day while the owners reluctantly agreed to a reduction of from 15 to 18 per cent on the price of coal, which is proportionately greater than the cut in salaries.

"Thus, while other countries are torn with the strife in their coal industries, France is calm and the production which in 1922 was 30,000,000 tons, in 1926 was more than 52,000,000 tons," said M. Tardieu.

In the stiff campaign to lower the cost of living, despite the cries of the producers the city of Paris opened a chain of five butcher shops which will indicate the price at which meat can be sold and a good profit made. This plan is expected to save housewives of Paris 1,900,000 francs (about $46,920) a day.

...UNION RULE MENACE TO ORCHESTRA

Chicago Symphony Forced to Dismiss Players Due to Technical Question

CHICAGO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Due to a dispute with the Federation of Musicians, the famous Chicago Symphony Orchestra may be forced to disband. Under the union rules the orchestra management has been required to dismiss all players, but it is hoped to re-engage most of them next season.

The minimum salary of the players is $80 a week, which is $10 a week higher than salaries paid in New York and Philadelphia. This rate was fixed by the orchestra association and the musicians' union. The union has a fast rule that the association must give four weeks' notice to any player it does not intend to re-engage for the next year. There also is a stipulation that the association must settle any matters with the union before taking them up with the individual players.

Three weeks ago the association notified the union that it was ready to negotiate for next year, but the union put the matter off until the limit was reached where, unless the players were notified they would not be wanted they would automatically be re-engaged for another season. Consequently the association was forced to dismiss all the players. The association had a deficit of $15,000 last year. The players did not ask for increased salaries, in view of the fact that they were getting all the receipts, but the union demands more money, despite the deficit.

Serious Quake Experienced in Western Japan

LONDON, April 1. (AP)—An Exchange telegraph dispatch from Tokio says a heavy earthquake was reported at 6 a.m. today throughout Western Japan.

The districts which suffered in the disaster early last month are panic-stricken, the dispatch adds. From reports thus far received there appears to have been no casualties.

NAVAL RESERVISTS' CRUISERS NAMED

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—It was announced here today that naval reservists on the Pacific Coast will make training cruises this summer on the destroyers Robert E. Smith, Sumner, Reno and Meyer, at present assigned to the battle fleet auxiliary service. The cruises will begin in July and continue through August and September. The destroyer Hazelwood, regularly assigned to reservist training on the Pacific Coast, also will be given a place in the training fleet.

WASHINGTON REPORTS SHARP EARTH SHOCKS

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Sharp earth shocks were recorded today by the seismograph at Georgetown University, beginning at 2:22 p.m. and continuing more than two and one-half hours. They reached a maximum at 2:55 o'clock, and the center of disturbance was estimated by Director Tondorf at 4900 miles from Washington.

RAINS DELAY FESTIVAL

SAN JOSE, April 1. (AP)—Because of heavy rains that have fallen during the past few hours the executive board of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce today announced postponement until the 9th inst. of the annual Saratoga Blossom Festival.

FLIRTING DUCK PAYS PENALTY

Death Follows Attempt of Drake to Win Mated Bird in Zoo

CHICAGO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Wood ducks, it has been discovered, have strict laws governing their domestic relations and the sanctity of the mating vow. In Lincoln Park Zoo, springtime found thirteen wood ducks. Seven were males and six females. When they mated up Oscar, a gay sort of duck, was left without a partner. He had witnessed all the billing and cooing but, presumably, his own efforts in this line had not been taken seriously by the lady ducks.

After the others had been mated for the season, Oscar began flirting with the mated lady ducks, who repulsed his overtures and presumably informed their mates. At any rate, the "married" male ducks set upon the flirtatious Oscar.

It was six against one. Oscar will be buried quietly to avoid any scandal in zoo society circles.

RANGERS GO TO CURB OUTLAWS

Officers in Chase of Bank Bandits Slain on Road

Three Suspects Held for Killing and Robbery

BORGER (Tex.) April 1. (AP)—Citizens of Borger hailed with relief tonight word from Austin that ten Texas rangers were en route here to stamp out the lawless element which has thrived on the mushroom growth of this boom oil town. The killing of two deputy sheriffs early today on a road near here was the final stroke that aroused the better element of the citizenry to appeal to Gov. Moody for the aid of State forces.

In the one year's history of Borger four peace officers have been slain, a record comparable to the lurid days of Dodge City, Kan., before the arrival of "Wild Bill" Hickock, who tamed the trouble-makers with his blazing guns.

There have been numerous slayings in dance halls and dives, and a woman was shot to death in a hold-up of a filling station. Vice in all its forms has flourished, with the riff-raff of the country attracted here by the lure of easy money and safety from the law in other parts.

GROWS UP OVERNIGHT

Borger, situated in the Panhandle of Texas, owes its existence to the oil field brought in here. On the wind-swept plains a town of 15,000 has grown up almost overnight.

While martial law was requested of Gov. Moody, his dispatch of ten rangers with orders to stay until the "lawless unconditionally surrender" was considered sufficient to cope with the situation.

Three men were held tonight under heavy guard at the County Jail at Stinnett as the aftermath of the robbery of a bank at Pampa yesterday and the killing of the two officers this morning, which spread terror through the oil fields.

Hugh Walker and Ed Bailey were arrested early today in connection with the slaying of the officers, Pat Kenyon and A. E. Terry. Hutchinson county deputy sheriffs, whose lifeless bodies were found near the oil town of Whittenburg. Just before noon "Whitey" Walker, brother of Hugh, identified as one of the Pampa bank robbers, was arrested here and is also held in connection with the murder of the two officers.

KILLED IN CHASE

Roaring guns, believed to have been held in the hands of Ray Terrell and Matthew Kimes, notorious Oklahoma outlaws and identified as two of the five unmasked men who Thursday afternoon robbed the First National Bank of Pampa of $35,000, claimed the lives of Kenyon and Terry.

The position of the two bodies indicated the officers had made a desperate attempt to capture the bandits. They apparently were shot down in cold blood. Their pistols were found unfired.

Henry Field, driving a wedding party, found the automobile in the road and the bodies on the ground.

A chain of circumstances led officers to believe beyond any doubt that the bandits who looted the Pampa institution sent the two officers to their doom.

The elusive bandit leader laid his plans well as they drove out of Pampa after looting the bank. Speeding acros sthe rough terrain of Hutchinson county the robbers headed for the Archer farm house, midway betwene Pampa and Borger and drove into the Archer garage, where they locked up the car.

MENACE FARMER AND WIFE

Then, with drawn pistols, they approached the house and demanded entrance.

All through the afternoon the robber gang stood guard over W. E. Archer and his sister.

At dusk the bandit leader ordered the farmer and his sister into a closet, locked them in and then they proceeded on their journey.

The identification of Terrell and Kimes as members of the Pampa robber gang was made certain early today. Officials of the bank, after viewing pictures of the two men, positively identified them.

"Whitey" Walker, a member of the notorious "Cotton Top" Walker gang of the Oklahoma Cherokee Hills, has been identified as another member of the gang, officers said.

RANGERS LEAVE FOR LAWLESS ZONE

AUSTIN (Tex.) April 1. (AP)—Ten Texas rangers were ordered to Borger, Panhandle oilboom town by Gov. Dan Moody today to stay "until the lawless unconditionally surrender."

The rangers were sent in answer to a request for martial law which Gov. Moody said he does not think is justified at present.

Senator Smith, Early Sponsor of Wilson, Dies

NEWARK (N. J.) April 1. (AP)—Former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., died at his home here tonight. He was 76 years of age.

Senator Smith is the man who introduced Woodrow Wilson into politics through his nomination of Mr. Wilson for Governor of New Jersey in 1910.

Not only did the Senator induce Mr. Wilson to run for office, but he exercised his influence in the Democratic convention to make Mr. Wilson head of the State ticket.

Before entering politics Senator Smith, who was born in Newark in 1851, was a prosperous business man. His first public office was that of a member of the Newark City Council in 1883.

In later years, owing to political differences, Smith became extremely bitter toward Wilson and lost no opportunity to attack him through his newspapers, the Morning Star and the Evening Star of Newark. His waning political influence was flung against Wilson at every point.

GIRL BANDIT WILL BE FREED TOMORROW

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) April 1. (AP) Marian Meyers, 19 years of age, sentenced to thirty days in the State penitentiary here for attempting to rob a bank at Vermillion to get money for her university tuition, has been such a model prisoner that she has earned five days off for good behavior and will be released Sunday.

ITALIAN TO HOP OFF FOR WEST TODAY

De Pinedo Scheduled to Reach Pacific Coast With Plane Next Week

NEW ORLEANS, April 1. (AP)—Commander Francesco De Pinedo will hop off from here between 6 and 7 o'clock tomorrow morning for Galveston, Tex., he announced this afternoon.

From Galveston he will fly to San Antonio, spending the night there. He will fly Sunday to Elephant Butte Dam in New Mexico and then to San Diego, Cal.

ITALIAN COLONY TO HONOR DE PINEDO

When Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian aviator, lands his plane in Los Angeles within the next few days he will be greeted by the Italian Consul, Count B. Gradenigo, and a large following of his countrymen. It is the hope among the members of the local colony that all Italians will turn out in full force to give the flyer a rousing welcome. A large medallion, designed and made by Arturo Decaro, will be presented to De Pinedo by Count Gradenigo in behalf of the Italian colony of the city, which numbers more than 35,000 sons and daughters of Italy.

DE PINEDO MEDAL.

According to the last word of De Pinedo's plans, he left New Orleans yesterday for San Antonio, and will fly directly from there to San Diego and then to Los Angeles.

ALBANIAN REBELLION HELD NEAR

Correspondent Reports Six Classes of Troops Ordered Mobilized

ATHENS, April 1. (AP)—A special correspondent in Albania for the Eleutheron Bema telegraphs that, in his belief, an insurrection against the regime of President Ahmed Zogu will begin within ten days.

The movement, he says, is headed by Tseno Bey, cousin of Ahmed Zogu and Albanian Minister to Jugo-Slavia. Tseno was appointed to the diplomatic post as an exile, the correspondent adds, but his immediate dismissal has been demanded by Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Two Italian warships lie before Durazzo, the dispatch continues. Ahmed Zogu has mobilized six classes of troops to cope with the threatened insurrection, and camions with ammunition leave nightly for the Albanian-Jugo-Slavia frontier.

Diplomatic circles in Athens regard the situation as serious.

Human Machine Should Average Seventy Years

SEATTLE, April 1. (AP)—Human beings may look forward to an average life of seventy years, in the opinion of Dr. John James Rickard MacLeod of Toronto, who was awarded the Nobel Prize for medicine in 1922 for his discovery of insulin to combat diabetes. Dr. MacLeod was a Seattle visitor today on his way to the University of Toronto, where he is professor of physiology.

"I don't think that the average length of life ever will be 100 years," he said. "The human machine wears out just like a mechanical engine. By combating disease we have lengthened the average life some three decades and the day is coming when every man and woman can confidently look forward to living seventy years."

Mexican Rebels Fire Rail Bridge and Rob Station

MEXICO CITY, April 1. (Exclusive) Dispatches from San Luis Potosi state that a passenger train from Laredo arrived six hours late last night, having been detained in the town of Comonfort because rebels had destroyed telegraphic communications.

The train was not attacked. The rebels took money and valuables valued at 2000 pesos from the railroad station and stationmaster. They are being pursued by a Federal detachment.

BAY CITY WILL GET AVIATION CONFERENCE

MERCED, April 1. (AP)—The second annual aeronautics conference will be held in San Francisco May 6 and literally in the air May 7 and 8, when fifty airplanes will carry mayor and chamber of commerce presidents to the principal cities of the State in the interests of promoting commercial aeronautics. Plans were announced today by E. G. Hughson chairman of the aeronautics committee of the San Joaquin Valley advisory council of the California Development Association, at a meeting of the council here.

SUIT AGAINST HARVEY GRANDSON DROPPED

REDWOOD CITY, April 1. (AP)—Attorneys for Miss Dorothea Margaret Wilson of Glendale, graduate student of Stanford University, today filed notice in Superior Court here that her $28,600 suit against Byron S. Harvey, Jr., grandson of Fred Harvey, railroad restaurateur, had been withdrawn. Miss Wilson sued Harvey, also a student at Stanford, asserting she had been injured in an automobile accident last July. The court granted Miss Wilson's plea for dismissal of the case on her attorneys' statement that a satisfactory settlement had been made out of court. Court attaches said the settlement was for $5250.

Angelenos See New Wonders in Copper Mine Area

Last Day Called Rival of Grand Canyon Trip

PHOENIX, April 1. (Exclusive)—The trade excursion of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce today paid a scenic farewell to Arizona, along the marvels of the Superior and Apache trail highways, having been taken in motor cars over perfect roads through a region where were only Indian footpaths a few years ago. After an evening spent in the border city of Nogales, the tourists this morning found themselves in the mining camp of Superior, sixty-seven miles east of Phoenix, their special train of Pullmans the first ever to use the rail spur to that point.

There was a brief visit to the smelter of the Magma Copper Company, and then a twenty-seven-mile journey to Globe, stopping in Miami, greatest of Arizona copper producers. There they saw the immense concentrating mills of the Miami and Inspiration companies and the International smelter as well as the novel Inspiration leaching pits where ore that carries less than twenty pounds of copper to the ton is treated with profit.

Ample justice was done to luncheon in Globe, with the Globe Commercial Organization as host, and with notably pleasant exchange of expressions of good will. It was shown that the Globe-Miami district is one of the largest consumers of Pacific-Coast products, with return of copper, asbestos and cattle.

Then was started the 115-mile trip to Phoenix by way of Roosevelt and the Apache Trail. On the way were passed the Old Domithion and other mines, cliff dwellings that could not be visited for lack of time, and the Roosevelt Lake, with its 1,000,000 square feet storage of water for Salt River Valley. Then the way led through the Superstition Mountains, rich in tales of Indian warfare. Before dark the cars had cleared the mountains and were in the green Salt River Valley, reaching Phoenix at 7 o'clock for supper. The train had been brought here. Departure was at 8 with a schedule so that the Arcade depot will be reached tomorrow morning at 9:30.

"It has been a great trip," warmly declared President McGarry of the Chamber of Commerce. "Everywhere we were met with western hospitality of the finest sort. There was appreciation of the spirit of our mission and total lack of discord on any subject. Though this was not the primary object of the trip, I hear reports from members that they have found the journey of value in meeting business men who for years have been valued patrons and in forming new connections in a field that is growin daily in trade importance. The first day out was spent at the Grand Canyon but even that scenic wonder found competition in the last day's excursion, through the Central Arizona mountains."

"Times" Daily Short Story

FROM the CABBY'S SEAT

By O. HENRY

ONE night there were sounds of revelry in the big brick tenement-house next door but one to McGary's Family Cafe. The sounds seemed to emanate from the apartments of the Walsh family. The sidewalk was obstructed by an assortment of interested neighbors, who opened a lane from time to time for a hurrying messenger bearing from McGary's goods pertinent to festivity and diversion. The sidewalk contingent was engaged in comment and discussion from which it made no effort to eliminate the news that Norah Walsh was being married.

In the fulness of time there was an eruption of the merry-makers to the sidewalk. The uninvited guests enveloped and permeated them, and upon the night air rose joyous cries, congratulations, laughter and unclassified noises born of McGary's oblations to the hymeneal scene.

Close to the curb stood Jerry O'Donovan's cab. Night-hawk was Jerry called; but no more lustrous or cleaner hansom than his ever closed its doors upon point lace and November violets. And Jerry's horse! I am within bounds when I tell you that he was stuffed with oats until one of those old ladies who leave their dishes unwashed at home and go about having expressmen arrested, would have smiled—yes, smiled—to have seen him.

Among the shifting, sonorous, pulsing crowd glimpses could be had of Jerry's high hat, battered by the winds and rains of many years; of his nose like a carrot, battered by the frolicsome, athletic progeny of millionares and by contumacious fares; of his brass-buttoned green coat, admired in the vicinity of McGary's. It was plain that Jerry had usurped the functions of his cab, and was carrying a "load." Indeed, the figure may be extended and he be likened to a bread-wagon if we admit the testimony of a youthful spectator, who was heard to remark "Jerry has got a bun."

From somewhere among the throng in the street or else out of the thin stream of pedestrians a young woman tripped and stood by the cab. The professional hawk's eye of Jerry caught the movement. He made a lurch for the cab, overturning three or four onlookers and himself—no! he caught the cap of a waterplug and kept his feet. Like a sailor shinning up the ratlins during a squall Jerry mounted to his professional seat. Once he was there McGary's liquids were baffled. He seesawed on the mizzenmast of his craft as safe as a Steeple Jack rigged to the flagpole of a skyscraper.

"Step in, lady," said Jerry, gathering his lines.

The young woman stepped into the cab; the doors shut with a bang; Jerry's whip cracked in the air; the crowd in the gutter scattered, and the fine hansom dashed away 'cross-town.

When the oat-spry horse had hedged a little his first spurt of speed Jerry broke the lid of his cab and called down through the aperture in the voice of a cracked megaphone, trying to please:

"Where, now, will ye be drivin' to?"

"Anywhere you please," came up the answer, musical and contented.

"'Tis drivin' for pleasure she is," thought Jerry. And then he suggested as a matter of course:

"Take a thrip around the park, lady. 'Twill be ilegant cool and fine."

"Just as you like," answered the fare, pleasantly.

The cab headed for Fifth avenue and sped up that perfect street. Jerry bounced and swayed in his seat. The potent fluids of McGary were disquieted and they sent new fumes to his head. He sang an ancient song of Killimook and brandished his whip like a baton.

Inside the cab the fare sat up straight on the cushions, looking to right and left at the lights and houses. Even in the shadowed hansom her eyes shone like stars at twilight.

When they reached Fifty-ninth street Jerry's head was bobbing and his reins were slack. But his horse turned in through the park gate and began the old familiar nocturnal round. And then the fare leaned back, entranced, and breathed deep the clean, wholesome odors of grass and leaf and bloom. And the wise beast in the shafts, knowing his ground, struck into his by-the-hour gait and kept to the right of the road.

Habit also struggled successfully against Jerry's increasing torpor. He raised the hatch of his storm-tossed vessel and made the inquiry that cabbies do make in the park.

"Like shtop at the Cas-sino, lady? Gezzer r'freshm's, 'n lish'n the music. Ev'body shtops."

"I think that would be nice," said the fare.

They reined up with a plunge at the Casino entrance. The cab doors flew open. The fare stepped directly upon the floor. At once she was caught in a web of ravishing music and dazzled by a panorama of lights and colors. Some one slipped a little square card into her hand on which was printed a number—34. She looked around and saw her cab twenty yards away already lining up in its place among the waiting mass of carriages, cabs and motor cars. And then a man who seemed to be all shirt-front danced backward before her; and next she was seated at a little table by a railing over which climbed a jessamine vine.

There seemed to be a wordless invitation to purchase; she consulted a collection of small coins in a thin purse, and received from them license to order a glass of beer. There she sat, inhaling and absorbing it all—the new-colored, new-shaped life in a fairy palace in an enchanted wood.

At fifty tables sat princes and queens clad in all the silks and gems of the world. And now and then one of them would look curiously at Jerry's fare. They saw a plain figure dressed in a pink silk of the kind that is tempered by the word "foulard," and a plain face that wore a look of love of life that the queens envied.

Twice the long hands of the clocks went round. Royalties thinned from their al fresco thrones, and bussed or clattered away in their vehicles of state. The music retired into cases of wood and bags of leather and baize. Waiters removed cloths pointedly near the plain figure sitting almost alone.

Jerry's fare rose, and held out her numbered card simply:

"Is there anything coming on the ticket?" she asked.

A waiter told her it was her cab check, and that she should give it to the man at the entrance. This man took it, and called the number. Only three hansoms stood in line. The driver of one of them went and routed out Jerry asleep in his cab. He swore deeply, climbed to the captain's bridge and steered his craft to the pier. His fare entered, and the cab whirled into the cool fastnesses of the park along the shortest homeward cuts.

At the gate a glimmer of reason in the form of sudden suspicion seized upon Jerry's beclouded mind. One or two things occurred to him. He stopped his horse, raised the trap and dropped his phonographic voice like a lead plummet, through the aperture:

"I want to see four dollars before goin' any further on th' trip. Have ye got th' dough?"

"Four dollars!" laughed the fare, softly, "dear me, no. I've only got a few pennies and a dime or two."

Jerry shut down the trap and slashed his oat-fed horse. The clatter of hoofs strangled but could not drown the sound of his profanity. He shouted choking and gurgling curses at the starry heavens; he cut viciously with his whip at passing vehicles; he scattered fierce and ever-changing oaths and imprecations along the streets, so that a late truck driver, crawling homeward, heard and was abashed. But he knew his recourse, and made for it at a gallop.

At the house with the green lights beside the steps he pulled up. He flung wide the cab doors and tumbled heavily to the ground.

"Come on, you," he said, roughly.

His fare came forth with the Casino dreamy smile still on her plain face. Jerry took her by the arm and led her into the police station. A gray-mustached sergeant looked keenly across the desk. He and the cabby were no strangers.

"Sargeant," began Jerry in his old raucous, martyred, thunderous tones of complaint. "I've got a fare here that—"

Jerry paused. He drew a knotted red hand across his brow. The fog set up by McGary was beginning to clear away.

"A fare, sargeant," he continued, with a grin, "that I want to introduce to ye. It's me wife that I married at ould man Walsh's this evening. And a divil of a time we had, 'tis thrue. Shake hands wid th' sargent, Norah, and we'll be off to home."

Before stepping into the cab Norah sighed profoundly.

"I've had such a nice time, Jerry," said she.

"Like shtop at the Cas-sino, lady?. Gezzer r'freshm's, 'n lish'n the music.. Ev'body shtops."

Amendment Foe Says League Paid House-Quiz Bills

Hudson and Wheeler Brand Statement False

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Denials and counter-charges were exchanged here today in the latest prohibition controversy, started by the assertion of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment that the Anti-Saloon League has paid expenses of the House Committee on the Alcoholic Liquor Traffic.

Representative Hudson of Michigan, chairman of the committee, added his denial to that of Wayne B. Wheeler of the league, issued on Wednesday, but G. C. Hinckley, secretary of the association against the amendment, came back with a retention which quoted Mr. Wheeler as having reported to his executive committee that he had raised money to meet certain expenses of the House committee.

Hinckley's charges were described by Mr. Hudson as "sheer bluff and dust-throwing." Neither Mr. Wheeler nor the Anti-Saloon League have made any contributions toward the committee in the four years he had been a member, the Michigan Representative said.

"The Anti-Saloon League is no more to me than the Committee of One Thousand or any other organization battling for human betterment," he continued. "I am for them all, but they cannot control me, nor buy me, nor any committee of Congress through any method."

Hinckley said that in a written report to the executive committee of the league, meeting here February 18, 1925, Wheeler said:

"The Alcoholic Liquor Traffic Committee, with Congressman Grant M. Hudson as chairman, has been gathering material to make an official report upon the results of prohibition and its enforcement and every phase of this question. We have co-operated in getting the facts. They have received information from practically all of the United States district attorneys, attorneys-general of the States, many of the governors and organizations interested in prohibition and its enforcement.

"Because of the fact that there was no appropriation for the committee we have had to do a great deal of the work, and I had to raise some extra money to meet certain expenses that were incurred by the committee."

French Delegate Hints Fears of German Air Plans

GENEVA (Switzerland) April 1. (AP) The United States is opposed to any effort to limit civil aviation, Hugh Gibson informed the preparatory commission for a disarmament conference today.

Limitation under the proposed armament treaty, he said, should be restricted to air forces under the colors, trained reserves who were subject to a call to the colors and aircraft actually in service or held in reserve.

He warned the delegates that any attempt to include in the trained reserves civilians possessing some special technical training but without military training would be open to grave practical objections.

The United States government, he added, believes any attempt to make limitation dependent upon aircraft in the hands of the civilian population and not subject to governmental control for war purposes would be doomed to failure.

M. Paul-Boncour, who also spoke, did not make the French position entirely clear, merely emphasizing that aviation must be handled adequately in the treaty; otherwise it would be ridiculous.

The impression gathered by some of the delegates was that the French realize they cannot limit civil aviation, but are anxious about its future development in Germany.

WALL STREET PAUSES TO JEST

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Wall street—that mart where billions of dollars change hands in the yearly rise and fall of securities—always has its little joke on April Fool Day.

Men of millions, big operators and shoestring traders are participants in the practical jokes and jests while floor members of the stock exchange are not averse between trades to play a few pranks on some unsuspecting operator.

Partners and customer men invariably find on their desks on April 1 a note to telephone Mr. Fox, Fordham 5560, or Mr. Fish, Whitehall 1560. This ancient joke always works. The broker finds himself in communication with either the zoo, asking for Mr. Fox, or with the aquarium, asking to speak to Mr. Fish.

Room traders are the butt of their fellows. Customers bribe the board boys to hang up some startling change in the price of a stock to momentarily delight or bring despair to the victim interested in that security. Often the bulletin board conveys the intelligence that some seller of a few odd lots is selling stocks heavily all around the exchange.

Floor operations receive calls asking for quotations on non-existing stocks while a favorite joke is to ask for a quotation on Western Maryland first preferred. This one always goes good, for while the common and second preferred stock of Western Maryland is traded in on the exchange the first preferred is not listed. Statistical departments of banks and the big exchange houses have their troubles with practical jokers, who ask for analyses of scores of stocks.

NEW TAXES IN BRITAIN SEEN

Huge Deficit Intensifies Call for Greater Economy

Strikes Gave Crushing Blows to Nation's Trade

Government Behind Nearly $250,000,000

LONDON, April 1. (AP)—Winston Churchill has proved an unfortunate Chancellor of the Exchequer. When he presented the 1926 budget he estimated a surplus of £4,109,000, but he finds himself faced instead with a deficit of nearly £37,000,000. The year before last there was a deficit of more than £14,000,000. Thus in the two years of his chancellorship the country has fallen behind more than £50,000,000.

The year 1926 was an abnormal one owing to the general and coal strikes, with the crushing blows they dealt the country's trade. This, it is widely contended, was the main cause of the present huge dificit, but there also has been an unexpected drop in revenue from several sources, notably the income tax. This was £20,000,000 below the estimate, while the excise tax produced £8,800,000 less than was expected. In addition to these there were several minor disappointments, and concurrently expenditure was increased considerably, the higher charge for interest on the national debt alone having absorbed £14,800,000 more than expected.

It is taken for granted that Chancellor Churchill when he presents the new budget on April 11 will announce fresh taxation and it is expected also he will raid the sinking fund.

The unhappy state of the national finances now disclosed has intensified the call for greater economy in governmental expenditures—a call which has long been insistent in the press.

EVEN HER UNDIES HIS PROPERTY

Husband Starts to Foreclose on Public Street When Police Stop Him

CHICAGO, April 1. (Exclusive)—When Walter Brands and Stella, his 26-year-old wife separated, he told her she must give up everything he had bought for her. Later he met her on the street and, saying the clothes she was wearing belonged to him, proceeded to "foreclose" his mortgage. He stripped off her coat and was making headway with her dress, when bystanders called the police.

In court Judge Sabath indicated he will grant her a divorce and an order restraining her husband from disrobing her at any time or place.

"Heavens, judge," she explained, "when he met me on the street and started to take everything he had bought for me, the only thing I was wearing that I had bought myself, with my own money, was a pair of garters. I am so glad those men helped me."

LONDON, April 1. (AP) — "Fla suffrage," as opponents term the for women between the ages of 21 30 years, has met with a set in the Cabinet. There is a p bility that the government will no action until the views of all political parties are given at a conference.

Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst and suffragists, who some years were campaigning for votes for w en and won them for women ove redoubled their efforts today to the franchise for women over 21 cause it became known after a C net meeting that consideration o plan probably would be deferred til the next session of Parliame

The Cabinet ministers are at on the subject.

The contention is made by the ponents of "flapper suffrage" th the 5,000,000 women between ages of 21 and 30 in the Un Kingdom are permitted to vote, women voters will outnumber men in all but a few mining const encies.

Should the government adopt plan to submit the question to political parties, it is believed mier Baldwin will favor a form proportional representation.

An Important Announcement
By the Los Angeles Investment Company

AN INVITATION is extended to the Public to attend a meeting with the Board of Directors and the Stockholders of the Los Angeles Investment Company at 8 o'clock this evening upon the east summit of the Baldwin Hills.

This meeting tonight will mark the christening of our 350 acre holding which includes the east portion of that scenic spot located west of Angeles Mesa Drive.

We feel that the commanding beauty of this property entitles it to a name which will denote the distinctive and picturesque attributes of its location.

The numerous owners of recently purchased homes and lots west of Mesa Drive, whose investments here amount to over four million dollars, are especially asked to be present and to assist in the ceremony, which will include addresses and music. Many of the oldest, best and most prominent families of Los Angeles will be represented at this gathering.

The name "Baldwin Hills" will hereafter be discontinued from our advertising, and the new name "VIEWPARK", which has been especially selected for its suitability, will be adopted after the ceremony tonight.

To Los Angeles as a whole the name "VIEWPARK" will be announced at 8 o'clock this evening by a large electrical Neon sign. At the same hour tonight, and every night for some time, a searchlight will direct your way to this goal—the one spot in all Los Angeles on which you may build your home and be able to enjoy a panoramic view from your own window, which will include Beverly Hills, Hollywood, the mountains, the ocean and practically all of Los Angeles, and where you will enjoy perfect climatic conditions.

This meeting tonight on West Vernon Ave. at the summit of the hill, a few blocks west of Mesa Drive, has for its sole purpose the dedication of a new community—"VIEWPARK."

You will like "VIEWPARK"—come and see our truly wonderful development.

CALEXICO PORT BUSINESS HUGE

Volume Enormous on Both Sides of Line

More Than 8,000,000 Cross Border in Year

Imports of $894,000 There in Month of March

CALEXICO, April 1.—An indication of the enormous volume of business transacted by Americans in Lower California and by Mexicans in the United States was furnished today when H. F. Shepperd, deputy collector of customs at this port, announced that over an average of 24,000 persons passed the international gateway here daily. The total for the past year amounted to 8,778,250. The traffic is much heavier on Saturdays and Sundays than on week days, the total often reaching 32,000 a day during the week-end. The average number of automobiles crossing the line daily is 2604.

While resorts in Mexicali are responsible for much of the international traffic, line officers estimate that at least 70 per cent of those passing through the gate are engaged in legitimate business pursuits.

Shepperd's report shows that imports through this gateway during the month of March amounted to $94,000, a gain of $160,000 over the same month last year. Exports amounting to $406,000 were recorded during the month.

Hanford Will Celebrate Its First Lot Sale

HANFORD, April 1.—Fifty years to the Southern Pacific Company sold the first lots in this city and the first house was erected. The event is to be celebrated at a homecoming and pioneer day to be held here on the coming May 6, it was decided at a meeting of a committee of representatives of the Board of Trade, City Trustees and service organizations this forenoon. Names are to be secured of all pioneers and former residents of Hanford, no matter where they now reside in any part of the United States, and they will be invited to the event.

The City Trustees have turned over the new Municipal Auditorium for the day and the Retailers' Association is expected to close all stores after the afternoon. This city anticipates having here the largest number of home people, past and present, that it has ever had. The pioneers will have the most of the limelight. The program, but partially outlined at present, consists of a reception to the pioneers and former residents in the forenoon, a big free concert under the leadership of the local society in the afternoon and a ball at night. Other features will be discussed at a meeting next Tuesday night.

EITHER CHARGE NOR BAIL FOOLS'-DAY JOKE

REDLANDS, April 1.—It was no April fool joke on Robert Lee, 37 years old, when he was bound over by the Superior Court to answer to a charge of burglary. He is in the County Jail on default of $10,000 bail, according to the testimony of Elmer Millard, Ray Igo, Ed Holloway, Nelli Millard, R. P. Rivera and George Rapp, the arrested man was looked upon as a suspicious character before he was captured at the point of a shotgun by Neil Willard, in the Willard brothers' cabin near the Igo store in Mill Creek Canyon. Forty-five dollars was stolen from the Willard cabin. Numerous articles were stolen from the Igo store and it was reported that near-by mountain cabins had been ransacwed recently. Dist.-Atty. Johnson conducted the prosecution. Lee refused to testify, declaring that all he wished to say was that he was not guilty.

THIRD WORKER HURT IN AUTO CRASH DIES

VENTURA, April 1.—A third of the twelve Mexican workmen who were injured Wednesday evening when the truck in which they were riding struck the rear end of the Ojai stage and overturned at Kalorama and Peta streets, died during the night in the County Hospital. He is Joe Martinez, 25, whose original injuries were reported to be scalp wounds, cuts and bruises on the left thigh and shock. Officials at the hospital, however, reported that Martinez evidently had also suffered internal injuries. Supt. Cagnacci of the hospital reported today that of the eight injured men remaining in the hospital two, Francisco Esperanza and Jose Morales, are still in a critical condition.

GRADUATE BUYS OLD SCHOOL BUILDING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 1.—O. E. Harris, City Trustee, has purchased the old high school building, it was announced today. Harris, who attended the school many years ago and graduated from it, was the high bidder for the structure, paying $365 for the privilege of tearing it down. Harris will dismantle the structure for the lumber. Work is scheduled to start at once. The school was erected in 1909. It was replaced this year by a $500,000 plant.

The new clubhouse has a large stage and auditorium with offices and the reception room on the ground floor. The upper floors contain the club assembly rooms, dining room, kitchen and ball-room.

KILLING CHARGE CHANGED

Kern County Man Accused of Slaying Baby Now Facing Trial at Bakersfield for Manslaughter

BAKERSFIELD, April 1.—Reducing the charge from murder to manslaughter, Justice Tom Baker today ordered that Charles Woodward be bound over to the Superior Court for the killing of a baby belonging to Mary Roberts, a woman with whom he was living and working as a cotton picker on the Barlow ranch near Arvin. A murder charge against the woman, the mother of the baby, has already been dismissed.

In making this pnonouncement today after having taken the case under advisement for several days, Justice Baker said:

"Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of a human being without malice. This killing seems to come under involuntary manslaughter to me.

"During the preliminary examination, no malice was disclosed and I don't believe that a charge of murder could be sustained. Then, too, there was only one witness to the alleged choking of the baby by Woodward and that was Mary Roberts.

"She testified that the man was playing with the baby on a bed and that he held his hand over the baby's mouth for a short time, she didn't know how long and then the baby seemed to stop breathing," the magistrate concluded.

After the death of the baby the woman said that they became scared when an attempt to revive it with water failed. So they left in haste without collecting their wages due them as cotton-pickers on the ranch.

The baby was thrown under a culvert where a Japanese found it later, in a badly decomposed condition.

GLENDALE BOYS HELD AS THIEVES

Revolvers, Shotgun and Rifle Found on Pair When Arrested in Automobile

GLENDALE, April 1. — The arrest of two youths on San Fernando Road last night is declared by the detective bureau here to pave the way for the solution of a number of burglaries that have been under investigation here for several months past, in view of the confessions that are said to have been obtained by the police and the recovery of a large amount of plunder in the car the boys were driving and at their homes.

Detective Sergeants Clarton and Nunn last night picked up O. W. Shammel, 18 years of age, of 1168 Justin avenue, and Otis Palmer, 18, of 425 West Acacia street, and on searching Shammel they found two loaded revolvers in the outside packets of his coat. Palmer was unarmed at the time, but in the car, that is said to belong to Shammel, the officers found a shotgun and an army rifle, both loaded, besides other weapons and a miscellaneous collection of articles, believed to have been taken from a radio store at 900 South San Fernando Road.

Shammel was booked on a first-degree burglary charge, but no charges were filed against Palmer, who will probably be turned over to the Juvenile Hall authorities, Detective Lieutenant C. P. Blake declared.

When questioned by the detectives the boys are said to have confessed several recent burglaries in Glendale, and a tire on Shammel's car is said to fit the description of one that was reported stolen a few nights ago.

Included in the loot found in the homes of the two suspects were two rifles, three revolvers, a shotgun, a four-tube radio set, one expensive field glass and a collection of tools. Bail has been fixed at $500 in each case.

FAILS TO SEE TRAIN

Telephone Worker Drives Onto Rails and Probably Will Die

ALHAMBRA, April 1.—Failure to see an approaching Pacific Electric work train at the New avenue crossing in Wilmar today may cost Howard A. Kephart, 30 years of age, his life. He is at the Alhambra Hospital, his injuries consisting of a fractured skull, crushed chest and punctured lung. Doctors hold out little hope for his recovery. Kephart, who lives at 509 Fern avenue, Wilmar, is a truck foreman for a Pasadena telephone company. On his way to work today he drove his small roadster onto the tracks directly in the path of the train. The automobile was hit squarely in the center and was tossed ninety feet down the tracks. The injured man is married and the father of three children. When Mrs. Kephart came to the hospital he regained consciousness long enough to say, "I didn't see it coming."

COMPLETES LARGE WATER MAIN LAYING

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 1.—Water Superintendent Jack Mohr is just completing a sixteen-inch cast-iron water main on Slauson avenue, which extends for one mile, between Slauson and Miles avenues, and is one of the largest mains installed in the city. It has been placed under a covering of four feet, the reason for this great depth, according to Mr. Mohr, being that there are many heavy trucks operated along Slauson avenue, and that the depth will be a protection from any part of the pipe line breaking.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE IN SAN FERNANDO OPENS

SAN FERNANDO, April 1.—The Western Union opened a standard office at 1109 Porter avenue today in charge of J. F. Fitzpatrick, formerly operator at the Southern Pacific. The opening of the office brings to a conclusion prolonged work on the part of the Chamber of Commerce, which opened negotiations with the Western Union last fall and co-operated with the company in making a business survey.

FLOOD REPAIRS RUSHED

Dykes Swept Away in February Being Rebuilt Along Santa Ana River in Orange County

OLIVE, April 1.—With twenty teams and a crew of approximately thirty-five men engaged in the work, flood repairs are being rushed to completion along the Santa Ana River in the Olive-West Orange flood protection district it was announced today by K. E. Wolff, secretary.

Nearly all of the major breaks caused by the heavy February storms between the Richfield and the Olive-Anaheim bridge have been repaired with work now being concentrated on the section south of the Anaheim Boulevard in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific bridge.

Wolff stated that most of the repair work between the two former spots has been completed excepting for one small break near the Santa Fe bridge above Olive.

Funds for the emergency work were raised through a $150,000 note signed by approximately twenty-eight ranchers in the flood-control district. When the annual budget is submitted to the County Supervisors this summer provisions will be included to retire the note, Wolff said.

In addition to the regular maintenance items the budget will also make provisions for further repair work in order to prevent recurrence of the past flood damage.

Wolff estimated that another $5000 would probably be necesary to complete the repair program. This work however, will not be done until the regular funds become available as provided in the budget. The current work consists of rebuilding the dykes swept away and strengthening them with heavy piling, wire and brush.

REDONDO BEACH PIER CLOSED BY OFFICIAL ORDER

REDONDO BEACH, April 1. (AP)—The Redondo Beach municipal pier was condemned as hazardous by the department of safety of the State Industrial Accident Commission today, and at a hastily called meeting of the City Board of Trustees was officially closed to the public, effective immediately.

A. B. Wegner, construction engineer of the State commission, who examined the concrete pier, reported that it was unsafe for public use and that big cracks had appeared in sixty-two of the iron and concrete piers. T. W. Osgood, assistant State superintendent of the department of safety of the commission, presented Wagner's report to the Board of Trustees, along with the commission's condemnation of the pier. He stated that the pier had been found hazardous and in danger of collapse under the weight of a crowd.

The Board of Trustees promptly ordered the pier closed to the public and fences erected across its entrances. The only remedy, the Trustees held, is for the city to vote a bond issue for repair of the structure.

POLE DIRECTS AGAIN AT POMONA COLLEGE

CLAREMONT, April 1.—Reginald Pole, prominent dramatist, actor and director of the Hollywood Pilgrimage Play for the last three years has been appointed to direct the annual Shakespearean play to be presented at Pomona College, May 19 and 20. Pole visits the Pomona College campus annually in the spring and directs from one to three productions. Pole has directed the annual Shakespeare play at Pomona for several years past and has won a name for developing new talent. He often introduces students who have not before taken part in dramatics as leading characters in the Shakespeare plays.

JURY DECIDES DEATH CAUSE ACCIDENTAL

ANAHEIM, April 1.—That the circumstances leading to the death of Thomas Swope, 29-year-old welder, who was almost instantly killed late Wednesday afternoon when an "empty" California Petroleum Corporation dehydrating tank exploded on the Yarnell lease near Yorba Linda, were accidental was the verdict of a Coroner's jury at an inquest conducted late yesterday afternoon in the Backs, Terry & Campbell funeral parlors. The jury found that death resulted from a "crushed chest and resulting internal injuries received while in performance of his duties as an employee of the California Petroleum Corporation and were the result of accidental causes."

ELKS INSTALL

TIRES IN FLOCK PUNCTURED

Destructive Joker Puts Score of Automobiles Out of Commission as Owners at Entertainment at Glendale High School

GLENDALE, April 1.—Some practical joker with a destructive sense of humor anticipated the arrival of April fools' day last night, when he perforated the tires of about twenty automobiles that had been parked outside the Broadway High School by their owners, who were attending the performance of the comic opera, "Once in a Blue Moon," by the combined boys' and girls' glee clubs of the school.

Investigation showed that the tires had been pierced by some sharp instrument, presumably an ice pick or a thick-bladed knife, and efforts to pump them up in the darkness after the show were futile.

The atmosphere assumed a cerulean twinge when the owners of the cars tried their tires and found that in many cases the jokers had not been satisfied with piercing one tire, but had perforated all four, and in some instances the spare tires carried on the cars were also cut.

Police, who are investigating the outrage, declare that at least one other instance of similar vandalism has occurred within the past few weeks, when cars outside another building in which a meeting was in progress were mutilated.

Meantime, the owners of the damaged cars are packing large blunt instruments in case they catch the ice-pick operator at work again.

BAD CHECK VICTIM'S AIDED

Big-Hearted Officer Starts Fund for Aged Minister Who Lost His Source of Income

INGLEWOOD, April 1.—Headed by a big-hearted officer of the law, who modestly refuses to permit publication of his name, a campaign to raise funds to save an aged minister and his wife, victims of a bad-check passer, from utter destitution was under way here today.

"It is one of the saddest cases I have ever encountered," it was declared by the peace officer, who himself started the fund with a large contribution. "The Rev. J. W. Sharp and his wife, a fine old couple living at 6134 Hazelton avenue, Liberty Acres, near this city, were living on a very few dollars a month, given to them as a pension from the denomination the minister served faithfully during the greater part of his lifetime. He and his wife are both past 80 years of age. They managed to live and to make payments on their little home by the most frugal economy and by hard work with a few chickens.

"Then the sale of eggs fell off, but still interest, taxes and payments on their home had to be met with hard cash. The only way out was to sell the poultry. A man by the name of Don Gates came along and offered the trusting old preacher a check for $133 in payment for the fowls.

"Then, happy to know that for the time being they could pay their bills, Mr. Sharp deposited this check and then wrote his own checks to pay outstanding bills and save the little home.

"Then came the terrible news that the check given for the chickens was worthless. At once this honest man, who had spent his life in the service of God and humanity, was technically a criminal, for he had issued checks without sufficient funds to meet them." Gates has been lodged in the County Jail pending his trial.

BABY LOSES EYE IN FALL FROM TOY CAR

POMONA, April 1.—The sight of her right eye destroyed when, in a fall from her kiddie kar yesterday, the handlebar of the toy pierced the eyeball, three-year-old Eleanor Stephenson, daughter of G. E. Stephenson, 629 West Drive Grigsby Court, successfully underwent an operation at Pomona Valley Hospital for the removal of parts of the shattered optic. Dr. Ralph Smith, who was assisted by Dr. Robert E. Smith, operated upon the destroyed member, and announced that the sight of her left eye would not be impaired.

The mother was in another part of the house when the accident happened. Hearing the child's screams, she nearly collapsed when the realization came that the sight of the little girl was threatened, and immediately summoned aid. Little Eleanor was then rushed to the hospital where first-aid was administered and efforts of surgeons confined to the saving of the sight of the left eye.

RECEIVER SELECTED FOR BANK AT DINUBA

DINUBA, April 1.—C. K. Newhall of San Francisco has been named receiver of the United States National Bank of Dinuba, which remained closed on Monday, March 21st, having done its last business with depositors on Saturday previous. R. Foster Lamm, bank examiner, has since been in charge, but affairs will now be in the hands of Mr. Newhall.

Efforts of local business men to bring about some method of refinancing and reopening the institution were unsuccessful. No statement has been made as yet regarding probable action of officials or the fate of moneys in the bank.

SAN FERNANDO CHIEF RETURNS TO DUTIES

SAN FERNANDO, April 1.—Chief of Police E. B. Rice resumed his official duties today after having convalesced the last four days on account of injuries received in an automobile collision which occurred last Sunday evening as he was on his way to answer an emergency call as the result of another auto accident. He sustained two broken ribs and lacerations. The city police car in which he was riding partly overturned and was carried several feet by the force of the impact.

PRISON TERM FOR FORMER OFFICER

VISALIA, April 1. — Charles H. Hurst, former undersheriff of Tulare county, who was sentenced to a term in San Quentin penitentiary following a plea of guilty to a charge of having embezzled funds belonging to the county of Tulare and Sheriff R. L. Hill, is reported to have been granted a parole by the State Board of Prison Directors in session a few days since. It is believed Hurst will ireturn to his former home at Dinuba.

MASQUERS ELECT

CLAREMONT, April 1.—Five new members have been elected to Masquers' Society, the honorary dramatic organization on the Pomona College campus. They are Robert Jones of Riverside, Helen Crane of Los Angeles, Gerald Stewart of Pasadena, Charlotte Garlick of Long Beach and Ralph Kuhlman of South Pasadena.

INSTALLED HEAD OF BOOSTER BODY

C. E. Rachal
New president Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce.

CAHUENGA PARK, April 1.—Charles E. Rachal, developer of properties along the Ventura Boulevard section of San Fernando Valley, and president of Oakwood Cemetery Association, Chatsworth, last night was installed as president of the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce, at a dinner-dance conducted in the Encino Country Club, more than 200 couples taking part.

The principal speaker of the evening was Harry H. Culver, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board, who in his talk, predicted that Los Angeles and its environs would become the fourth city of the nation in population, within the next five years.

"Back East," he said, "they say we are dreamers. And right they are. We are dreamers of the finest sort, for we have dreamt the dreams that we have made come true. Los Angeles is the result of a series of wonderful conceptions, which all of us have brought to actual realities by the great amount of practical and constructive work we have put behind our dreams. We have astounced the world because we are dreamers, who have had the sense to make real and material every conception we have had within the last ten or fifteen years."

Other speakers were Councilman Charles H. Randall, County Supervisor Henry Wright, Harold G. Ferguson, Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber; of Commerce; Charles Albright and Marlowe and Harry Merrick. Ferguson, the retiring president, was presented with a watch by the board of directors of the chamber.

In his short address, President Rachal stated that the growth of the Ventura Boulevard district has been due through the co-operation of all residents, and in accepting his new office exacted a promise of all present that the same spirit continue throughout the present and succeeding years.

NEARLY ESCAPES

TULARE, April 1.—Wriggling out of the grasp of clerks in the store and making a dash for freedom, Jesus Herrera of Selma, was captured by a fleeter and more muscular spectator and is now being held in the local jail on a charge of shoplifting. Herrera is said to have secreted sixteen pairs of socks about his person while in Leggett's Racket Store. Caught in the act he was grasped by clerks, but managed to struggle away and took to his heels. Harry Martin of Martin's Welding Shop gave chase and captured him a block away, holding him for the police.

PASADENA CORNER SOLD

PASADENA, April 1.—Sale of the southwest corner of Colorado street and Euclid avenue to Stafford W. Bixby of Pasadena and Howard E. Bixby of Glendale, for approximately $250,000, or about $4000 a front foot, was reported today by the Blankenhorn Realty Company. The J. Herbert Hall Company was the owner. The buyers plan to improve the property immediately with stores.

JANE ADDAMS HONOR GUEST

Noted Chicago Woman in Pasadena Entertained by Girls' League of High School There

PASADENA, April 1.—Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, nationally known settlement worker, writer and lecturer, was the guest of honor today at a meeting of the Girls' League of Pasadena High School, and spoke briefly.

Miss Addams expressed her appreciation at being present and remarked on the beauty and extent of the Pasadena High School campus, but made no address, explaining that she has avoided public gatherings and has given no lectures or addresses for some months, on account of ill health.

At present, Miss Addams is the guest of Mrs. Joseph Bowers at 1517 Lombardy Road. She is here purely for a rest and vacation, and will remain until next week.

Miss Addams was one of the pioneers in social service and settlement welfare work in this country and has devoted her long and useful life to it. She founded the Hull House settlement in Chicago in 1889 and has been its head ever since. Since then her fame has spread to all parts of this country.

She plans no public appearances in Southern California and few people knew she was here. The Girls' League of the high school prevailed upon her to make the only exception to the rule. One of the Pasadena High School buildings is named after her.

SMALL HOPE FOR INJURED CLERGYMAN

Angeleno's Chances Slim, Fresno Surgeons Declare; Sufferer Still Sanguine

FRESNO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Rev. W. T. Butcher of Los Angeles, injured in an automobile crash near Chowchilla Tuesday, continued today to show little change of condition as he lies at a local hospital paralyzed from the hips downward as the result of a broken back and dislocated neck, according to Dr. W. L. Adams, chief of the staff of physicians in attendance.

The dislocation of Mr. Butcher's neck, which first was believed to have caused the paralysis of the lower part of his body and his limbs, was reduced, but did not bring any noticeable change in his condition, Dr. Adams said, leading the physician to believe that the spinal cord was severed by the injury to his back.

While Mr. Butcher said that he felt better today and told the physicians he experienced more sensation of life in the paralyzed portion of his body and limbs, Dr. Adams said that the physician had little hope for his recovery.

Mrs. Butcher, who arrived in Fresno yesterday after an airplane and motor-car trip from San Diego, is constantly at the bedside of the injured minister. To her he today repeated the belief that he is improving and that his recovery is but a matter of time.

Pomona Judge Fines Heavily in Liquor War

POMONA, April 1.—Continuing his war upon violators of the liquor laws, Police Judge E. H. Bowen today meted out a fine of $600 upon Alexander Perrez, 1352 South Thomas street as a result of his conviction on charges of illegal possession and transportation of liquor following his arrest last night, when four pint bottles of asserted liquor were found in his automobile while parked in the downtown section of the city. Perrez was fined $300 on each charge with an alternative of 900 days on each. He paid the $600 fine and was given his liberty.

In this connection a report issued by Chief of Police I. B. English indicates a huge increase in arrests for intoxication in this city during the calendar year 1926. In 1925, eighty-two arrests were made locally for this violation, while the number jumped to 143 during 1926. Chief English stated that this report does not necessarily indicate that there is more liquor imbibing during the past year than heretofore, but rather indicates that enforcement has been more stringent with more consequent arrests.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN MOONSHINE PLANT

SAN DIEGO, April 1. (AP)—An electrically lighted illicit liquor plant equipped with two 100-gallon stills, fifty gallon barrels of mash, ten, twenty-five and fifty-gallon barrels of whisky and alcohol, located in a seventy-five-foot tunnel leading from the basement of a house in Encanto, five miles east of this city, was raided by a squad of prohibition officers headed by Charles Cass last night.

Bobbie Burns, 66 years of age, who was found in the house, was arrested.

OAK CREEK MINE DEAL COMPLETED

Pacific Portland Cement Company Acquires Acreage West of Mojave

BAKERSFIELD, April 1.—Declared to be one of the biggest mining deals of the year, involving a consideration of $100,000 or more, the Pacific Portland Cement Company has purchased 2600 acres of lime land in the Oak Creek district, ten miles west of Mojave. Deeds to the property, which did not indicate the consideration, were filed for record here last evening.

The big acreage was secured from Robert Burns, Jennie C. Henderson and Robert B. Henderson. From Jennie Henderson and Robert Burns, the cement manufacturing company secured 800 acres in Section 12 and Section 26 11-14, and 10-15. The property is known as lime deposit No. 1 and overlooked Nos. 1 and 2, acquired under the placer mining law from the government. The company also acquired fee title to all of Sections 13, 23 and 27 and eighty acres in Section 15, all in Township 11, Range 14, from Robert Henderson.

The Oak Creek deposits are located south of Tehachapi and not far from the Monolith Cement Company plants, one of the largest manufacturing firms in the Western States.

Many Calling at Rattlesnake Hill Mine Site

WOODLAKE, April 1.—Rattlesnake Hill, twelve miles north of Woodlake, Tulare county, has become something of a "Weepah" in a small way. The site of the mine on Rattlesnake from which Tracy Hammond recently secured samples of ore, declared high in gold, has since been visited by hundreds of cars. Discovery of this find has caused a mild furore of prospecting in the hills north of Woodlake.

Hammond is now in Oakland, where he went earlier in the week with 500 pounds of ore from his mine. He will remain in the northern city until this ore is smelted. For a number of years it has been known that gold existed in the hills near here, but it was not believed to be present in a paying form. The ledge on which Hammond's mine is located apparently extends some distance, running on to other privately owned land, where further development awaits report on Hammond's find.

A road is being built to the mine preparatory to taking out a carload of the ore. It will be loaded at Elderwood Station. As all of the land in the Rattlesnake section is privately owned there will be no such gold rush as Weepah enjoyed, but undoubtedly considerable activity will result from a favorable report from Oakland.

QUESTIONNAIRES FOR VENTURA VETERANS

VENTURA, April 1.—Questionnaires are being sent to every Legionnaire and ex-service man in the county to determine whether Ventura county shall have one county post of the American Legion, as at present, or separate posts in the various cities and towns as in other counties in Southern California. The questionnaire post card is inclosed with a letter of explanation being sent out by Dan Emmett, Jr., Commander. The action is taken at the suggestion of Dr. John R. Slawich, State Commander. Ex-service men are being asked also to vote whether they believe a memorial building should be erected at Saticoy, as proposed, or the memorial funds used toward the erection of clubhouses in the various communities.

PREPARED

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Samuel Orville Brown, negro shine boy in a Los Angeles barber shop, will be locked in the Orange County Jail tonight to start serving a five-day jail sentence for speeding. Brown admitted that he was guilty of speeding fifty-six miles an hour several days ago when he was arrested by C. J. Cain, State traffic officer, "What do you think is going to happen to you?" Justice Morrison asked. "I don't know, judge, but I'se prepared," the speeder answered.

WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Delegates to National Review Also Selected in Voting at Benefit Association's Great Review

PORTERVILLE, April 1.—Officers elected at the Great Review of the Women's Benefit Association held in Porterville were: Great Commander, Mrs. Bessie Frilot, Los Angeles; Assistant to Great Commander, Mrs. Julie C. Ginn, Los Angeles; Great Lieutenant-Commander, Mrs. Stella Richards, Los Angeles; Great Collector, Mrs. Gertrude Piester, Long Beach; Great Record Keeper, Mrs. Levina Rowe, Sacramento; Finance Keeper, Mrs. Mabel Ashcraft, San Francisco; Great Chaplain, Mrs. Mary Carney, Oakland; Great Lady at Arms, Mrs. Freda Hertel, San Diego; Great Sergeant at Arms, Mrs. Esta Nay, Pasadena; Great Picket, Mrs. Anna Stroutt, Stockton; Great Sentinel, Mrs. Sadie Brunette, Porterville.

Delegates elected to the national review at Port Huron, Mich., in July, are: Mrs. Julia C. Ginn, Los Angeles, Associate Great Commander; Mrs. Belle N. Banrard of Los Angeles, Deputy Great Commander; Mrs. Anna I. Mahar of Oakland, a District Deputy. Alternates are Mrs. Maris L. Goran of Glendale, Mrs. Lacina E. Rowe of Sacramento and Mrs. Bertha Fitzpatrick, District Deputies.

It is believed a special train of Californians will go East to attend the national W.B.A. summer camp at Port Huron, Mich., July 11-18, which date has been assigned six Western States. The national review will also be staged at Port Huron, July 18-25.

The summer camp site in Balch Park, east of Porterville in the Sierras, will not be developed before next season, according to State officers. The road to this park will not be completed until late summer this year. Plans are being made for a caravan of Los Angeles W.B.A. members to visit the Balch Park site in September.

DETROIT FLIGHT STARTS MONDAY

Giant Triengined Fokker to Leave March Field

Begins Long Journey With Three Passengers

First Landing Will be at San Francisco

RIVERSIDE, April 1.—At Sunrise Monday the giant Fokker triengined monoplane, sister ship to Lieut. Byrd's North Pole conqueror, will take off from March Field on the first leg of its return trip to Detroit.

On board will be W. R. Angell, executive vice-president, and Rose W. Judson, president, of the Continental Motors Company; T. Flaherty, Riverside business representative of Angell, and George R. Pond, pilot, a March Field-trained navigator. The huge air liner is being conditioned today for its long journey.

It has accommodations for seven persons, is comfortably furnished and has most of the conveniences to be found on a luxurious Pullman railway car.

The ship will wing its way north from here, giving its passengers a bird's-eye view of the big-tree region.

A landing will later be made at Crissy Field, San Francisco. Tuesday morning the ship will be in the air over the Bay District and thence to Sacramento. At Mather Field Gus Young will meet the voyagers and will intrust a letter to the crew to be delivered to the Governor of Michigan.

From Mather Field the ship will speed over the mail route to Salt Lake, thence to Omaha by way of Yellowstone Park. From Omaha the craft will make a nonstop flight directly to Detroit.

Father Fined for Slapping Face of Child

WINNIPEG, April 1. (Exclusive)—While agreeing bad boys sometimes need parental chastisement, Magistrate Frazer of Brandon draws the line when it comes to slapping a child in the face or head, and particularly when by so doing blood is caused to flow.

This transpired in police court when Lawrence Lambert of New York, manager of Mme. Matzenauer, Metropolitan Opera star, appeared to answer a charge of assaulting his 11-year-old son.

The story was that the boy, who was requested to go to bed, told his father "go chase yourself. What's the hurry. Where's the fire?"

The father slapped the boy in the face, causing his mouth to bleed. The boy, scared at the sight of blood made such an uproar that the guests at the hotel went to his assistance and information was given to the police.

REDLANDS GETS INTO PRINT WITH BEAUTIES

REDLANDS, April 1. (AP)—Redlands has broken into the bathing-beauty column although the nearest ocean is some seventy miles away. For one of the national magazines which has a quaint habit of printing pictures of bathing girls in most impossible situations, chose Rainbow Basin trout pools near Redlands for the latest selling of the pulchritude. There are pictures of the fair beauties in the aft of snagging trout and even getting flies caught in their abbreviated suits and the winner of the costume. And "near Redlands gets this city fine publicity."

MAN CONVICTED FOR POSSESSION OF STILL

ARMONA, April 1.—Louie Rios had Justice Warner in court yesterday afternoon that he had been put in jail for owning a still, while the facts were that it did not belong to him but had been taken by him from another man as security for rent only. Rios's ranch house, north of here, was raided and a small still and a barrel of mash were found. He was not at home, but hearing of the raid he came in and surrendered at the County Jail. He was given a $400 fine or 400 days in jail and today his friends are trying to raise the money.

BOY SCOUTS HONORED BY COURT OF HONOR

HANFORD, April 1.—Thirty-six boys were advanced in scouting and thirteen given merit badges at a court of honor held here last night, one of the most successful ever held here by the Scouts, it being in symbolistic form under supervision of District Executive Willard Engel of Fresno. Merit badges were given to eleven Scouts, three passed tests for advancement to first class, fifteen were advanced to second class and seventeen candidates were admitted as tenderfeet.

MERCY FOR BURGLAR

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Probation was granted today to Jesse Wallace when he came before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames for committings burglary at the home of Rose Lamblin, 615 North Lemon street, Anaheim. The offense was committed January 31 by Walling and O. H. Goss, both of whom pleaded guilty. The plea of Goss for probation was also before the court today but his case was postponed for a week. A traffic charge the exact nature of which has not yet been made known, will be filed against him in the meantime, it was hinted today.

CONTINUE TO WED

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Though wed in the annual late winter slump in matrimonial industry of Orange county established a new March record for the month just ended. A total of 389 marriage licenses were issued during the month. According to records of County Clerk J. M. Backs, that number exceeded the February mark of 356 and had a margin of twenty-seven over March, 1926.

Luncheon and Program Follow Inspection Tour

Spirit of Emulation Stirred Achievement Here

Speaking inspiration from Los Angeles' achievement of one of the world's first ports, fifty officials and business men of Stockton visited Los Angeles Harbor yesterday with a view to emulating it in developing their waterway for the San Joaquin River city.

"We are going back with a new vision of what manpower and the will of man can achieve," declared Mayor Raymond J. Wheeler at luncheon given in the visitors at the Y.M.C.A. at San Pedro yesterday noon by Los Angeles and San Pedro Chambers of Commerce.

"You have overwhelmed us with incontrovertible proof of a port's benefits," he said. "If with what we have seen we can not evolve a port, in spite of what you had to start with, we are not fit to mingle in your company."

He had just heard Capt. S. S. Sanborn, port traffic manager, parade the city's startling figures attesting the rise in ten years to America's second port in tonnage, excelled only by New York.

"The astounding thing to Charles Seyhanburn, city manager for Stockton was that the $25,000,000 spent in developing Los Angeles Harbor is being returned every ninety days in increasing in transportation.

"We have known of many gold mines in any time, but none so profitable as to bring a whole people 400 per cent in dividends every year. You have literally 'lifted yourselves by your bootstraps!' "

Stockton's program calls for deepening the San Jaquin River to twenty-six feet from the city fourteen miles down stream, where it enters Suisun Bay, an arm of San Francisco Bay.

The State is contributing $419,000, the city of Stockton $3,000,000 and the Federal government $2,407,000.

Two years ago it was estimated that deep water port would attract 500,000 tons of commerce through Stockton. That figure has been estimated to increase to 770,000 tons by 1930, and the present project reaches the point of realization.

The luncheon was presided over by R. C. Grow of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, while Assistant Secretary Harmon of the Los Angeles chamber welcomed the visitors in behalf of Mayor Cryer and the chamber. Following the dinner the party returned to Los Angeles and will take a train last night for home.

TONNAGE TRAFFIC AT PORT GAINS SHARPLY

Approximately 132,000 bales of cotton moved through Los Angeles Harbor during the winter season closing March 31, according to a statement yesterday by Capt. S. S. Sandberg, the harbor traffic manager.

The shipments represent a gain of 98,000 last year, and a fourfold increase from 1922, when between 30,000 and 30,000 bales only passed through the port.

The movement represents more than 75 per cent of the cotton shipped out of the Imperial and San Joaquin valleys and Arizona, with a sprinkling from Texas and New Mexico points as well. The product is divided almost equally between Atlantic ports and Northern Europe.

A considerable amount is still held in storage at the port by brokers awaiting more favorable markets. The shipts this season have come spasmodically, in bunches, rather than rolling along throughout the six months, necessitating peak work at the hands of the Union Terminal Warehouse Company, which operates the city's two compressors at the harbor.

March proved a banner month for the plant, quarantine inspectors at the port, when A. P. Messenger's staff handled 363 ships, excelling December, 1926's record of 357 vessels. These include intercoastal, foreign and coastwise outside the State, no intra-state ships being inspected unless carrying bonded goods. Incidentally this surpasses San Francisco.

Col. Thomas Branch McAdams, national president of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, former president of the American Bankers' Association, and leading Virginia capitalist, of Richmond, is among the 530 passengers arriving in New York and Havana this morning aboard the Panama-Pacific liner Mongolia.

He is coming to Los Angeles to preside at the initiation ceremonies this evening of Alpha Psi chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma at the University of California here, which tonight will also be guest of honor at a banquet attended by 300 members of Phi Kappa Sigma. He will depart by train for Richmond Monday.

Edward P. Warner, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aviation, will arrive at the port from Hawaii at 9 o'clock this afternoon aboard the Los Angeles liner Calawaii. Mr. Warner has spent nearly two months in the islands, studying naval aviation bases. He will proceed directly to Washington after a short inspection of the United States naval air stations at San Diego.

Theodore E. Ferris, New York naval architect, and Capt. William Clark, general superintendent of the Clyde-Mory Lines, have arrived from the east coast for the purpose of purchasing, for Atlantic coastwise service, a former navy hospital ship for conversion. The Comfort is now out of service at San Francisco, but her machinery is said to be in first-class condition and it is expected that she will be placed in service at a cost of $500,000.

Establishment of modern shipyards at Bay Mable, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is being planned by George L. Craig, president of the Craig Shipbuilding Company of Long Beach, it was reported yesterday. Mr. Craig is Southern California's pioneer steel shipbuilder, having established the present Long Beach yards long before the World War.

The steamship Calawaii will dock at Wilmington from Honolulu at 9

The steamship Calawali will dock at Wilmington from Honolulu at 8 p.m. today with a total of 418 pas- sengers, according to radio advices received by officials of the Los Angeles Steamship Company from Capt. A. A. Sawyer.

The large passenger list of the popular liner comprises first-class passengers made up largely of east- erners returning to their homes after a visit of several weeks in Hawaii, and of third-class passengers repre- senting Philippine and American-Ha- waiian laborers for ranch, factory and cannery work in California.

Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon-general for the United States Health Service, now en route to Hawaii to attend a medical society meeting, is expected in Los Angeles the 20th inst. for an inspection of service facilities here. Conferences also are to be sought with him concerning prospective ma- rine facilities needed by a first-class port, such as a quarantine station, marine hospital and other items.

Homer Johnson, chief counsel for the White Motor Company of Cleve- land, and C. B. Messenger, retired Los Angeles publisher, were on a tour of the harbor yesterday, escorted by the latter's son, A. P. Messenger, head of plant quarantine work at the port. The former two were schoolmates in Ohio.

Something of a Neighborhood Figure Today is Bessie Nefroney, who yesterday gave birth to bouncing triplets. Bessie is unusually proud of both herself and her family, because she knows that it is rarely that a mother goat is blessed with so numerous a family at one time. And the neighborhood's proud, too. Bessie and family above. (Times photo.)

"Eagle's-Eye View" of Southern California beauties has been caught by an artist and will be displayed on posters at depots along air mail route. Albert G. Essig, well-known artist and official of Sunset Airlines, Inc., made sketches (above) from mail plane.

Hundreds of Tons of Snow Crashing Down Mountainside in an enormous slide the High Sierras near Yosemite, practically destroyed Tanaya Lake ran cabin, rangers reported recently. At the time, no one was in the cabin, w was fortunately not directly in path of the slide. Photo shows ranger exami cabin.

For all those who love beauty and completeness.

IF YOU LOVE BEAUTY and COMPLETENESS then Palos Verdes was made for you! You may search the length and breadth of Southern California and not find the equal of the marvelous view from Montemalaga—the white-crested surf breaking on the beach below—the picturesque, curving shore line of Santa Monica Bay—the purple-tinted mountains in the distance. Spread before you as far as the eye can reach is such a panorama as rivals even the scenic wonders of the French Riviera.

WESTWARD, toward the setting sun, is the boundless blue of the Pacific with Catalina's magic isle rimming the horizon. Behind, the busy harbor of Los Angeles with Signal Hill and Long Beach glinting in the haze. Northward, the Sierra Madres—snow-tipped, massive, mysterious.

Of such is the beauty of Palos Verdes Estates as seen from its many sloping hillsides.

Comparable to this feast of splendor is the wisdom of the plan on which the Estates is being built—its architecture and its landscaping are but graceful additions to Nature's handiwork. Nationally recognized authorities have said that Palos Verdes is one of the finest achievements in community development in America.

Its system of roadways, its basic improvements, its parks, its golf course and its various shopping centres have all been planned with an eye to beauty and to permanence. For every form of outdoor sport, a more than generous provision has beeen made. One quarter of the entire Estates is dedicated to open spaces—never to be sold nor built upon. A unique and elaborate school district has been formed—school buildings, playgrounds, tennis courts, baseball fields, etc.—all such property deeded in trust to the residents. A riding academy has been built. Some 50 miles of bridle trails traverse the Estates from hilltop to water's edge. Beach developments will provide a yacht harbor and a swimming cove.

In short, Palos Verdes Estates has been created for all those in search of the better things of life and if you truly love beauty and such completeness as is found here, then Palos Verdes was surely made for you.

I'M THE GINK

I'm the overdressed ginkette. I just must show off my clothes. I go to an ordinary bridge party all dressed to a million. I wear an afternoon gown when others have on sport clothes. If my clothes aren't noticed, I make some remark about having nothing to wear. Then I sit back and purr while the other guests tell me how well dressed I am. I wear evening clothes when I know the others aren't. I make a statement about thinking it was a "dress" affair. My acquaintances know I am just showing off. I don't care. I overdress and ask you how you like it.

TILDEN IN COURT WIN OVER LOTT

Former National Champion Trims Chicagoan; Big Bill Finishes Fast

AUGUSTA, (Ga.) April 1. (AP)—William Tilden II of Philadelphia defeated George Lott, youthful Chicagoan today in the men's finals of the South Atlantic tennis tournament here, 11-9, 0-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Lott, who only recently defeated the veteran "Bill" started strong and had Tilden 5-2 in the first set before the latter started a decisive cross-fire of quick placements to even things and finally take the set.

In the second set, the University of Chicago lad opened up strong again

The Irish boxer had Whalen on the floor a third time in the fifth round for a six count. The blow struck in the sixth round that put Whalen down was a hard punch to the stomach, and above question.

Bobby Finishes Two Strokes Over Classy Field

Diminutive New Yorker Gets 69 in Last Round

PINEHURST (N. C.) April 1. (AP)—Climaxing a successful winter season on southern golf courses, Bobby Cruickshank, diminutive professional from Progress Club, New York, today added the 1927 united north and south open golf championship to his laurels.

BOBBY CRUICKSHANK.

The defending champion completed the seventy-two-hole grind in 285, two strokes ahead of Walter Hagen of Pasadena, Fla., the professional champion, who was one stroke in the lead at the end of the morning round.

Emmett French, the Southern Pines and Youngstown (O.) professional, one of the formidable contenders, finished in 292, tied with Johnny Farrell of New York and Leo Diegel of White Plains, N. Y. John Golden, Paterson, N. J., who won the southern open, turned in a 293.

In his garrison finish, Cruickshank shot a 69, while Hagen was taking a 72 for the last eighteen holes. Bobby, shooting them right from every angle, went out in 35 and in in 34, while Hagen was out in 35 and in in 37. Victory gave Cruickshank the $2000 first money prize.

Bobby held Hagen even on strokes the first nine this afternoon and gained a stroke at the twelfth when he sank a par 4 while Walter was getting a 5, another at the fourteenth, where he scored 4 to Hagen's 5, and a third on the sixteenth, when he shot a birdie 4 to Hagen's par 5.

Cruickshank parred in three at the fifteenth by driving the green and did the same on the seventeenth. It looked bad at the home hole when his second trickled into a bad lie in a trap, but he got out and sank a five-foot putt for a par four.

Hagen was short with his second at the fourteenth and took five but got a par three at the fifteenth. His second rolled into a trap at the sixteenth and he could get only a five but parred the three-shot seventeenth and finished the eighteenth with a par four.

Cruickshank's afternoon card:
Out ..... 4 4 4 4 4 3 5 3 4—35
In ..... 4 4 4 4 5 4 3 5 4—37—72
Hagen's afternoon card:
Out ..... 4 5 3 5 4 3 5 3 4—36
In ..... 4 4 5 4 4 3 5 4 4—37—73
Cruickshank's score by rounds for the two days was 68, 75, 78, 69, 285; Hagen's was 69, 73, 74, 73, 287.

DELANEY SIGNED UP FOR THREE MATCHES

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Jack Delaney, world's light-heavyweight champion, today signed an agreement to engage in three matches this year under the promotion of Tex Rickard, in one of which he will defend his title.

Pete Reilly, Delaney's manager, said the Bridgeport boxer would be ready to meet the first of his three foes in June. Mike McTigue or Tommy Loughran probably will be chosen by Rickard for the championship match.

HEYDLER SEEKS PEACE

Will Make Final Attempt to Settle Hornsby Stock Case Out of Court; Rajah Must Sell

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—President John A. Heydler of the National League today said he would offer to arbitrate the Rogers Hornsby stock tangle in a final effort to keep the case out of the courts.

Announcing that he intended to confer immediately with Hornsby and President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals in an effort to dispose of the former's holdings in the St. Louis club, Heydler described his hope of success as depending largely on convincing both men that the "best interests of the game require a compromise."

ROGERS HORNSBY

At the same time, he stood firmly by his decision barring Hornsby from the championship line-up of the New York Giants until he disposes of the stock.

"I sincerely hope we can make President Breadon and Hornsby realize that a compromise is necessary for the good of baseball," he said. "Baseball men with whom I have discussed this case seem to agree that Hornsby has

PAULINO COPS VERDICT OVER HEENEY IN SLASHING FIGHT; SALAS WINS SCRAP ON FOUL

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Staging a determined, slashing finish, Paulino Uzcudun, colorful Spanish heavyweight, clubbed his way to victory tonight over Tom Heeney, rugged New Zealander, in a bruising ten-round match before a crowd of 14,000 in Madison Square Garden.

It was a close and furious battle between two unschooled sluggers, but Paulino's superior stamina, tireless attack and damaging left hook, gave him the verdict by a two-to-one vote of the officials.

The referee, Arthur Donovan, and one of the judges decided in the Spaniard's favor, while the other judge cast his ballot for Heeney. In the opinion of most ring-side critics, Paulino carried off six rounds and Heeney four.

Paulino floored Heeney for a moment, just before the end of the first round, with a swishing left hook, staggered the New Zealander in the seventh with a smashing attack and forced the fighting throughout the last four rounds. This aggressive as well as effective finish by the stocky wood-chopper enabled him to offset Heeney's early lead, as well as the latter's shiftier boxing and defensive skill. Heeney also displayed a sharp right hand wallop that frequently brought Paulino up short and in at least two rounds, the third and sixth, staggered the basque.

It was the Spaniard's second

NEBRASKANS HEAD WESTWARD

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 1. (AP)—Accompanied by Roland Locke, world's champion 220-yard sprinter, twenty-two University of Nebraska track men left tonight for three western meets.

The Cornhuskers will meet Denver University and the Colorado Agricultural College at Denver tomorrow, University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, April 4, and University of California, April 9.

HECTIC STRUGGLE DUE AS TRACK TEAMS CLASH

Favor Occidental or Pomona to Win Thrilling Event; New Records Expected

BY BRAVEN DYER

With every event promising an abundance of thrills, the annual Southern California Conference track-and-field meet comes off at the Coliseum this afternoon. Eight institutions will be represented in the affair, the starting time having been set for 2:15 o'clock.

It is true that three of four events look like a walkaway for certain athletes, but what thrills are missing here through lack of competition will be made up for in the possibility of new records. It is a bit unique that new marks are apt to be established in events where competition is not so keen as in some others.

STEVE TURNER

This all-conference meet, the classic among smaller college teams of the Southland, has never failed to provide plenty of excitement. Two years ago Pomona and Occidental wound up the meet in a tie after a hectic afternoon, and last season the Tigers won in a thrilling finish. There is no title involved, Pomona having already copped the championship, but with eight teams entered and all athletes with no reason to hold anything back there should be plenty of fireworks. Our guess is that Pomona and Occidental will battle right up to the relay, with the two teams practically an even-money bet to finish first.

The sprinting of Murray Schultz, doughty Caltech captain, has aroused much interest this season. Today's meet marks his first sprint appearance of the year in the Coliseum. He is a heavy favorite to win both dashes, will undoubtedly better even time in each race and is therefore doped to hang up a new record of something faster than 10s. flat in the century. This mark he now holds jointly with four other sprinters.

FASTEST TIME

Schultz has been clocked in faster time than either Charley Paddock or Charley Borah this spring and the Engineer leader is out to equal his best record of the season—9.7s.—in this afternoon's meet.

Going down the line the 440 may well be the most exciting race of the day. Kjeld Schmidt of U.C.L.A. has

CARDINALS CALL OFF TRACKFEST

Rain Forces Stanford to Halt Trojan Cinder Meet in North Today

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) April 1. (AP)—The University of Southern California-Stanford track meet scheduled here for tomorrow was called off today on account of heavy rains during the past two days. It will be held here April 23.

GWYNN WILSON

The meet, considered the most important of the Coast Conference season, was postponed after a long-distance conference between Al Masters, graduate manager of Stanford, and Gwynn Wilson of U.S.C.

At the same time, the California-Stanford baseball game and a track meet between Stanford freshmen and San Francisco high school stars, both scheduled for tomorrow, were postponed but no definite future date set.

DELAY WILL AID TROJANS

"Why certainly, postpone the meet," declared Dean Cromwell, Trojan track coach, when called into consultation at U.S.C. following a long-distance call from Al Masters, the Stanford graduate manager. "The rain has quite apparently halted all preparations for the meet, and the postponement is as favorable to them as it is to us."

The three-week delay certainly will and the Trojan cause. With Cliff

Six Records Established by Track Athletes

Stewart's Mark in Pole Vault is Best of Day

Featured by the fracturing of no less than six frosh records, the annual Southern Conference frosh track and field meet was run off at Claremont yesterday afternoon with Harry Trotter's U. C. L. A. athletes copping first honors. The Bruin babes wound up with 62 points. Pomona was second with 47, closely followed by San Diego State with 36. Occidental rang up 27½ digits to grab fourth, with Caltech scoring 8 and Whittier 1.

New records were hung up by Linwood Brown of San Diego who won both the mile and two mile in 4m. 36.2s. and 10m. 16.8s., respectively; Henry Cobb of Pomona, who copped the 440 in 51.8s.; Jerry Stewart of U.C.L.A., who vaulted 12ft. 4 7-16 in.; Johnny Broze of San Diego, who placed first in the discus with a throw of 132ft. 11in., and by Clarence Bishop of Pomona and Hall of Occidental, who tied for first in the high jump at 5ft. 11½in.

Broze, a chunky individual, was high-point man of the day, ringing up 15 markers. In addition to copping the discus he won the shot and placed second to Bright of Pomona in the hammer.

Stewart's pole-vault mark and the 51.8s. quarter of Cobb were the outstanding marks of the day.

The distance running of Brown was one of the prettiest sights of the day. In both races he was challenged by Smith of U.C.L.A., but the San Diego runner finished each event without drawing a long breath. He is the best runner to appear in the conference in years. He runs without apparent effort and has plenty of speed at the finish. He should win a lot of points for Coach Peterson in the years to come. Incidentally, the San Diego team's showing was one of the pleasant features of the day and promises plenty of competition in varsity circles next year.

The Bruins had too much reserve strength for their rivals. San Diego won five first places, just as many as the U.C.L.A. team got, while Pomona dopped four and tied for another. However, Trotter's boys picked up a flock of second, third and fourth places to outscore the other squads.

Mile run—Won by Brown (S.D.); Smith (C.) second, Tenwolde (S.D.) third, Crawford (O.) fourth. Time, 4m. 36.2-10s. New record.

High hurdles—Won by Simpers (C.); Hall (O.) second, Harrison (P.) third, Bergeron (O.) fourth. Time, 16 2-10s.

440-yard run—Won by Cobb (P.); Fairbanks (S.D.) second, Daugherty (C.) third, McCarthy (C.) fourth. Time, 51 8-10s. New record.

100-yard dash—Won by Hill (C.); Gray (P.) second, Stevenson (P.) third, Castle (C.) fourth. Time, 10 2-10s.

Pole vault—Won by Stewart (C.); McCormick (C.); Garton (C.); Breuniman (C.) and Dixon (O.) all tied for second. Height, 12ft. 4 7-16in. New record.

Two-mile run—Won by Brown (S.D.); Smith (C.) second; Dunbar (O.) third, Emery (C.) fourth. Time, 10m. 16 8-10s. New record.

Discus throw—Won by Broze (S.D.); Magee (P.) second; Bowman (P.) third, Caldwell (C.) fourth. Distance, 132ft. 11in. New record.

High jump—Hall (O.) and Bishop (P.) tied for first place; Simpers (C.) third, Ayers (C.) fourth. Height, 5ft. 11½in. New record.

Shot put—Won by Broze (S.D.); Bright (P.) second; Hall (C.) third, Smith (O.) fourth. Distance, 46ft. 1in.

880-yard run—Won by Tenwolde (S.D.); McKay (C.) second; Finch (C.) third, Lewis (C.) fourth. Time, 2m. 5 4-10s.

Low hurdles—Won by Hastings (P.); Denman (O.) second, Paine (C.) third, Foster (C.) fourth. Time, 26s.

220-yard dash—Won by Wilson (C.); Rayshon (C.) second; Gear (C.) third, Castle (C.) fourth. Time, 22 2-10s.

Torrid Soccer Games on Tap for Tomorrow

Two great football machines will be seen in action at Loyola Field tomorrow afternoon when the Sons of St. George and the Hollywood Sheiks clash in the final of the challenge cup. Referee Bert Ratcliffe, dean of the whistle men in the south, will have charge of the game and will send the teams against each other at 2:30 p.m.

While each side is predicting victory, their claims have been qualified with the statement that the prize will only be won after a dour struggle. Each fears the other and neither is likely to take the field with an overabundance of confidence.

Fandom can rest assured of a brilliantly played game. The contestants represent the class of the league, and have only reached their present proud position by dint of skillful football.

Both the Sons and the Sheiks are the possessors of fast forward lines, and it is probable that the deciding factor will be the ability of the respective defenses to keep the raiders out of the danger zone.

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

DON'T be surprised if Jack Doyle stages one of the biggest fight classics of the year some time next May, maybe Decoration Day. It will be a bout between the "Wildcat" of Nebraska, Ace Hudkins, and a sweet young fighter named Joe Anderson, who fought his way into the hearts of Angelenos by his rip-snorting battle against Leo Lomski at the Olympic the other night. The first thought flash is that Anderson, a middleweight, is too big for Hudkins, a welterweight.

But, as a matter of fact, Anderson is a light middleweight. For Lomski he made 157 pounds, but he can scale at 154 pounds and be in fighting trim. Hudkins has trained down to 147 pounds for his last three local fights. This is his natural fighting weight since his graduation from lightweight ranks. It may be 150 by the time May rolls around, but at any rate whatever disadvantage Hudkins might suffer in bulk would be more than offset by requiring Anderson to make 154 pounds. And what a battle it would be. Two high-gear, willing fighters. No titles at stake, but more real he-man action than half-a-dozen championship battles.

Such a battle would be very hot right now, but unfortunately for Anderson he broke his right thumb with the looping punch which floored Lomski in the fifth round the other night. He is leaving for his home in Covington, Ky., within a few days and will rest until the injured member knits. The doctors have told him he will be unable to fight for six weeks.

Anderson's courage was exhibited to the nth degree when he fought the last five rounds in such condition, and explains why he was unable to stem the right-hand smashes of Lomski to the body in the waning rounds of the fight. In the earlier part of the bout he beat Lomski to the punch, and nearly every time the Aberdeen Assassin started one of his right-handers, he walked into a poke that made his own fall shy.

Guess who wants to fight George Godfrey? None other than Jack Roper, who, accompanied by his brother Bob Roper, has just returned from the Northwest, where he stopped Roy Cliffe. And it might not be such a bad fight at that. Jack is rough and tough, can take punishment and dole it out in big chunks. It's a cinch he would make a far better showing than did Tony Fuente against the "Black Shadow" the other night.

A terrific commotion was started in Lou Daro's office yesterday when the name of his new publicity man was revealed as Dominick Amatuzio. He was directed to write some paragraphs for the next wrestling program and sign his name, but Carnation Lou balked at the handle. Dominick suggested Stuart McKenzie, a nom de plume he enjoys as a golf writer, but Lou didn't like this because he said there are no Scotch wrestlers. Finally a compromise was hit upon and it will be Nick Amatuzio, a good Italian handle which goes with the grand and noble profession of wrestling.

CONFERENCE MEET TODAY

made the best time, 51s. flat, and is favored in some quarters to win. There are three men capable of giving him all the competition he wants. They are Willard Rew of Pomona, Worden of San Diego and the fast-traveling Ward Schweizer of Occidental, not to mention Schweizer's running mate, Graf. Rew won last year in a spectacular finish. It's anybody's race today.

The 880 and mile appear to be in the bag for Atwood Scovel, Oxy's stout-hearted, leather-lunged distance ace. Curtis of Redlands and Corwin of Pomona seem to be his only rivals and neither of these two has bettered 2m. flat, while Scovel can cut down to 1m. 58s, and a fraction without straining himself. In the mile, Dotts of Redlands and Miller of U.C.L.A. may be able to score Atwood a bit but it's doubtful.

Carleton Waite is a heavy favorite to annex the two-mile. He is the only collegiate runner in Southern California to better 10m. this season. If Frank Rentchler of Pomona can give him some real competition Waite may crack the record of 9m. 48.2s. set up Scovel last year.

TANNER FAVORED

The hurdles look like twin victories for Capt. Irvin Tanner of Occidental, who may break the record of 15.2s. in the tall barriers. Dick Bell and Steve Turner of Pomona are most likely to press Tanner in the highs, while his running mate, "Ironman" Webb looks second best in the abbreviated timber event.

Pomona hopes to win the meet by grabbing most of the points in the field. If all of the Sagehens perform up to snuff Bob Strehle's athletes will take five out of seven first places here. Webb is doped to win the shot, although Mott of San Diego may surprise. The other first place not likely to go to Pomona is the javelin, where Hoover and Anderson of Caltech are figured for first and second. One of the two seems certain to break Chuck Eaton's record of 183ft. 2in.

On past performances Fritz Heimalhalch should win the hammer for Pomona; "Link" Hall the discus; Art Lillibridge the pole-vault; Dick Bell the high jump, and either Lee Williams or French the broad jump. New records are likely in the discus, where Hall has been fairly consistent at better than 132ft. The mark of 430ft. 4in. is now held by Jimmy Coyne, the former Oxy weight phenom. Lillibridge will probably come close to Graham's pole-vault record of 12ft. 6in., while Bell has leaped within one-quarter inch of the high-jump mark.

Following are the conference records:

440-yard run—Kilby (R.) Time, 49s. flat.

880-yard run—Adkinson (P.) Time, 1m. 58s.

Mile run—Himrod (P.) Time, 4m. 26.4s.

Two-mile run—Scovel (O.) Time, 9m. 48.2s.

Low hurdles—Maxwell (P.) Time, 23.7s.

Discus throw—Coyne (O.) Distance, 130ft. 4in.

Shot-put—Coyne (O.) Distance, 43ft. 7in.

Hammer throw—Barnes (P.) Distance, 144ft. 6in.

Javelin throw—Eaton (P.) Distance, 183ft. 2in.

High jump—Voorhies (P.) Height, 6ft. 2¼in.

and swept Tilden momentarily aside, taking the set love six.

Some 1000 composed the late-day gallery that watched the finals play. A rainy court held up the match until late in the afternoon, and dusk was setting over the courts before the last set was finished.

In the semifinals this morning, Tilden defeated "Sandy" Wiener, his understudy, and also of Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-0, 6-3.

Lott won over Jack Mooney, Atlanta, in the other morning match, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

AGUILAR TO BATTLE LARRY STEAD TONIGHT

Carlo Curtis presents a sensational eight-round main event in which Vicente Aguilar, light-heavyweight champion of Mexico, faces Sailor Larry Stead at the Main-street Athletic Club tonight. The former has beaten such good boys as Tommy White, Jack Willis and Wild-Cat Ewing, and the latter finishes most of his fights by knockouts.

The latter already has offered Hornsby, I understand, $60 a share, which is slightly more than the price he paid.

"I can appreciate McGraw's viewpoint. They have bought a valuable player and they don't want to be deprived of his services. At the same time, as president of the league, I am in duty bound to protect the public against anything approaching 'syndicate baseball.'"

RAIN MAY POSTPONE BEAR-CARDINAL GAME

BERKELEY, April 1. (Exclusive)—Varsity baseball teams of California and Stanford may be disappointed in their plans to open the annual series of three games tomorrow afternoon at Palo Alto. J. Pluvius is impartial. He doesn't seem to care whether the baseball season is in blossom, or whether spring is actually here. The heavy rains of yesterday and today have swollen the playing fields to such a degree that postponement may prove inevitable.

struck out, but Hamilton punched a single to center. Purdy got the ball in near the infield but Skipper Krug waved Hood on toward home and Wally dashed into certain suicide for Pid's throw reached Jenkins in plenty of time. Jenkins lined to Callaghan for the third out.

INDIANS TIE SCORE

Seattle tied it up in the fourth with the aid of errors by Weis and Hood. Callaghan hit safely to right for a starter. Eldred also single'd to right and Callaghan went to third when Weis fumbled the grounder. Sandberg snagged Sherlock's foul fly for the first out. Hudgens squeezed Callaghan over the plate and all hands were safe when Hood bobbled the bunt. Ballenger sacrificed the runners to second and third and Hamilton then purposely walked Joe Jenkins to fill the bases. Brett forced Jenkins at second to end the round.

Wally Hood immediately put the Angels out in front again in the home half of the fourth by clouting his home run over the garden wall.

The Suds threatened in the fifth, when Brady singled and Callaghan doubled, but Weis's snag of Eldred's liner and throw to the plate to get Brady killed that rally.

KRUGS GET THREE MORE

Two hits and a couple of bad throws by Jenkins gave the Angels three more in the sixth to ice the struggle. Sandberg opened with a double to right and took third on a wild pitch. Gus stuck on third while Brandt was tossing out Hamilton. Jacobs hit to Sherlock, who threw to Jenkins, trapping Sandberg between third and home. Jenkins hit Sandberg on the hoof with the ball during the rundown and Gus arrived home safely and Jacobs pulled up at second. Cox slapped a single over second to score Jake. Brazill walked. Jenkins tried to pick Brazill off first and threw wide so Cox sprinted all the way home and Brazill went to third before Brady could get the ball back to the infield. Jahn walked, but Weis and Hood were retired to end the Angel scoring for the day.

Callaghan's single and Eldred's double gave the Suds one in the eighth and the visitors' other runs came in the ninth when Ballenger singled and scored ahead of Purdy's home-run clout into the bleachers. Score:

SERAPH SQUIBS

"You can't keep a good team down," remarked Marty Krug following yesterday's Angel win over the Suds. "Here the season's only four days old and we're tied for the lead already."

Ray Moss, the fast-ball hurler secured from Brooklyn, will attempt to make it three straight for the Angels today. Moss will be opposed on the mound by either Wilbert "Lefty" Peters or John Milius, according to Red Killefer.

Wally Hood made a couple of errors on first yesterday and the fans down near his section started riding him. "Let 'em ride," said Wally after the game, "it'll take more than them to get me down. I'm learning something every day around that initial sack and I think I'll have 'em quieted after a few more games."

Ray Jacobs kept up his hard-hitting against the Sud hurlers yesterday and continues to improve in his play around second base. Jake turned in a great play when he robbed Sherlock of a hit in the eighth inning. Ray can put up a good brand of ball on any of the infield positions and is a pretty handy athlete to have around.

"Pid" Purdy may be small in stature, but he has plenty of power. Pid socked one into the bleachers yesterday, which is a man-sized clout.

The athletes certainly took their time going through their eight and two-third innings inning session yesterday, two hours and twenty minutes being chalked up against them.

Seattle's players seem to be starting on the umpires early this season. Brett and Sherlock made a lot of what seemed uncalled-for kicks yesterday. In the Wednesday game the Indians kicked up a rumpus against Ed Goes on his decision calling Sherlock out at second. The Angel players say that Sherlock hook slid at the sack and never did touch the base and that Goes was absolutely right. From the stands it looked as if Sherlock had easily beaten the throw because the fans couldn't see that Monk's slide had stopped short of the sack.

"Chow" Becker did whisking duty on the bases yesterday so the fans got a look at his famous white socks. Becker ought to have his trousers shortened a bit, though, so the fans could get a better look at his snow-white hose.

If Ray Moss wins today's game Krug announces that he's going to give some of his young hurlers a chance to show their stuff for the rest of the season. Krug particularly likes Bruce Cunningham, the young right-hander, who looked so good against the House of David and the Chicago Cubs.

SCHAAF STOPS STONE

The Mack Truck baseball team, headed by Bill Hewins, will travel to Santa Monica to play the Santa Monica Merchants tomorrow. Hack Oswald will be on the mound for Mack Trucks with Portman doing the receiving.

ORDER VARGO TO REMATCH

The grudge between Matty Matsuda, world's welterweight champion, and Jack Vargo, rough-and-tumble mat artist from Chicago, may be settled yet, judging from a decision given out yesterday by Capt. Seth Strelinger, of the State Athletic Commission, following a recital of the facts concerning the fouling of Matty by Vargo in their mat go at the Olympic Wednesday night. Capt. Strelinger ordered Vargo to meet Matty again in a best-two-out-of-three-fall match. In the meantime, Vargo's purse for his last appearance is being held.

Albright and Wilson Annex Squash Title

Displaying the same form that carried them into finals of the national senior squash doubles championship in 1926, Kenneth Albright and Sandy Wilson won the squash doubles championship of the Hollywood Athletic Club last night, when they won two hard-fought games over Dan Jones and Kent Redwine by the scores of 27-29 and 21-19.

Jones and Redwine are the national junior squash champions and were the favorites to cop the title. Albright and Wilson have not played together for a year due to an injury to Albright that kept him out of the squash courts. Score by innings follows:

First game:
Albright-Wilson	0	9	7	1	3	0	4	1	5	—27
Jones-Redwine	3	4	0	1	6	1	1	0	3	—19

ONLY ONE NATIVE ON GLENDALE HIGH TEAM

GLENDALE, April 1.—Of the forty-five athletes on the track team of the Glendale Union High School, whose names are included in the list of those scheduled to participate in the San Diego meet today, only one, George Grey, is a native of Glendale. The rest originated in widely scattered parts of the United States, and one hails from Alaska. Only eleven native sons are included in the team, their birthplaye, ranging from Oakland to San Diego. The State of Iowa, that is usually regarded as the population supply region for almost all of Southern California, has only two of its sons on the Glendale team. The check on the birthplaces of the athletes was made in accordance with the rules of the California Interscholastic Federation, which requires a birth record of the origin of each contestant.

OXY BASEBALL NINE WILL PLAY IN NORTH

The Occidental freshman baseball squad will travel to Santa Barbara next Friday afternoon for a two-game diamond series against the Santa Barbara High athletes on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

To date, Capt. Allen De Hoag's frosh team has dropped but a single game, and that one to Franklin High. Manual Arts, Hollywood and other prep teams have taken defeat at the hands of the Eagle Rock aggregation. With De Hoag on the mound, and Kuesman, Gartner, Singer, Nathan and other former prep ball stars, included on the Bengal Babe roster, Coach Bill Anderson boasts one of the strongest Southern Conference diamond teams of the season.

RAIN HALTS THREE BEAR TRACKFESTS

Varsity, Two Frosh Events Canceled as Downpour is Unabated in North

BERKELEY, April 1. (Exclusive)—Sing a sob song for Coach Walter Christie, the grand old man of California track history. Seldom during his twenty-eight seasons as Bear mentor has the weather rained down upon Christie and his athletes as in the present year. Because of almost continual rain yesterday and today, two freshman and one varsity meet have been postponed.

The San Francisco Olympic Club, originally scheduled for battle tomorrow afternoon, will not be met until some time afte. the 16th of the month. The Frosh-Humboldt Athletic Club clash which was to follow immediately after the Olympian affair has been postponed indefinitely.

Wet grounds have spread their influence to even the "little big meet" between the California and Stanford Babes. This event is now scheduled for the 23rd inst., instead of the 9th inst. Coach Christie is certain that the "great outdoors" was never meant for his 1927 frosh and varsity teams. Just a few weeks ago the Bears emerged from a period of incessant rains. Then followed some sunshine and blue sky accompanied by numerous defeats attributed largely to lack of conditioning, and now the big deluge.

McLarnin Gets Work Started for Cello Go

Jimmy McLarnin will return to the gym today after a day's lay-off. The smiling Irish boy is already under 135 pounds, the weight named in the articles for his fight Tuesday night with Tommy Cello.

Both McLarnin and Cello tipped the beam at 133 when they boxed a draw in San Francisco a few weeks ago. Since 135 pounds is catch-weight for Cello, he is also under the mark.

McLarnin said yesterday he would try to stop Cello.

"I hope to establish myself as a drawing card in Los Angeles and I know that what fans like most is a knockout punch," said the Belfast Spider.

"Personally, I think it means just as much to outbox an opponent as to stop him, but the public doesn't. After I knocked out Fields and Sangor here I was besieged with offers from all over the country.

"I'm in good shape now. I can go the last five rounds just as hard and fast as the first five. When I boxed Snell here last September I was sick. I couldn't train. If I boxed three days in the gym I went stale."

Cello, who had Young Jack Thompson on the floor in the bout at San Francisco, has developed into a slugger. He is in good condition after his win over Eddie Kid Wagner the other night.

HAROLD MOSER ILL

The Occidental freshman baseball team lost the services of one of its crack diamond stars in Harold Moser, first baseman, yesterday afternoon when the ball star was stricken with a serious case of appendicitus.

MOSTIL LEAVES FOR HOME TOWN

SHREVEPORT (La.) April 1. (AP)—Johnny Mostil, outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, who attempted to kill himself here March 8, last, left today for his home at Whiting, Ind., to recuperate. He expects to return to the Sox line-up about May 15.

Ascot Drivers to Get Crack at New Mark

Predicting that interest in automobile racing will be greatly stimulated by the remarkable drive of Maj. Seagrave over the Florida beach a few days ago, Promoters McDougall and Luts of Ascot Speedway are planning to handle a huge throng tomorrow afternoon when the 100-mile "sixty-thrills-a-minute" race will be run.

Tremendous publicity was given the 203-miles-an-hour drive, many editorial writers proclaiming that motor-car racing will win back many devotees of road and speedway racing who had abandoned the sport for air and boat racing.

Thousands of California race enthusiasts insist that had Maj. Seagrave made his trials over the dry-lake course his speed would have been much greater. The Ascot promoters believe that there are at least six pilots who thrill the cash customers during races over the Ascot track that are able to exceed the record of the British speed king if they only had a machine with sufficient power to send it along at top speed. And as a reward for the pilot who wins the greatest number of races at Ascot between next Sunday and June 1, McDougall and Luts will provide a twin-motored, streamlined, lightweight eight-in-a-row board speedway type car for such a trial.

Among the drivers who will be favorites to win the contest for the record drive opportunity will be Eddie Windfeld, Barney Kloepfer, Francis Quinn, Dare-devil Frosty, and Speed Rinkley, all of whom will make their appearance in the 100-mile race at Ascot on Sunday.

Paulino, who holds the European championship, had an advantage in weight, scaling 199 to 193½ for Heeney.

Joe Salas, Los Angeles feather-Weight, won on a foul from Andre Routis of France in the second round of a ten-round match preliminary.

Routis was disqualified for hitting low after several warnings. The crowd booed the decision giving Salas the verdict, although Routis had hit the Los Angeles youth low several times in hot mix-ups. The Frenchman set a furious pace from the start and staggered Salas with left swings several times. Salas weighed 124½ and Routis 126.

With the exception of the broad jump, the field events were mod- erately fast. Stammen tied for first in the pole vault at 11ft. 6in. with two Poly men tied with Roland, Roman vaulter, for third place. Bill Kuehl got off a win- ning heave of 46ft. 4 1-2in. in the shot put, but Morgan failed to come through when Leahy was depending on him for second place. Morgan, however, is only a sophomore and has plenty of time to develop. Schoenberger is also improving and he threw 9ft. 10in. easily in the high jump to win the event. Wells of L. A. could get no bet- ter than a tie for second.

It is evident that Leahy is bring- ing the Mechanics along slowly for the city meet next Saturday, and the Mechanics are sure to be in the race for the championship. L. A. High has four prospective first places in Lombardi and Smith which will go a long way toward copping the title.

HOLLYWOOD TAKES MEET FROM TOILERS

Featured by Earl Callahan's great performance in the mile run, where- in he ran a dead heat with Alan Storms, Hollywood's nifty midget dis- tance man, in the astounding time of 4m. 33 2, the Manual Arts track team suffered a disgraceful defeat at the hands of the Movie City high school yesterday. The score was 58 1-3 to 36 2-3, and therein lies the disgracefulness of the performance, as the Toilers confidently expected to finish a great deal closer to the front.

Callahan's performance, and the efficient policing of the in- field by the Manual Arts authori- ties featured the meet. The Toil- er distance man was not expected to finish within hailing distance of Hollywood's star runner, al- though he himself is a capable young man. Upsetting all the dope he hung doggedly to Storms's heels during the first two laps, and sprinted into the lead on the third time around.

This was surprising, but Storms confidently continued his steady pace, expecting to see Callahan weak- en. Callahan didn't weaken, but Storms uncorked his terrific sprint on the back stretch of the last lap to pass Callahan after a terrific duel that lasted clear around the curve into the home straight-away. Calla- han seemed clearly beaten, for Storms had picked up a yard lead as they dashed into the last twenty yards. But Callahan, with a terrific burst of speed fought his way to even terms just before they hit the tape, and they rushed across the finish line together. Lindsey, also of the Toilers, ran a game race to take third honors.

Manual lost an expected fifteen- points when Al Le Febvre tripped on the third barrier of the high hurdles, landed heavily on his left leg, twisted his angle and staggered home a weak fourth.

Le Febvre was counted on for first places in the high hurdles, the broad jump and the pole vault. As it is, his two jumps taken before he went into the hurdle race earned him a tie with Vejar of Hollywood in the broad jump. He was unable to par- ticipate in the pole vault or take any additional jumps after his in- jury. The results:

880-yard run—Won by Sisson (H.). Sloan (M.) second, Lull (H.) third. Time, 2m. 4 6-10s.

100-yard dash—Won by Elwood (H.). Kelly (H.) second, Cummings (M.) third. Time, 10 6-10s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Arthur (H.). Olstad (H.) second, Miller (H.) third. Time, 16 2-10s.

440-yard run—Won by Barnes (H.). Matthews (M.) second, Kelly (M.) third. Time, 54 2-10s.

220-yard dash—Won by Kelly (H.). Elwood (H.) and Rivers (M.) tied for second. Time, 23s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Arthur (H.). Miller (H.) second, Oswald (M.) third. Time, 29 2-10s.

Mile run—Callahan (M.) and Storms (H.) tied for first, Lindsey (M.) third. Time, 4m. 33 2-10s.

Shot put—Won by Bontleman (M.). Palmer (H.) second, Turner (M.) third. Distance, 44ft. 1½in.

Broad jump—Le Febvre (M.) and Vejar (H.) tied for first, Doyen (M.) third. Distance, 20ft. 6in.

Pole vault—Won by Harm (M.). Kuhlman (H.). Rickem (M.) and Wright (M.) tied for second. Height, 11ft. 6in.

DINUBA OFF FOR TITLE GAME

DINUBA, April 1.—With departure of the first-string squad with coaches and substitutes for Palo Alto, Dinuba High School started its march toward the State prep school basketball championship today. After defeating Huntington Park last week Dinuba will play Palo Alto for the State title tomorrow night in the Stanford University pavilion.

A special train bearing more than 200 students and local fans will leave tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock for Palo Alto, returning in the evening. Coach Palfrey is relying on Capt. Keltner and E. Dick- son, Dinuba forwards, to bring home the banner for this city. On these men will fall the task of dropping the casaba in the basket. Thus far this season they have held their own against some of the strongest teams in the State and have come through with flying colors.

OBSERVATIONS

BILL HENRY

IT LOOKS a good deal as though Dean Cromwell ought to take a flying trip to San Francisco and plant a fervid kiss upon the ruby lips of the weath- er man. Too much rain, which has forced a postponement of the U.S.C.-Stanford track meet until the 23rd inst., ought to be worth a whole lot to the Trojans. Had the two teams met today the Cardinals would have been fairly top heavy favorites to win. Three weeks from today Reyn- olds and Hellman of the Trojans ought to be much improved young men and that means that the Trojans will have a better chance to win—probably an even chance.

Meantime that leaves the field clear for the Conference meet at the Coliseum today, which promises to be the most hotly contested in the history of that justly famous organization. New records seem absolutely certain in at least a half a dozen dif- ferent events and the dopesters seem to be quite unable to make any certain prediction regarding the probable winner of the meet. Pomona, the champion dual meet team, is rather generally favored with a strong sentiment that it wouldn't be at all impossible for the Oxy Tigers to finish out in the lead of the bunch.

For another thing, this leaves the U.C.L.A. Bruins making their last public appearance on the cinders as members of the Southern California Conference. They have already had their last competition in basketball and tennis and have only baseball and football next fall in which to compete with the local schools. Starting with 1928 they choose their opponents from the Coast Conference schools and they would like nothing better than to finish their local competition with one clean cut championship although such a possibility in track seems just a little re- mote since the Sagehens have al- ready copped the title.

According to the best avail- able dope it looks like a toss-up between Pomona and Oxy for the leadership in the Conference meet with the Bruins having a rather tough task ahead of them to beat the small but very select aggregation from Caltech. San Diego, Redlands, La Verne and Whittier all aught to break into the points.

CAMBRIDGE FAVORED TO WIN HISTORIC CREW RACE TODAY; AMERICAN ROWS FOR OXFORD

PUTNEY ON THAMES, April 1. (AP) The seventy-ninth Oxford-Cambridge boat race, with an American in one of the shells for the first time since 1925, will be rowed over the four- and-a-quarter-mile course from Put- ney to Mortlake on the Thames to- morrow afternoon.

"Ox" Kingsbury, husky captain of last year's undefeated Yale crew, is the American in tomorrow's English university rowing classic. He sits in the Oxford boat, thus, carrying on a tradition of American oarsmen, who have worn the Dark Blue colors Cambridge, as usual since the World War, is the favorite.

The first Oxford-Cambridge race was at Henley in 1829, and Oxford won easily. The event has been annual since 1841. Ox- ford has won forty races against thirty-seven by Cambridge. A dead heat resulted in 1877, while in 1912, two races were staged because both boats sank in rough water during the first race. In 1925 the Oxford boat became waterlogged, and Cambridge won by thirty lengths.

The race is one of the most gruelling tests collegiate oarsmen ever set themselves. Rowed up-river, through the heavy waters of the Thames, on the crest of the tide, but often under adverse conditions of wind and weather, it calls for su- preme skill, endurance and water- craft.

The English stroke because of the smaller length of the slide, the shorter oar and the off-center posi- tion of seats, is quite different from the American stroke. Americans are introduced to the mysteries of the English stroke by the process known as "tubbing," rowing in a two-oared wherry with a coach aboard. On his first trip on the narrow Isis at Oxford, Kingsbury pulled to lustily on his oar that he threatened to snap it in two. The Oxford rowing authorities provided "Ox" with an oar of extra-heavy strength.

Midwick Teams Clash in Polo Tilt Tomorow

One of the most interesting polo tilts of the season is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the Midwick Country Club where the White and Purple riders meet in a special match game in which all the high-goal mem- bers of the local club will take part. Arthur Perkins and Carleton Burke are lined up for the Purples with Ted Miller and Eric Pedley on the White squad. This is another one of those club games where intense rival- ry exists and is sure to be a nip-and- tuck affair from the first throw-in. Perkins and Burke form a very strong defensive combination for the Purples and they will be perfectly at home at No. 3 and back, having played these positions for several seasons on the championship "big four." Opposing them will be Ted Miller at No. 2 and Eric Pedley at No. 3, the other half of the "big four," so there will be plenty of tough opposi- tion for all concerned.

J. A. Wigmore and Neil McCarthy will do the scoring honors for the Purples while Jim Spaulding and Jack Holt complete Pedley's team.

Thanks to the recent rains, the field is in perfect shape for a good fast game and there is no doubt but that it will be plenty speedy. Pedley and Perkins alone would enliven the game enough to satisfy most anyone but with Miller and Burke likewise in the fray, the contest is apt to be one of the best of the season.

The line-up:

Purples		Whites
J. A. Wigmore	No. 1	Jim Spaulding
Arthur Perkins	No. 3	Eric Pedley
Carleton Burke	Back	Jack Holt

JEFFERS SETS NEW MARK AT VICTORIA

Dallas Jeffers, popular Parkridge professional, knocked three strokes off the old course record when he navigated the Victoria Country Club course of Riverside in an even 70, one under par. J. M. Read's old record of 73 has stood without difficulty since it was first established. Jeffers was one over par on the first nine holes, but two birdies and even par on the other seven holes in the home part of the round enabled him to es- tablish his new mark. The card:

Par out	4	4	4	5	2	4	4	3	—35
Jeffers	4	4	5	6	3	4	4	5	—35
Par in	4	5	4	3	4	5	3	5	—37

FREMONT SHOWS FORM ON TRACK

Rough Riders Will Have to Go to Cop Title

Final Contest to be Staged at Coliseum Friday

Coach Otto Johnson's Fremont High School track squad is going to give the Roosevelt Rough Riders a tough struggle for the Minor City League track championship Friday afternoon at the Coliseum if yes- terday's results in the semifinal events staged at the Garfield High School field between the six schools in the minor loop are any criterion. The Fremont and Roosevelt boys ran neck and neck all afternoon in the tryouts. They left the other schools, Garfield, Harding, Fairfax and Belmont, far in their wake in the chase for qualifiers for the meet on Friday.

The meet was featured by several fast performances by Townes of Roosevelt and Pierson of Belmont, and the display of strength on the part of the Fremont team. Coach McClure's Roosevelt team which has captured the championship the last two times out has a number of fast performers in Townes, Bowdan, Gross. They qualified twenty-six men for the finals next week. The Fremont team will start about the same number in the finals. Phil Pierson of Bel- mont, turned in the best time of the day when he ran the third heat of the 100-yard dash in 10s. flat.

Townes of Roosevelt, who is con- sidered a sure-point winner for the Rough Riders, won both of his heats in the low and high hurdles in an easy fashion. Johnny Tartar of Gar- field, ran away with his heat in the mile event. Over 300 boys turned out for the tryouts yesterday in both the lightweight and varsity classes. Most of the fields were so large that the events were run off in three heats. In the Class C events, the Fremont and Roosevelt youngsters ran about even, with the Fre- mont team having little advantage. The officials under Tommy Davis and W. Haney ran off the affair in a business-like fashion, staging the numerous events without any de- lays.

NEITZEL LEADS IN LOS SERRANOS PLAY

Earl Neitzel contributed a sparkling 80 to lead the entire field as well as the scratch-to-eight division in the Los Serranos invitational tour- nament under medal play yesterday. Capt. W. W. Beckwith, with an 83, was nearest to the leader. In the nine-to-fourteen class, H. G. Benton topped his rivals with an 87, while A. Jergins was second with 89. W. H. Derwin and A. P. Hansen, with 85 and 86, respectively, were in front in the third division of 15-to-18 handicap men. Some fifty golfers participated in the play yesterday and larger crowds are expected today and tomorrow.

DETROIT WILL CARRY SUBSTITUTE INFIELD

DETROIT, April 1. (AP)—The eye in- jury which temporarily incapacitated Warner, regular Detroit third base- man, has led to the determination by Manager Mornarity to carry an en- tire substitute infield this season. Warner's absence from the line-up leaves a big gap in the infield and is said to have impressed the Tiger manager with the necessity for a strong secondary defense.

Warner was struck with a batted ball Wednesday at the club training

HAWAIIAN MERMEN SHOW HERE

Woodd and Kahanamoku in Water Carnival at Ambassador Pool

Two famous Hawaiian swimming stars, Duke Kahanamoku, who is known to every swimming fan, and the latest aquatic wonder from the little island in the Pacific, Johnny Woodd, will head an all-star water carnival bill today at the Ambassador Hotel, where a se- ries of events will be staged which will mark the opening of the outdoor season here. The fa- mous flying Duke and his fellow-countryman will swim fifty yards against time in the Ambassador pool. A number of other stars will take part in the meet, which consists of five swimming events and a water polo contest between the Girls' Club of Venice and the Hollywood A. C. team.

JOHNNY WOODD.

One of the features of the after- noon will be the appearance of Bet- ty Becker Pinkston, Olympic diving champion, who will give an exhibition with her team-mate, Dorothy Poyn- ton. The list of events:

100 meters free-style race for men.

CORBETT TO FIGHT WILLS IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND (Cal.) April 1. (AP)—Young Corbett of Fresno and Young Harry Wills, negro welterweight of San Diego, have been matched by Promoter Tommy Simpson for a ten- round bout at Oakland Auditorium, the 13th inst. Both are hard punch- ers with Corbett fighting with the right foot and arm extended. Wills's winning streak was marred recently when he was stopped by the veteran Lew Tendler, at Los Angeles but he has a big Oakland following. In three starts here he stopped his man on each occasion, the last being Jim- my Duffy.

KLICK WINS BATTLE FROM BARTLETT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (AP)—Frankie Klick, San Francisco feath- erweight, won an easy six-round de- cision over Ollie Bartlett, St. Paul, at Dreamland Rink tonight. The San Francisco boy had a weight advan- tage of nearly eight pounds. He used it to advantage, scoring stead- ily with hard punches to the body to take five of the rounds. The first was fairly even.

GIANT SHORTSTOP ILL

MEMPHIS, April 1. (AP)—Travis Jackson, shortstop for the New York Giants, was operated upon in a hos- pital here for appendicitis tonight. Jackson was stricken while on a train en route from Chattanooga to Jackson, Tenn., last night.

GIRARD SCENE OF TITLE PLAY

The annual Southern California intercollegiate golf champ- ionships will be decided over the Girard Country Club links May 6, 7 and 8, according to an announcement made late last night. Harold Thompson of the University of California at Los Angeles will be a heavy favorite to take the laurels, havink finished well up in the State play at Del Monte re- cently. Other prominent en- tries are "Doc" Hilliard of U.S.C., Johnny Gaines of Red- lands, who is the Griffith Park champion, and Frank Knox, al- so of U.C.L.A.

Beauty Star Turf Victor at Tia Juana

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, April 1. Beauty Star, formerly of the string of W. T. Anderson, now racing for Ramsey & Rowe, won the Navajo Claiming Handicap, feature of the first day of the blaze of glory, final three days of the annual winter race meeting of the Tia Juana Jockey Club here, today. Beauty Star got a nose decision over Tormentor in a stretch duel with Bronx getting in for the show. The latter looked all over a winner as the field swung into the stretch, but was carried to the outside fence and practically lost all chance when the leaders went wide.

First race, four and one-half furlongs, purse $800, for 2-year-olds—Bon Fille (Austin) won, Civility (Demarest) second, Sun Kin (Tarlin) third. Time, 0:55.

CALIFORNIA FROSH READY FOR STANFORD

BERKELEY, April 1. (Exclusive)—Coach Burt King's surprising Californ- nia freshman baseball team, which has been on the upclimb ever since its defeat of the St. Mary's frosh by a 10-to-0 score, after the Saints had twice licked the Bear Babes, looks with eagerness toward the first game of the Stanford series tomorrow af- ternoon on the Berkeley diamond. Since their beating of the Saints, King's freshman have established an unbroken line of victories over the best prep teams in the bay region. If the present policy of few errors in the field and snap at the bat continues, the Bears should cap the season with a glorious set-back for the Cardinalettes. Both squads were whipped several times in early sea- son matches.

FIELDS IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Jackie Sure He Will Knock Out Mandell in Ring Go Monday

Jackie Fields, the Coast challenger who meets Sam- my Mandell Monday evening in the twelve- round main event of Dick Donald's show at Wrigley Field, has plenty of it.

Sammy Mandell

Fields generall- ly worries before a fight. He doesn't fret be- cause he lacks courage, but he is always anxious to get in the ring and have it over with.

With this fight he is entirely different. His work in the gymnasium is spirited and he laughs and jokes with his sparring partners while he is boxing.

Fields really believes that he will knock Mandell out. He has never punched so good in his career as a fighter and even his manager is sur- prised at the viciousness he puts in his work.

Mandell worked light yesterday. He pulled and hauled with his spar- ring partners and did not wear a sweat shirt or a set of full-length tights. Sammy is lower than the re- quired weight and he doesn't want to go down any further.

Immediately after the battle Man- dell and his manager, Eddie Kane, will depart for the East. The cham- pion figures on a campaign this summer which will include every worthy challenger in the country.

GAMMA EPSILON IN BASEBALL VICTORY

Hammering the offerings of Rocky Kemp with rare consistency, the Gamma Epsilon baseball team won its first round game in the annual interfraternity championship play at U.S.C. yesterday, defeating Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 9 to 4, on Jefferson Playground. Clayton Pickup had the enemy baffled, yielding but five hits. Ragged support aided the S.A.E.'s. The triumphant Gamma Ep team, composed of Pomroy, shortstop; Abbott, second base; Conti, third base; Beardsley, first base; Rogers, catcher; Pickup, pitcher; Lichty and Cox, right field; Daldon, center field, and Smith, left field, will enter the second round of play along with Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Tau, Delta Chi and three other teams yet to be de- cided. The score:

	R.	H.	E.

BOSTON FINANCE CHIEF OPTIMIST

Trade Forecast for Next Six Months is Rosy

Marvels at City's Growth in Fifteen Years

Business in this country will continue at the present high level for the next six months at least, in the opinion of George W. Treat of Boston, president of E. H. Rollins & Sons, international investment bankers, who is in Los Angeles for a short visit. Because of the large reservoir of capital available for investment he believes there is nothing in sight to halt the progress of business.

Mr. Treat, internationally known as an authority on financing, particularly industrial, has been a member of E. H. Rollins & Sons for twenty-six years. He has risen from the ranks, holding every important position from sales manager to his present post as director and head of the organization. He was made president of the company in July, last, following the death of Walter H. Seavey, former head.

This is Mr. Treat's first visit to Los Angeles and Southern California in fifteen years, and he said yesterday that the progress made here during that time is amazing to him. He professed that Los Angeles will continue to grow, and will shortly be the most important port and shipping point for the Orient on the Pacific Coast.

In speaking of the Southern California Edison Company, the first financing of which was floated twenty-five years ago by his organization, Mr. Treat observed that this utility is unique among the public service companies of the nation in that it represents an actual 100 cents on the dollar on the par value of both common and preferred shares. In other words, he explained, there is not a cent of "watered" stock. He believes the Edison company will always maintain its identity and continue to grow along with the territory it serves.

"New financing will continue at the present rapid pace as long as the prosperity of the nation continues," Mr. Treat continued. "I also expect bond prices, which are now at record levels, to continue at their present marks or higher for the remainder of the current year. Foreign securities remain popular among investors and their prices should hold at the corresponding high levels. I believe the existing differential between the price of foreign and domestic securities will be maintained.

"E. H. Rollins & Sons has watched the growth of Los Angeles and Southern California and with it the corresponding progress of their Los Angeles office. We have a great deal of respect for Southern California securities and regard this field as most important, and almost unlimited in its possibilities."

SCHERER ADDED TO STAFF OF SEABOARD

O. C. Williams, vice-president of the institution, yesterday announced the appointment of Joseph B. Scherer as assistant manager of the foreign department of the Seaboard National Bank, of this city. Before coming to Los Angeles recently, Mr. Scherer was connected with well-known eastern banks. He is a native of Lucerne, Switzerland, and a graduate of European universities. He is an accomplished linguist, speaking five languages fluently, and has a diploma from the Swiss Mercantile Society.

OFFICERS OF BANK CHAIN TO BANQUET

Bank of Italy Will Act Host to Staff Members in Southern Division

As the first step in the new plan of organization and administration of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association, whereby Los Angeles was created as a regional division of the bank's operations, a dinner will be given this evening at the Los Angeles Biltmore at which approximately 800 officials of the bank will gather.

In the Southern California jurisdiction the bank has 119 branch managers, 800 members of advisory boards, eighty-two regional board members, all of whom will be at the dinner, together with a large number of guests. Honor guests will include seventeen officials of the bank from the San Francisco division as follows:

A. P. Giannini, chairman of the advisory committee; James A. Bacigalupi, president; L. Scatena, chairman of board of directors; L. M. Giannini, vice-chairman of board of directors, and A. J. Mount, A. Pedrini, W. W. Douglas, W. E. Glauer, Leo V. Belden, A. J. Gock, George A. Webster, A. E. Scarboro, Edward C. Aldwell, A. E. Burmister, Louis Ferrari, A. W. Hendrick, John M. Grant and F. C. Hale, vice-presidents.

Orra E. Monnette, vice-chairman of the board of directors and the general executive committee and chairman of the regional board, will be master of ceremonies. The following speakers will address the meeting: Charles C. Chapman, on the subject of "A Point of Honor;" George A. Davidson, "San Diego and Imperial Valley;" Roger W. Andrew, "The Horn of Plenty;" Harold J. Stonier, "Banking and Education," and James A. Bacigalupi, "The New Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association."

The territory served from the Los Angeles division includes Kern and Santa Barbara counties and south to the Mexican border.

RICHFIELD LEADS OIL PRICE RALLY

Bank of Italy Reaches New Record High at 685; Edison Common Strong

While oil shares were taking their slump on the New York Stock Exchange following receipt of news of the crude oil and gasoline price cuts here on Thursday, this group as a whole recovered slightly on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday from the drastic decline of the previous day.

Richfield led the recovery with a gain of 2½ points to a close at 17½ for a large turnover. Union Oil of California rallied to 42 for a net gain of 5-8 of a point, while Union Oil Associates advanced 1 1-4 points to 41 1-4. California Petroleum closed fractionally lower at 26 1-4 and Standard Oil of California was off 1-4 to 54 3-4. Julian preferred was firm at 8 5-8 at the close. Rio Grande sold off sharply in the morning to 12, but rallied with strength in the afternoon and closed firm at 18.

Southern California Edison common continued in demand at 33½, where it closed with a large volume of trading. Bank of Italy established a new record high for all time at 685, a net gain of 4½ points. Bancitaly was off 1-4 to 110. Bancitaly rights sold off 5 cents to 2.95. Los Angeles Investment declined 1½ cents to 2.82.

Gold Ore weakened in the afternoon after adding 2 cents in the morning and closed at 19½. New Gibraltar lost 1½ cents to 13½. Boundary Cone was off ¼ cent to 7 and North Star and Oatman United were firm at 4½ and 4, respectively.

Three Issues of Bonds Called by Land Bank Body

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—All Federal Land Bank bonds due in 1937, 1938 and 1939 were called today by the Federal Farm Loan Board. The total is approximately $93,000,000. The bonds will be redeemed at the bank of issue or any Federal Reserve bank or branch on May 1. The bonds have reached the callable period and it was felt that the present easy money market would enable the Farm Loan Board to sell a lower-rate bond than those due in 1937-39.

The call of the 4½ per cent bonds was seen in Treasury circles as indicating that the Farm Loan Board would offer a new issue at a lower interest rate before May 1.

DEPARTMENT STORES GAIN

Pacific Coast Stores Show Sales Increased for 1926; This Year Starts Off Well

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Uniformly, the sales of Pacific Coast department stores in 1926 were well above the previous year, and were equally satisfactory for the first two months of this year, as reflected by the reports published recently. As an index of business conditions they fit easily into the picture of economic progress in the Pacific Coast States.

The Federal Reserve Board, reviewing business conditions in the United States as of March 15, remarked that retail trade since the first of the year reflected less than the usual seasonal decline, sales of the department stores generally running higher in February than in the corresponding month of 1925. It is interesting to know that the department store chains on the Pacific Coast report the same note of cheerfulness.

SCHLESINGER INDEX

Typical of the trend of sales on this Coast, B. F. Schlesinger & Sons, Inc., operating four stores in Portland, Oakland, Tacoma and San Francisco, stated in its annual report that 1927 started off propitiously, with sales ahead of last year and stocks of merchandise lower than a year ago. For the twelve months of 1926, this chain reported a total gain in volume of sales of $1,500,000. After all charges, the balance available for dividends was $395,886.44, equivalent after preferred dividends to $3.76 on the common stock.

In this chain, touching all parts of the Pacific Coast with the exception of Los Angeles, the report indicates that sales increased in each city where Schlesinger operates. This would indicate a uniformity of retail demand in the Coast cities, reflecting a rising trend of purchasing power.

BROADWAY UP

As for Los Angeles, the retail business of this city is adequately traced by the sales of the Broadway Department Store, recently entering the ranks of publicly owned companies through Dillon-Read financing. Sales of this store in 1926 increased $1,514,056 over 1926 to a total of $18,499,554, a gain of about 9 per cent. Net profits before Federal taxes, amounted to $1,290,620, as against $1,197,127 for 1926. Net earnings were calculated after deducting interest for November and December on the 6 per cent debentures recently sold.

Department store sales in Los Angeles are further reflected by the report for 1926 of the May Department Stores, the fiscal year ending on January 31, 1927. The total was $100,522,926, against $97,117,891 in the previous fiscal year. Undoubtedly the contribution of the Los Angeles store to this volume was substantial, as this unit has been one of the most profitable in the May chain.

In San Francisco, the Emporium Corporation also adds to the record of sales increases on the Pacific Coast. Sales last year increased 5.14 per cent over 1925 to a total of $19,719,139, and net earnings were the equivalent of $3.63 a share.

As long as the department stores are selling more goods and making money, there is little reason to doubt the genuineness of the fair weather signals from the other business barometers.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, April 1. (By wireless)—General securities were depressed again today by sales for new week's settlement, but gilt-edged issues were firm.

The new consolidated loan sold at a premium which is the more notable in view of the fact that revenue figures show a deficit of £36,000,000, which is rather larger than had been expected. The big deficit, however, was due entirely to reduced income tax payments which are probably more delayed than lost. The actual sum due during the year could not have been affected by the trade troubles having been assessed on the previous year's income.

The national debt services cost £14,000,000 above the estimate partly through nonreduction of the debt by the amount anticipated and partly due to the fact that money rates were higher than had been expected, thus increasing the cost of floating new debts.

Oils continued weak, owing to the competition of cheap coal and to talk of a further cut in petroleum prices by independent firms.

INCOME OF BAY CITY WATER UTILITY UP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Net income for 1926 of the Spring Valley Water Company, serving peninsula consumers, as reported to stockholders today by President S. P. Eastman, amounted to $2,042,927, or $7.30 per share. This is an increase of $11,299 over 1925. Gross revenue for the year was $6,488,573, or a gain of $288,335 over 1925. After paying $1,680,000 in dividends the company added $114,465 to surplus, which has advanced in total from $3,313,606 a year ago to $3,427,416 at the end of 1926. Total assets are $76,487,125, a gain of $700,000.

TEXAS AREA BANNER SPINACH PRODUCER

CRYSTAL CITY (Tex.) April 1. (Exclusive)—Crystal City, as is generally known, is the greatest shipping point for spinach in the world, and ranks with the leading Texas towns of the Winter Garden district in the shipment of other vegetables. Up to the present time, in the season 1926-1927, Crystal City has a total vegetable shipment of 2941 carloads, as follows: Spinach, 1869 carloads; onion plants, 38; sweet peppers, 18; mixed vegetables, 16.

AGED LUMBERMAN DIES

KANSAS CITY, April 1. (AP)—W. R. Pickering, 77 years of age, chairman of the board of directors of the Pickering Lumber Company, died here today. He was one of the most extensive manufacturers of yellow pine in Southern States.

TRADING ON LOCAL MART IN MARCH UP

Transactions on Exchange Total $21,117,848; Second Largest Monthly Figure

Transactions on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during the month just closed showed a total value of $21,117,848, the second largest total for a single month in the history of the exchange, it was announced yesterday by J. J. Marx, statistician of the exchange. The total was exceeded only by March, 1926, when an aggregate valuation of $26,594,176 was reported.

Sales for the first three months of the current year amounted to $58,978,762, as compared with $55,808,054 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of slightly more than $1,000,000. While this is a small increase it does not indicate the growth in volume as March, 1926, was the peak for the year, while indications for April point to even larger sales than the previous months of this year, Mr. Marx pointed out.

Oil stocks continued to lead the activity on the local exchange during the month just closed, a total volume of 1,506,796 shares with a value of $15,591,581.01 being recorded. Mining stocks showed the largest number of shares traded, amounting to 2,482,500. The value, however, of this volume was only $340,367.50. There were 23,685 shares of bank stock sold with an aggregate value of $3,085,387.25. Public utility issues were traded in to the extent of 43,725 shares with a total valuation of $1,505,590.99.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 1. (Exclusive)—A reaction in the later trading at Liverpool which futures there closed barely steady at a net decline of 3 to 6 of their points for the day against unchanged quotations due caused enough local selling here to send prices off in this market 12 to 14 points from their closing of yesterday. May declined to 14.04 cents by shortly after 2 o'clock, July, 14.24 cents; October, 14.48 cents and December, 14 3-4 cents. Trading was only moderately active as there was not much outside or southern selling.

The market was not weak, merely showing a dragging tendency. The weather in the belt was more unfavorable with more heavy rains in the Arkansas and Memphis district the feature. It will further delay farm work in that section and cause more menace of probable flood damage. This with the Giles preliminary report on the new crop situation and the heavy export clearances held the market in a steady position at the decline.

The Giles report shows a prospect for a decrease of 16 per cent in the acreage, but states that this is merely a tentative estimate subject to change. About 88 per cent of the area has been prepared against 94 last year with 5 per cent of last year's crop reported in the fields up to March 15. This compares with the Chicago report of yesterday for a probable decrease of 8.7 per cent in the acreage.

SECURITIES TRUST IN ANNUAL MEETING

INTERNATIONAL OF AMERICA REPORTS EARNINGS OF 14 PER CENT NET

Resources exceeding $23,000,000 and consisting of securities and cash were reported to shareholders of International Securities Trust of America at the annual meeting held Monday in Boston. Earned reserves and surplus exceeded $1,140,000 at the conclusion of the last fiscal year on November 30, 1926. Eight million dollars has been paid in on bonds, $9,504,000 on preferred shares and $5,637,000 on common shares.

The annual report submitted to shareholders by William R. Bull, president, showed cash earnings, after taxes, covering the last fiscal year of over 14 per cent on the average capital over this period. Net earnings, before appropriation to reserves, were $1,380,000, of which $367,000 was paid out in dividends on Class A common and $1,013,000 appropriated to reserves and surplus.

"The trust holds more than 500 investments," says Mr. Bull's report, "which comprise various bonds and stocks, all of a seasoned character, with good marketability, representing practically all stable lines of industry and originating in over thirty different countries."

JULIAN MERGER TERMS READY

Preferred Stockholders to Get 3.4 Shares

Voting Trust Proposed for Control of Company

Meeting Called in Olympic Auditorium for 14th

Under the terms of the Julian Petroleum-California Eastern Oil consolidation, which stockholders of the Julian company will be asked to approve at a special meeting on the 14th inst., holders of Julian preferred will receive three and approximately four-tenths of a share of California-Eastern for each share of preferred, and holders of Julian common will receive one-half share of California-Eastern. This announcement, which has been pending for several days, was made last night from the offices of the Julian company.

The stockholders' meeting, according to the notices going into the mail today, has been called for the purpose of approving and authorizing the officers to conclude the merger and transfer of Julian assets into the California-Eastern Oil Company.

Aside from the terms of exchange into California-Eastern, the stockholders at this meeting will consider another important measure that will be submitted by the management of the California-Eastern. A plan will be offered to create a voting trust to insure the continuity of the management, the voting trustees to include H. J. Bauer, L. E. King, John E. Barber, S. C. Lewis and C. W. Durbrow.

The creation of the voting trust, as it was explained at the Julian offices, will permit the issuance of voting trust certificates to Julian stockholders, which may be dealt in on the stock markets where California-Eastern is listed. It is planned to list the voting trust certificates on the New York Stock Exchange, San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange and the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

From the personnel of the voting trustees proposed it appears that the interests identified with the financing recently announced, and their associates, will dominate the management of the California-Eastern Oil Company.

The meeting will be held in the Olympic Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Richfield Gets Crude Contract From U.S. Navy

Plans for deliveries of fuel oil to the United States Navy, under a contract with the Richfield Oil Company approved at Washington this week, were agreed upon at San Diego Thursday between J. C. Graves, general sales manager of the Richfield company, and Capt. Clayburn, chief of the purchasing department at the San Diego naval base. The announcement was made by the Richfield company yesterday.

The quantity is not specified, but may exceed 450,000 barrels. Deliveries are to be made during April, May and June at Richfield's marine terminal at Long Beach. Three tankers are to be loaded during April. The peak demand is expected in June when the United States fleet, now in the West Indies, will be in Southern California waters.

Bids upon the contract were mailed here March 24. "Navy bunker C fuel oil" is specified. Richfield has had gasoline contracts, but this is the first fuel-oil contract with the Navy that the company has obtained.

CHARTER SOUGHT BY SAWTELLE NATIONAL

WASHINGTON, April 1. (Exclusive) The Treasury Department announced today that an application to organize was received from the Bay City National Bank of Sawtelle, Cal., with a capital of $50,000. The correspondent is W. E. Carnahan, care First National Bank, Culber City, Cal. The department also approved the application to convert the First National Bank of Fallbrook, Cal., with a capital of $25,000. It is the conversion of the Citizen's Commercial Bank of Fallbrook, Cal.

Business Philosophy

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

I know a family of six brothers, all of whom are now in middle age.

The fourth in age could buy out all his brothers from the balance in his personal checking account.

At family reunions he tells these brothers that he attributes his success to an accident.

This man is a cripple, one leg having been cut off above the knee in his youth.

He would give his entire fortune to have this member replaced, but he says that being crippled has compelled him to apply himself to self-improvement in a direction that would otherwise not have been agreeable.

His more fortunate brothers followed the natural path of least resistance, and which led to mediocrity.

If any of us want anything, and want it strongly enough, nature seems to supply us with the strength to get it—or something better.

It is all in the will, and obstacles merely exercise the will, and are, therefore, a means for creating strength.

BOND ADVANCE INDICATED

NEW YORK, April 1. (Exclusive)—Demonstrations in the stock market have been plentiful in the three months just ended, but as the second quarter of 1927 begins the bond market commands especial attention. Since the turn of the year $1,660,000,000 in new bond issues have been offered for public subscription as against $1,200,000,000 a year ago and more than for any similar period in history. This enormous flow of new capital issues not only has been readily absorbed but has left the market hungry for more. Despite the omission of bonds in such large quantities prices have worked steadily higher.

The current yield on a representative lot of bonds in various groups is about 4.53 per cent, which compares with 4.65 per cent a year ago, against a yield in excess of 6 per cent at the 1920 peak. As the market for bonds has persistently improved since the low of 1920, the yield conversely has persistently fallen. The decline in yield over the last six years has not yet carried it down to the levels that prevailed before this country entered war. This is one reason why the authorities in Wall street still entertains the belief that the bond market is headed upward.

They recognize that even at present prices as reflected in the yelds, bonds are not any higher than they were back in 1914 and 1915 and 1916. They also point to the injection of a larger proportion of funds into the bond market in the near future as the $500,000,000 in dividends to be disbursed today is turned into reinvestment channels. Aside from the many other influences at work in the bond market, the falling trend of commodity prices has been a constructive influence. It is no accident that a chart of bond yields since 1920 looks very much like a chart of commodity prices.

As the purchasing power of the dollar has increased with the decline in commodity prices, the value of fixed-interest bearing obligations has naturally swollen. The income from a $1000 bond back in 1920 did not buy much, for living costs were high. The income from a $1000 bond at the present time will buy much more than then, for living costs have fallen. There is, therefore, a direct relation between the trends in commodity and bond values. The general direction of the commodity trend for the last six years has been distinctly favorable to a rising bond market and it is the prospect entertained in many quarters for a continued gently falling commodity price level on which prophets base their expectation on a continued gently rising bond level.

County Issues List Showing Taxable Liens

A partial list of corporation stocks and bonds which are subject to assessment at 7 per cent of the estimated taxable percentage has just been compiled by F. J. McDevitt, deputy county assessor of Los Angeles county, it was announced yesterday.

The compilation includes 160 leading issues of securities held by investors, banks and bond houses in this territory. The list was prepared in response to queries from numerous taxpayers desiring to know to what extent each security owned is taxable.

WOOL MART QUIET WITH PRICES FIRM

BOSTON, April 1. (AP) — The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The wool market continues moderately active with prices hardly changed for the week. Some further business for export is reported at steady rates. In the west the market has been quiet.

"The foreign markets keep very strong, especially the primary markets. London was a bit easier during the past week but substantially above the closing of the last series, at the close yesterday.

"The goods market develops slowly but appears more resilient than at this time last year.

"Mohair is in moderate request at prices no more than steady. All bids were rejected at the Kerrville sale Thursday.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1927, to March 31, 1927, inclusive, were 47,904,000 pounds against 61,925,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1927, to March 31, 1927, inclusive, were 73,792,800 pounds against 106,394,700 pounds for the same period last year."

Survey Reports Warm Weather Helping Trade

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

The return of spring-like weather and the nearer approach of Easter has livened up wholesale and retail trade and outdoor industry, especially building and farming. Advices are, however, generally uniform that buying at wholesale is very conservative, and indications are that the ground lost in wholesale trade in February has not been entirely recovered. Retail trade shows relatively more life than does wholesale business. Effects of the expected soft-coal strike are being discussed rather for their bearing upon general trade in mining areas than because of any marked immediate influence upon the fuel trades themselves.

The general feeling as March closed is that business volume is, as a whole, slightly below that of the first quarter of 1926, though not enough to indicate any marked reaction.

Weekly bank clearings: $9,211,889,000; a decrease of 13.2 per cent from last year.

VICTORY'S BELL RINGS AGAIN

Silent for nearly a century and a quarter, the old ship's bell of Lord Nelson's flagship, Victory, was recently rung in the presence of a gathering of distinguished persons in St. George's Hall in Liverpool, given for the benefit of seamen's institutes. The bell is held sacred by the English people, and considerable official formality attended the release of the bell for this occasion. It could not have been accomplished for any other cause.

THE INVESTOR

NEW YORK, April 1.—A wide divergence of opinion has existed among bankers in Wall street for some time regarding the outlook for building operations and real estate values in the United States. To help clarify the situation the Greenebaum Sons Investment Company recently conducted a rather unique survey, the results of which should prove interesting to investors, particularly those who own real estate bonds.

Questionnaires were sent to prominent bankers in 125 cities of this country with a population of 50,000 or more asking them to reply to eight important questions on real estate conditions. The replies indicated general satisfaction with the situation and a belief that present values will be maintained for the next year or so, at least.

Thirty-four replied that in their opinion the saturation point had not been reached in all types of new buildings in their particular cities, while fifteen answered to the contrary and seventy-six were divided in their opinions.

To a question of whether there was an abnormal amount of new construction work in process in their communities, eighty-two answered in the negative and only two in the affirmative, while the answers of forty were divided.

Another important question asked was as to whether rental demand had been such as to maintain fairly well the prices established in recent years. The answers were: Sixty-seven, yes; ten, no; and forty-eight, opinion divided.

The other questions were along somewhat similar lines, and answers indicated generally satisfactory conditions. In view of the fact that the replies were from bankers who frequently make real-estate loans and who should be thoroughly familiar with conditions the survey should be given more than the ordinary consideration. It ought to be much more informative than those usually made, which are based entirely on building permits and which fluctuate widely on account of various reasons, such as weather conditions and speculative activities.

While there appears to be little doubt that the peak of building activities in this country has been passed for the next few years, at least, such surveys as the one conducted by the Greenebaum Sons Investment Company should go a long way toward preventing over building and over loading on real estate which, in turn should help to prevent a severe depression in values and add to the safety of real estate bonds in general.

O'FALLON CASE DECISION 'D...

Stock Prices Continue ... in Opposite Direction

Buying Generally Limited to Issues of Proven Merit

Further Liquidation by Group Takes Place

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—In today's stock market continued move in opposite directions, buying of a highly selective character and generally limited to issues of proved investment merit. The decision of the State Commerce Commission in the O'Fallon case, holding valuations for rate making purposes should be determined on the basis of 1914 prices and ... stead of the much higher prices of later years, proved a "dud" so far as its effect on the market was concerned.

Professional speculators for the decline offered rails freely at the opening, with resultant declines of 2½ points in numerous issues. A strong buying support was soon provided. Early losses were ... or wiped out and a few issues ... mounted to record high levels.

Call money held firm at 6 per cent, but for the first time in the week there was no appreciable offering of loans by banks. Funds in plentiful supply, leading to the hope that a lowering of the rate on day-to-day loans would be made early next week. With nearly a billion dollars being distributed in the form of dividend and interest payments, the investment demand for both the bond and stock markets was unusually heavy and had a stimulating effect on prices.

United States Steel common moved up another 2¾ points to a new record for all time at 180 ... was extraordinary in view of the ... map Gary's denial of recent ... informal discussions had taken place among directors regarding the ... ration of an extra cash dividend on the old stock. The stock is now selling more than 50 points above last year's low established on April ...

Net gains in scores of other issues ran from 1 to 7 points, and a dozen or more industrials touched their highest prices since 1920 or longer, were Allis-Chalmers, Davenport-Texas, Commercial Solvents, Western Union, Colorado Fuel, Continental Insurance, Cocoa-Cola, Douglas Adding Machine and International Silver.

Meanwhile, further liquidation is taking place in the oil, banking, textile and tobacco shares largely on reports of unfavorable trade developments. The lowest ... in a year, or more, were reported in the Continental Baking issue, Standard Baking B, California Packing, Underhay Packing, American Woolen common and preferred, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and California Petroleum.

O'FALLON CASE DECISION 'DU

Stock Prices Continue M in Opposite Direction

Buying Generally Limited Issues of Proven Mer

Further Liquidation in Group Takes Place

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—In today's stock market continued move in opposite directions, buying of a highly selective character and generally limited to proved investment merit. The Interstate Commerce Commission's decision in the O'Fallon case, holding valuations for rate making and other purposes should be determined on the basis of 1914 prices and cost instead of the much higher level of later years, proved a "dud" so far as its effect on the market was concerned.

Professional speculators for the decline offered rails freely at the opening, with resultant declines of 2½ points in numerous issues. A strong buying support was quickly provided. Early losses were recovered or wiped out and a few issues were mounted to record high levels.

Oil money held firm as a rule, but for the first time this week there was no appreciable easing of loans by banks. Funds were in plentiful supply, leading to hope that a lowering of the rate on day-to-day loans would be made early next week. With nearly a billion dollars being distributed in the form of dividend and interest payments, the investment demand for both the bond and stock markets was unusually heavy and had a stimulating effect on prices.

United States Steel common moved up another 2½ points to a new high record for all time at 169 5-8, which was extraordinary in view of Chairman Gary's denial of rumors that informal discussions had taken place among directors regarding the declaration of an extra cash dividend on the old stock. The stock is now selling more than 50 points above the year's low established on April 1.

Net gains in scores of other issues ran from 1 to 7 points, among a dozen or more industrials to establish their highest prices since 1923 or longer, were Allis-Chalmers, Davenport-Texas, Commercial Solvents, Western Union, Colorado Fuel, Continental Insurance, Coca-Cola, Loughs Adding Machine and International Silver.

Meanwhile, further liquidation was taking place in the oil, banking, railway, textile and tobacco shares, largely on reports of unfavorable trade developments. The lowest prices in a year, or more, were recorded in the Continental Baking issues, Standard Baking B, California Packing, Corn Products, Packing, American Woolen common and preferred, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and California Petroleum.

While the O'Fallon case decision was adverse to the railroads, operators were inclined to take an optimistic view of it on the ground that

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP) — With trading on a larger scale than for several days, prices in the bond market generally were irregular, with, however, a strong undertone. Considerable reinvestment money found its way into the market as a result of today's quarter-end dividend disbursements, while the outlook for money conditions remained easy. Sales ran well over $17,000,000. Many high prices were established by a number of railroad issues of the high grade and secondary class. Heavy purchases of the Erie issues resulted in an advance to par for the first time. Norfolk and Western convertible 6s jumped 10 points to a new peak on the sale of a small lot. Pennsylvania consolidated 4s, Union Pacific first 4s and Northern general 4s moved up to new high territory.

Warner Sugar refunding 7s were offered in unusually large amounts, they were well supported and yielded only a fraction. Some industrial mortgages appeared to be neglected. Aside from a good advance in New York Railroad bonds 6s, quiet ruled the public utilities list.

The new city of Rome 6½s were in demand at more than a small premium over the issue price. Some of the funds raised in this loan are to be used in part in public utility work, the Italian public utility issues were under brisk accumulation. German General Electric 6½s and Rhinelebe Union 7s, 1950 warrants, also gave a good account of themselves. Federal government bonds were irregular, with the issues of second Liberty 4 1-4s as the only active.

Preliminary notice of the calling of approximately $93,000,000 4½ per cent Land Bank bonds was issued today.

(Figures represent sales or bonds (in thousands) and their high, low and last prices in the order given. To expedite matters, zero is omitted when sales are low, and when sales and prices same as high.)

O'FALLON CASE DECISION 'DUD'

now have a definite vehicle on which they can carry the disputed points to the Federal courts for final determination. The raising of the rate valuation question in the Los Angeles and Salt Lake case, which was recently decided by the Supreme Court, proved that until the I.C.C. actually used its valuation as a basis for rate making or other purposes, no cause of action existed.

Atchison, New York Central, Reading, Union Pacific and other carriers likely to be adversely affected by the I.C.C. decision upheld by the courts reacted 1 to 2 1-2 points in the first wave of selling, but made irregular recovery later. Rock Island common was the individual feature, climbing nearly 5 points to a new record high price at 93 5-8, and closing near the top. Erie common crossed 50 to the highest level in twenty years and record prices were established by Bangor and Aroostook and Norfolk and Western.

Time money and commercial paper held steady.

Wheat prices were firm but most of the other commodity markets went lower.

Sharp rallies in the Italian and Spanish exchanges featured the foreign exchange market, the former moving close to 4 3-4 cents, to the highest level in four years. Demand sterling held firm around $4.84 5-16 and French francs just above 3.91 cents.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fairly active trading existed on the early rounds, but late trading was slow, with a weak undertone. Sales made yesterday, however, were generally around the steady mark. Most of the run was Imperial and Texas fed steers, while the few others offered were from Arizona and California, the California stuff being mostly from dairy sections.

A load of 782-pound baby beeves went over for 11.00. A four-car string of matured steers from a Texas feed lot averaging 945 pounds cashed for 9.50, while six cars of 1041 to 1115-pound Imperial steers went over for 9.10 and 9.15, while three cars of 1160-pound Imperials made 9.00. A load of rough 1248-pound bullocks cashed for 8.50. Odd head of common steers sold down to 6.50, while a load of thin 771-pound Mexican stags cleared for 5.35.

A car of choice 631-pound Arizona fed heifers went over for 9.20. Small lots of good cows and heifers cleared from 7.25@7.50, while medium kinds cashed from 6.25@7.00, with common kinds down to 5.50, including a load of 766-pound Mexican cows from Arizona at 6.00. Cutters in a small way sold from 4.25@5.00, with low cutters down to 3.00. Bulls were scarce and steady, good kinds selling from 6.50@6.75, with medium kinds down to 6.00.

CALVES—Narrow demand developed and a slow market resulted with prices dropping unevenly 50@75c. Odd head of milk veelers sold around 14.00, while two loads of choice 343-pound California veelers cashed for 12.50, with half a load of 302-pound calves at 11.00. A few small lots sold up to 13.00, while common calves and heavier veers fairly numerous from 7.50@10.00, a few very thin kinds selling down to 6.00.

HOGS—The market continued slow and draggy with yesterday's sales unevenly lower, mostly 10@15c off. Yesterday's top was 12.60 paid for a load of 146-pound weights, while five loads of 136 to 180-pound butchers cashed from 12.45@12.75, four of the loads making the 12.65 mark. A few packing sows cleared for 10.25.

SHEEP—None. Good to choice milk lambs were quoted from 14.00@15.00, with medium to choice yooled lambs from 11.75@13.50, and common to choice wooled ewes from 8.00@9.00.

CERTAIN TONE IRON REVIEW

Second Quarter Usually Marked by Decline

Expect Hot Pace of First Will be Maintained

Caution Over Future Held to Less Rampant

CHICAGO, April 1. (Exclusive)—The opening of the second quarter of the iron and steel industry ends a period marked for declining production, the Iron Trade Review says. For three consecutive months it has proved the zenith of effort and the months of the present quarter have brought production to a point where moderate, recession from which producers believe the new quarter will maintain the hot pace for a time, but skepticism within the industry concerning the second quarter is less rampant. Doubts are harbored in regard to first quarter as conferred upon last year.

Some independent producers think the biggest month in history, and it seems probable that statistics of the entire industry will show only a few points deviation from the all-time high of last year. The second quarter business on hand has buttressed order books and added momentum for the present. No marked changes occur in either operating rates or prices in the past week, although there is a further talk of stiffening prices of finished steel lines.

The quality character of the market has become more pronounced. Demand for sheets, excepting full finished, has contracted materially in the Youngstown Valley, the reverse of the situation at Pittsburgh. Hot rolled bars are a shade less steady, while the demand on cold strip are firm. There is no abatement supremacy at Chicago in the demand for steel from plates to bars. Scrap has been frequently a barometer, displaying more strength and sizable declines have been followed by similar ones.

Steel mill sales producers enter the second quarter protected by wage contracts and their sales contracts. Practically all pig iron are covered production. Only 10 per cent for their second-quarter requirements at prices somewhat higher than for the first quarter. In the middle ground stand those producers who as a group have sold out their coke protection, but not up to their furnace capacities. Furnaces having coal and coke connections outside of Western Pennsylvania will feel the least effects because of the third quarter.

The demand for cold-finished bars has been weakening, one manifestation being the increasing concern of some consumers interests as to supplies. Mills since 1920 have these users been insistent for shipments. Some have shipped more steel in March than in any month since the armistice.

Automotive production in the Detroit district is slowly improving, but will not equal last year's level. The General Motors Company continues to lead the vast field in analysis of February production figures showing that the industry, excluding Ford, was on a 7 per cent higher basis than February, 1926.

Following two consecutive advances of a stationary level a week ago from Trade Review composite of prices leading iron and steel products at $41.89 this week against $41.71 last week.

UNIVERSITY KEEPS OLD TOMBSTONE

MARK THAT MARKED GRAVE OF JEFFERSON NOW FAR FROM RESTING PLACE

COLUMBIA (Mo.) April 1. (AP)—In the quiet corner of the University of Missouri campus, far from his last resting place at Monticello, Va., stands the tombstone of Thomas Jefferson.

It was given to the school in 1883 by the great-great-grandchildren of Peter, who was born 182 years ago today at Shadwell, Va.

The stone is a plain granite obelisk 6 feet high. It stood at the grave of Jefferson for more than half a century before it was taken westward to stand in the region which the President added to the United States through the Louisiana purchase.

The monument was shipped from Boston on July 4, 1883, the anniversary of Jefferson's death. Fire destroyed the university in 1892, and a marble tablet bearing the original inscription placed by Jefferson was burned. It has rested since in the university vaults.

The tablet was prepared in fulfillment of directions found in Jefferson's papers after his death. It is inscribed:

"Here Was Buried Thomas Jefferson, Author of The Declaration of Independence, of The Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, and Father of The University of Virginia."

On the face of the obelisk are the birth and death dates, and the letters D. S., following the birth date, refer to the old style or Julian reckoning of time obtaining in the colonies until 1752.

PROMOTION PUZZLING

Plan to End "Bump" in List of Officers Caused by War

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Suggestions for reducing the "bump" in the promotion list of army officers, caused by discontinuance in the service of 1,000 of the men commissioned during the World War are to be sought by the War Department from the officers themselves, which has long baffled the department and Congressional army committees because it has been said promotion, is to be turned over to preliminary boards of officers of army corps areas and at service schools.

The boards, representing all commissioned grades, will canvass the records of the officers and turn their findings over to a board of general officers at Washington for possible legislative action.

Probable resignations and discharges with a financial bonus are said to have been suggested, but without the favor of the War Department as it still hopes to hit upon a better promotion plan.

Wheat Options Rally Briskly After Setback

CHICAGO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Private crop reports suggesting a winner wheat yield of 587,000,000 bushels on the average, compared with an indicated 875,000,000 bushels at this season last year, and a harvest of 627,000,000 bushels, due to abnormally favorable weather conditions from April to August, led to free selling of futures early, and a decline of ¾@1¼c, with May down to 1.35½. The break brought in a large export demand, with sales finally placed at 1,200,000 bushels in all positions, including 750,000 bushels domestic, and a rally followed that carried prices up 1⅛@1⅜c from the low, with the finish unchanged to ⅛c higher, with September leading. May closed at 1.34@1.34⅛, July 1.36¼@1.36⅜ and September 1.37⅝@1.37⅞.

Corn showed resistance to pressure, and while lower early, rallied and closed ⅛@⅜c higher, with May 73⅝@73¾, July 77⅛@77¼ and September 80⅝. Oats were ⅛@⅜c lower, with May 43⅝@44 and July 41¼@41½, and September 42⅛. Rye developed independent strength and gained 1⅛@1⅜c, with May 1.03¼@1.03½ and July 1.06⅝.

The reports on winter wheat were construed as bearish by the trade and there was general commission-house and local selling, but buying against bids and by shorts absorbed the surplus in the pit, and when aggressive short covering started on the reports of a big export business, the best in a long time, there was no pressure of consequence, and the rally was easily attained. Weather conditions over the belt remain very favorable, with further recommendations over a wide area, and no low temperatures were forecast.

A decline of ⅝@⅞d in Liverpool had some effect on wheat early, but was forgotten by the trade later. Houses with Winnipeg connections bought May here and sold in the former market. Many local traders bought July on the belief that prices were low enough for the time being.

Buying of corn credited to short covering by a local operator readily absorbed the scattered selling in that grain and gave the market a firm undertone, with the finish at the top. There was no material pressure and a slight change in sentiment is noted in some quarters, although the eastern cash demand continues very slow. Nat C. Murray's report indicated 3.3 per cent more holdings in the country than a year ago, while there is 2.4 per cent more brood sows.

Houses with eastern connections were on the selling side of oats and caused a lower range. Shorts were the best buyers. Wet weather is delaying seeding of the new crop.

A keen demand for rye futures from houses with seaboard connections absorbed the surplus in the pit on an early break, and later there was fairly general commission-house buying, giving the market independent strength. Duluth reported sales to Montreal at equal to 9½c over Chicago c.i.f., while sales at the seaboard were estimated at over 75,000 bushels.

Trading in all provisions was light and the range of prices narrow, Lard closed 2½c under to unchanged. Short ribs were unchanged to 5c higher and bellies were unchanged for the day.

Available Summer Homes "Shot" to Make Selection Easier

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—President Coolidge now has an opportunity to "look over" some of the sites which have been offered him for a summer residence in the West.

A cinema man who has stacked his judgment alongside the President's in picking sites has pictured a half-dozen in five different States, and placed the pictures at the disposal of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, who are still puzzling over selection of a summer home.

The pictures show sites in Colorado, South Dakota, Wyoming, Wisconsin and Michigan.

IRVIN COBB'S DAUGHTER WRITER

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Heredity genius. Mrs. Elizabeth Cobb Chapman, daughter of Irvin Bobb, is publishing her first book, written in a Florentine monastery while on her honeymoon. It deals with the matrimonial struggles of a modern Eve.

Six Set Free as Death Mystery 'Victim' Returns

EUTAW (Ala.) April .1(AP)—Six persons scheduled to face trial today for the slaying of J. D. Lott, traveling painter, a year ago, are at liberty because of Lott's sudden appearance in Eutaw yesterday.

Miss Thelma Wilson, Miss Lottie Wilson and Mrs. Mattie Reynolds, sisters, and William and Charles Upchurch and Hal Lee, were indicted recently by a grond jury on testimony that asserted Lott had been killed and his body dumped into the waters of the Black Warrior River.

After Lott's disappearance twelve months ago, authorities began an investigation which revealed bloodstains beside the highway several miles from here while other signs of a struggle and apparent attack were discovered on a raft on the river.

ANOTHER SOCIETY GIRL IN BUSINESS

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Another debutante prefers a job to boresome society life. Miss Victoria Frelinghuysen, daughter of the former United States Senator from New Jersey, walks from fashionable Park avenue every morning to business Fifth avenue and works from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., telling folks where, when and how to tour. What her tact, poise and experience in travel will cause her to pay in income taxes is a secret.

GLUED HEEL BASIS OF DAMAGE ACTION

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 1. (AP)—A defective shoe, to which a high heel is claimed to have been glued instead of nailed, is the basis of a $25,000 damage suit on file here against a Lincoln store and the manufacturer of the shoe. Without warning, the petitioner, Miss Eva Henry, said the heel came off as she was descending a flight of stairs, causing her to fall. She claims severe injuries.

INVENTOR'S INHERITANCE WITHHELD

Yale Founder's Scion Not to Handle Fortune Left; Two Families in Court

NEW YORK, April 1. (Exclusive)—Stanley Yale Beach, direct descendant of the Yale University founder, admitted head of one legal and one subrosa family for many years, has lost his fight for control of his inheritance.

Supreme Court Judge Peters decided Beach is a resident of Connecticut and his New York City domicile was established for "illegal and illegitimate purposes."

Accordingly the income from the $500,000 trust fund will be paid over to a conservator appointed by Connecticut courts and not to Beach himself.

All parties to this dramatic family tangle were in the courtroom—Beach, inventor and aero expert; his legal wife, Mrs. Helen Birdseye Beach of Stratford, Ct., two of his sons, the other woman, Mrs. Caroline Watson, and her 18-year-old daughter, Winifred.

Mrs. Beach testified against her husband. She said she had known of Winifred's existence since the day of her birth and that once Beach had taken her to visit his illegitimate daughter and her mother. Though Beach had never contributed to her support "after the first two or three years," she said, he spent week-ends and much other time in Connecticut until 1925. Even then he never told her he would refuse to live with her further, she asserted.

The present suit was brought by the inventor's aunt, Mrs. Jennie B. Gaspar, against her co-trustee, James

...mony Marks Close of Long Beach Meeting

... Slayden Wins Election for Presidency

...deration to Incorporate to Acquire Land

BY MYRA NYE
"Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, April 1.—Complete harmony reigned in the ranks of the Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs as the annual sessions ended today with Mrs. William Waller Slayden of Los Angeles elected president in a nip-and-tuck race.

She defeated Mrs. John Stearns Gray by a relatively few votes and succeeds the district federation for the past year as the successor to Mrs. James B. Lorbeer of Santa Monica, retiring president. Other officers elected were:

Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood, Monterey Park, vice-president; Mrs. F. H. Johnson, Pasadena, recording secretary; Mrs. Frederick Gilmore, Pasadena, treasurer, and Mrs. Ella Mack, Venice, auditor.

TO INCORPORATE

The convention today unanimously voted to incorporate the federation as a nonprofit organization in order to hold real property. The following were chosen to be directors:

Mrs. Charles F. Vandewater, Mrs. Talbot Atherton Irish, Mrs. Oliver Thomas Bryant, Mrs. Lillian B. Goldsmith, Mrs. William Read, Mrs. Dana Campbell, Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood, Mrs. James B. Lorbeer and Mrs. Harold Baptiste.

Plans for the Eleanor Joy Toll memorial headquarters on Hobart Boulevard were raised to $25,000. The sum of $6250 came from the floor of the convention in pledges ranging from $5 to $200. Among those who assisted in the work were Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Lorbeer, Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Irish. The largest gift from one organization, $1000, had been obtained by Mrs. Read, a representative of the Friday Morning Club.

A new office, that of federation executive secretary, was created through action of the by-laws.

The convention adopted a resolution asking the Governor to investigate the practice of including political matter by unauthorized persons in the same envelope with official documents containing arguments for and against referred legislative propositions. The resolution was offered by the Civil League of Pasadena.

PEACE LANGUAGE

The Civil Club of Los Angeles submitted a resolution for the teaching of a second language in the schools of all nations to be used as a language for all international communications, asking the League of Nations to select some living language as the medium, in the interests of peace.

The San Luis Obispo county Federation offered a resolution in support of all peace movements and recommended that all money received from foreign countries in war-debt payments be used for peace education and for the betterment of the countries in question.

A resolution protesting the use of trapping devices in capturing fur-bearing animals was offered by the Alhambra Woman's Club.

The district board of the Los Angeles Federation of Woman's Clubs submitted a resolution indorsing State Senate Bill No. 221, empowering the State Departments of Health, Education and Public Welfare to function for the benefit of the Indians in California with expenses to be provided by federal appropriation.

Delegates will tour the harbor district today, including a visit to the steamer Harvard.

JACOBSON WINS RISE FOR ELEVATOR MEN

Despite the opposition of Councilman ... who had without debate increased the city's pay roll $400,000 a year in eight months, Councilman ... won his battle yesterday for a $5 a month salary increase for City Hall elevator operators when Acting Mayor Workman signed the ordinance authorizing the increased pay. The seven elevator operators had been receiving a minimum wage of $95 a month and now will receive a starting wage of $100 a month with a maximum wage of $125 a month.

COMPANIES MARK TIME IN GAS WAR

Expected Maneuver by Doheny Company Fails to Materialize

All was quiet along what might be styled the Doheny front in the Southern California gasoline price war yesterday, the Pan American Western Petroleum Company having made no move throughout the day, apparently, anent the cut of other companies to 14½ cents a gallon for gasoline.

Doheny's company already had cut to 14½ cents a gallon when other companies had cut from 16½ cents to 16½ cents. It was rumored that if the other companies came down to 14½ cents Doheny's company would cut another 2 cents. If Pan American contemplated any such maneuver there was no surface evidence of it yesterday. Doheny announced when he made his cut that it was "a battle for gallonage."

The companies making the cut to meet the Pan American price included Standard Oil of California, Richfield, Shell, Union, California Petroleum, General and Associated.

Triplets Added to Southland's Kid Population

When the word went around the neighborhood that Bessie Nefroney of 422 South Evergreen street had a new baby the neighbors put on their shawls and rushed over to congratulate her. They all knew Bessie and liked her. Naturally they wanted to see the new arrival, but they were surprised to learn that she had been doubly blessed and was the mother of twins. Surprise soon turned to astonishment when a third bulletin was issued, announcing there were triplets.

Then, it required the combined diplomacy of the photographer, a reporter and two able-bodied neighbors to induce Bessie to pose with her "crowd" of kids. Even then she objected. Finally somebody recalled that a goat has a single-track mind, so the picture was obtained by bribing Bessie with a handful of oats.

Triplets, according to the best goat authorities, are exceedingly rare, as they usually are born singly or in pairs.

LIGHTING TAKEN UP

The starting of proceedings for the installation of ornamental lighting posts on Fourth avenue from Sixty-second street to Hyde Park boulevard was ordered yesterday by the City Council.

LEGION LAYS RELIEF PLANS

Veterans Will Organize to Meet Any Emergency Arising As Result of Disaster

Relief plans to be put into effect in the event of any great disaster striking this region were made last night at a meeting of the disaster and community committee of Los Angeles Post No. 8, American Legion, at Patriotic Hall. The wisdom of preparedness measures was pointed out by Chairman Richard Garvey, Jr., who declared that more than 100 disasters requiring organized relief occur annually in this country.

"Sudden and violent rupture of the normal life of families and communities through death, injury, disease, loss of employment, and the destruction of dwellings, crops, business places, tools and equipment, create situations nearly parallel to the ravages of war," he stated.

Archie H. Vernon of the Los Angeles Post said: "Legionnaires have a peculiar interest and responsibility in aiding the recovery of disaster-stricken communities. All possible resources in man power, skilled service and supplies are needed. In no organization that exists swift and sustained relief becomes of greatest value. Probably no greater community service can be rendered and in this service each post of the American Legion may be able to act to meet emergency needs that any other group or organization cannot meet. This is true because of the experience and training Legionnaires have in large, highly controlled groups, where men are accustomed to act together and under direction. War-time training camps and battle-front experience form ideal schools of instruction for emergency service in disaster.

MEMBERS TO ORGANIZE

Under the plans brought out at last night's meeting the post will organize its members and units to be added to units of other posts of the Los Angeles City Interpost Council to be offered to the city in case of disaster.

First, when disaster strikes, all Legionnaires will report to the Legion headquarters, and if necessary es-

ROBINSON SILENT ON NEW POST

Banker Back From East Tells of Coolidge Talk but Withholds Details

Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, member of the Dawes Reparations Commission in 1924 and recently named by President Coolidge as chairman of the economic council to represent the United States at the International Economic Conference in Geneva on May 4, next, returned home yesterday after two weeks in the East.

Mr. Robinson "had nothing to say at this time" regarding the forthcoming Geneva conference, beyond the statement that he discussed the matter with President Coolidge in Washington several days ago.

While in New York Mr. Robinson was elected a director of the General Electric Company, the occasion being the first time the company has placed a western man on its directorate. Owen D. Young, chairman of the board, was a member of the Dawes commission with Mr. Robinson.

The Los Angeles financier stated that he will leave here the latter part of the month for Geneva.

FREDERICKS DUE IN PORT TOMORROW

Honored Representative of Southland Returning to Resume Law Practice

Capt. John D. Fredericks, Representative from the Tenth District, who will be succeeded in Congress by Joe Crail, elected after Capt. Fredericks refused to run again for the position, will arrive in Los Angeles on the steamer President Garfield tomorrow to resume the private practice of law in Southern California.

Capt. Fredericks, formerly District Attorney of Los Angeles county before he entered the national political arena with tremendous success, as president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce inaugurated the plan of a committee of 200, for the development of Los Angeles Harbor in conjunction with Federal cooperation, which met with overwhelming success.

Outstanding among his achievements in Congress was his fight for an appropriation of $1,500,000 for adequate hospital accommodations at the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home. Other measures of importance to the district which he served were the securing of a railway right of way through the Fort MacArthur military reservation as a part of the harbor development plan and the establishment of a branch hydrographic station in Los Angeles.

Fire District Election Held to be Illegal

Publication of a notice of an election in a newspaper other than the one designated is equivalent to no notice at all, according to an opinion handed down yesterday by Justice Thompson of the Second District court of appeal.

The ruling was in the suit George B. Norman filed against the Moneta County Fire District of Los Angeles county. The Appelate Court held that an election in which a majority of the voters in the area ratified the formation of the fire district was illegal because the notices had been published in a newspaper other than the one designated by the Board of Supervisors.

Kindness Week for Animals to Open Tomorrow

Plans for a general observance of "Kindness to Animals Week" are being made by the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The week, which begins tomorrow, will be observed throughout the country. The movement was originated by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Mayor Cryer yesterday issued a proclamtion designating the period as "kindness to animals week."

"It is a recognized fact," the proclamation states, "that 'inhumanity to brutes brutalizes humanity,' and that education in kindness is a great factor in the elimination of crime."

GAS APPLIANCES TO BE ADJUSTED

Mechanical Experts Will Visit Every House

Many Complaints Result in Survey Plans

Higher Bills Blamed on Cooler Weather

Starting Monday the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation will send out a corps of mechanical experts to visit every customer served by the company for the purpose of adjusting gas appliances properly to the new natural gas, it was announced yesterday.

The house-to-house canvass will be made as part of the corporation's campaign to demonstrate that natural gas is as efficient and economical as the manufactured gas which was sold to local consumers until a few weeks ago. The plan to throw a service army into the field was revealed by H. L. Masser, gas engineer for the corporation, at a conference with the city's public utility board yesterday. The conference was held with representatives of the gas company in an effort to determine the cause and possible remedy for the large number of complaints on the gas service.

MANY COMPLAINTS

Mr. Masser said that while many complaints have come in, it was found that most of these were due to the fact that the gas appliances in the homes had not been adjusted to burn the natural gas properly. Already, he said, the most urgent cases had been handled and to date about 45,000 adjustments of appliances had been made by the company's mechanics. The corporation is serving 340,000 meters in and around Los Angeles.

On the matter of complaints because of large bills, Mr. Masser said the increase in bills was not due to the introduction of natural gas. He produced records and charts to show that there has been a tremendous increase by volume in the amount of gas used by the consumer this winter. December, for instance, saw the greatest consumption in the history of the company. As a matter of fact, said Mr. Masser, we had an unusually cold winter. The increase in the use of gas and the resultant increase in the bills followed the downward trend of the temperature chart.

Conditions generally will be back to normal when the gas appliances are adjusted and when the consumer learns that he need not turn the gas up as high as he did with the artificial gas. Blackened pots and pans were also attributed to lack of appliance adjustment.

The discussion swung into the more technical aspect of the British Thermal Unit question. The B.T.U. furnished in Los Angeles the corporation varied, during a random brief period selected, from 926 to 1109.

Mr. Masser said he did not think the city average could be boosted much above the 1100-B.T.U. basis. Those present appeared unable to agree as to whether the Railroad Commission in its recent rate decision, said the gas had to contain from 1125 to 1150 B.T.U.

CONSUMPTION HIGHER

In support of the company's showing that the high bills were due to an increase in gas consumption rather than to the introduction of the natural gas, C. C. Brown, of the Railroad Commission, said the commission had made a study of the Glendale territory where natural gas has been used for some time. The study showed the consumers' bills for January, 1927, were 52 per cent higher than for January, 1926; and that the bills for February, 1927, were 30 per cent higher than for February, 1926. These relative increases were found to obtain in the Los Angeles territory for the same periods.

Mr. Masser thought it will take until next September before the company's experts can complete all consumers' adjustments. A flying squadron of adjusters, however, will be maintained to handle emergency cases.

The hearing was directed by Dr. Laura M. Locke, chairman of the gas committee of the commission. President Harry G. Haffer presided.

COMMUNITY ADS INCREASE

All-Year Club Survey Shows Southland Needs Large Sum to Meet Competition

Community advertising in the United States has increased more than 500 per cent since 1922. The year 1927 is likely to see a greater increase than any other. These facts were included in a digest of the national situation recently sent to the All-Year Club of Southern California by a national fact-finding organization.

The All-Year Club sought the figures to learn just what competition it has as against what it had when it set an example for the world in successful community advertising in 1921.

This information followed the gathering of clippings for five days in some of the important cities of the United States by Victor Girard, chairman of the joint financial committee of ten that is raising the $1,200,000 budget for the All-Year Club and for the Chamber of Commerce.

GREAT INCREASE

In 1922, the year after the All-Year Club started its advertising of Southern California in ten of the leading magazines of the United States, there were eighty pages of community advertising. In 1926, four years after the world had had community advertising proven to it by the All-Year Club and in part by Florida, there were 432 pages. A corresponding increase was noted in the newspapers.

In fact, the increase in the newspapers, though not as easily checked as that in the magazines, is perhaps even greater. This is because of a tendency of the national advertisers to use newspapers more and more, employing the magazines to make a policy and the newspapers to make an action.

SOUTHLAND BEHIND

The clipping for one period revealed that Southern California was being outadvertised 37 to 1. It has been outadvertised more than 20 to 1 by Florida alone. "The increase in advertising by other communities is the most vital fact against us," said Girard. "Four years ago our $200,000 in advertising was a sufficiently fair proportion of the whole to guarantee us prosperity. And it did. Now two or three times that spent by us in advertising is proportionately less than $200,000 a year, four years ago. The $1,200,000 that we are seeking, of which half goes to the All-Year Club for advertising and half to the Chamber of Commerce for other exploitation, is an irreducible minimum. We should have much more."

SAWTELLE CHIEF WILL PUSH WORK

Leaves Soon to Speed Up Rebuilding of Fire Loss at Soldiers' Home

The final meeting of the National Board of Managers was held at the Pacific branch, Sawtelle Soldiers' Home, yesterday.

Gen. George H. Wood, president of the board, stated that he will leave today for the national capital, where he plans to speed up as rapidly as possible the rebuilding of the $150,000 general mess hall, destroyed last week by fire at Sawtelle. Gen. Wood was optimistic over the possibility of early action at Washington on the board's resolution, adopted Thursday, in which recommendations were made toward replacing the twelve wooden barracks at Sawtelle with modern, fireproof buildings.

Official acceptance by the government of the new James W. Wadsworth hospital, nearing completion with its 600 beds for patients, was not made at the final meeting. Gen. Wood stated that next week the chief architect and Gov. Hadley of the Sawtelle home, will make a final, official inspection of the huge government building. Their report, he said, will be forwarded for action at Washington.

EDWIN MARKHAM VISITS CITY

Author of "Man With the Hoe" on Arrival Here Tells History of Famous Poem Which Required Thirteen Years to Write and Which He Thought Worthless

Edwin Markham, whose famous poem, "The Man With the Hoe," almost turned the civilized world upside down a quarter - century ago, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for a short visit. He is at the home of his sister-in-law, Miss May Sheila Murphy, 330 South Witmer street, and last night he told the story of how the poem came into being.

EDWIN MARKHAM

It was inspired, he said, by a reproduction of Millet's world-famous painting of a brutalized toiler in the deep abyss of labor. Mr. Markham was superintendent of schools in El Dorado county when his attention was called to the picture and it made such a profound impression upon him, the poet said, that he could not forget it. The first stanza and outlines of the poem were written at San Jose, but it was completed at Oakland thirteen years after the first stanza was written. In fact, the first stanza was the only part of the poem ever set down on paper during that period.

When he had it finished, Mr. Markham didn't think there was an editor anywhere who would dare publish it, so he offered it to none. Some time later he read it at a literary gathering, the poet said, and Bailey Millard, Los Angeles literary critic, said, "You have written a poem that will go down the ages."

The critic's judgment was vin-

MRS. M'PHERSON SLIPS INTO CITY

Unannounced Arrival Balks Great Welcome

First Public Appearance in Temple Pulpit

Homesickness Reason Given for Early Return

Aimee Semple McPherson, touring evangelist of Angelus Temple, returned home suddenly and unexpectedly last night throwing into discard elaborate plans of her flock for a large reception today when she was scheduled to arrive after nearly three months' absence.

Upon her arrival in the city Mrs. McPherson did not go immediately to her Angelus Temple home, where her mother and two children were awaiting her, but went to a friend's home. Later in the evening she made a dramatic entrance at the temple where a fair-sized crowd greeted her.

The first inkling a band of the faithful had that she was home was when "Mother" Kennedy mounted the pulpit in the prayer-meeting room and announced that "Sister is home and will be here any minute."

ENTRY SPECTACULAR

At that moment a large sedan purred up to the doors of the church and Mrs. McPherson alighted. Then came the dramatic entry of the auburn-haired evangelist amidst drum-banging, hand-clapping and hallelujahs.

"Looks like old times on the trip," Mrs. McPherson commented. "On the train we'd look out the window and if we didn't see one of those fellows we'd go on to the next town."

In the excitement of the homecoming, Mrs. McPherson overlooked her two children for a time. An usher rushed out and brought in Roberta and Rolph. Suddenly she called for Rolph, kissed him and said something near the radio microphone.

POSES WITH SON

Then she took Rolph with her to pose for a picture. An advisor rushed to her side and whispered a few words. Then she called for Roberta and kissed her. The photographer asked her to put her arm about her son.

For the next picture she asked a groupe of white-garbed temple workers to crowd about her. Then the services proceeded.

Considerable mystery surrounded the evangelist's arrival. Plans have been going forward for days for a usual "McPherson home-coming," the faithful gathering flowers for the welcome. Behind Angelus Temple last night lay a pile of flowers and other trimmings for the welcome.

Mrs. McPherson first told her congregation about a mule ride up and down the Grand Canyon which she took on her way home.

"Then I just got homesick to see you all," she shouted, "and I came right home."

New Mark Set by Enrollment at University

Advanced enrollment for the Los Angeles summer session of the University of California is more than double that of the same date last year, it was announced yesterday. A heavy enrollment from States outside of California is indicated.

More than 200 courses, arranged under thirty departments of the university, are planned. Among the features of special interest are a demonstration nursery school, a course in parental education and work in speech correction and education of the deaf.

MAYOR IMPROVING IN THROAT ATTACK

Mayor Cryer, who has been ill for several days with an inflamed throat, was reported much improved yesterday and is expected to return to the City Hall next week. During his absence, President Workman of the City Council has been Acting Mayor.

STUDIO'S NAME EXPANDED

Paramount Famous Lasky Will Be New Title of Company to Emphasize Pictures

One of the famous names in the history of motion pictures passed out of existence yesterday when the name of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation became Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation. Announcement of the change was issued from the home office in New York by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the organization.

"The name 'Paramount' as the trade name of our pictures has become so indissolubly linked with the productions made by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation," said Lasky, "that it was deemed advisable to incorporate the name into the corporate title of the organization. For this reason, at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the corporation, it was decided to change the name of the organization to the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, a title which retains the elements of the former name yet adds the name 'Paramount,' which has come to be the outstanding trade-mark of the motion picture industry.

FIFTEEN YEARS OLD

The name of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has existed for almost fifteen years. It came into being when the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, with its studio at Vine street and Selma avenue, Hollywood, amalgamated with the Famous Players Film Company, of which Adolph Zukor was the president and, which had its studio in New York.

Adolph Zukor became president of the united forces and Jesse L. Lasky first vice-president, a status which has existed uninterruptedly ever since and a combination which has been one of the most powerful forces in the progress and development of the motion-picture industry.

Shortly after the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation came into being, the Paramount Pictures Corporation was organized for the distribution of the pictures produced by the parent corporation and the name Paramount was adopted as the trade name of all the films it distributed.

OTHERS ABSORBED

Since then the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has absorbed many other motion-picture producing organizations but the name of the organization remained unchanged.

For years the names Paramount and Famous Players-Lasky have been virtually synonomous though they represented separate corporations in fact. Beginning today, however, the name of Paramount becomes definitely a part of the producing corporation.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

NEARLY two billions of good American money was lugged to Europe last year by tourists.

And the American Travel Development Association wants to know what's to be done about it.

The obvious thing to be done about it is to make America sound attractive. To let tourists know what there is here in America to see.

TOURING LOS ANGELES

From all the tourist literature I ever read all there is to see is the Snake Dance, Grand Canyon, the fence around Mary Pickford's studio—and then you're through.

If I had the time I could keep myself on the high edge of entertainment with a different tour every year; and never leave Southern California.

For the matter of that, one could get up a very respectable touring month without ever leaving the confines of the city of Los Angeles.

ROMANCE

The trouble is there is no way for tourists to get into contact with the romance and tradition.

Not long ago I came down from the Owens River Valley in an auto with an old timer. There wasn't a single valley or tiny town through which we passed that he didn't know a story to go with it.

In Europe all these stories are preserved and known. Out here we are allowing them to be forgotten.

A SCIENTIST'S MECCA

For instance, I know a place within 150 miles of Los Angeles which has as much archeological significance as the pyramids of Egypt. But hundreds of people pass it every day without knowing anything about it.

SCENERY

Within easy auto drive of any hotel in Los Angeles there is mountain scenery just as fine as the Swiss Alps; and with a historical background just as strange and interesting.

In France and Italy they realize the money value of romance and tradition.

In our little towns they sweep it out like rubbish.

They believe that what will bring in the tourists in eager swarms is a new soda fountain with a row of shiny spigots.

OUR ROBIN HOOD

People go from California to tramp around England in the trail of Robin Hood, never realizing that our own Joaquin Murrietta made Robin Hood look like a piker—for daring, romance and charm.

WILD PLACES

New Yorkers go every year to Scotland for the "shooting"—which is very much on a par with going out into the chicken yard and taking a pot shot at the family rooster.

Never realizing that right off Cape St. Lucas—the last dip of Lower California—is a wild sea jungle where life is so strange and ferocious that you would think you were back in the days of the giant lizards and the mammoths.

AND WHO CARES

There is nothing in Europe of greater charm—or more removed from the present century—than the west coast of Mexico.

Tourists come here eager for romance and color and we tell them the bank clearings of Los Angeles have increased $8,000,000,000.000 since Saturday noon; and that Los Angeles Harbor now has more shipping than all the harbors of the world (including the Scandinavian.)

TWO SOUGHT IN AUTO MURDER

Three Dynamitings Linked to Mystery Killing

Body Found in Car Shows Evidence of Battle

Out of a maze of unusual facts nd circumstances detectives found ridence which last night set em on the trail of two men, uspected of murdering Tony Ferraro, 34 years of age, erstwhile olive-il merchant and retired bootlegger, hose bullet-riddled and battered ody was found in the rear compartment of his sedan early yesterday morning in front of 659 Kohler reet.

At least three dynamitings played part in the feud, which is believed y the police to have culminated in he brutal slaying of Ferraro.

Ferraro left his home at 2724 Chnnaid street, between 5 and 6 p.m., hursday evening ostensibly to deliver olive oil to his customers. That e had a premonition of some troule when he left was indicated by is aged father, a recent arrival from aly, who told Detective Lieutenants ondaffer and Hickey that his son reused to take him along on his illated auto ride. His body was found t 6:40 p.m. yesterday by a passer-y, Charles Brady, 6004 Kansas avenue.

Captain of Detectives Bean, head f the homicide squad, who is in harge of the investigation, announced last evening that the number of suspects had simmered down o two men following an all-day investigation. These two men, he tated, had business troubles with errano more than two years ago, hich was followed by the dynamiting of a vacant building at 2720 ourth Main street, which Ferraro wned.

FIRST BLAST IN 1925

This dynamiting occurred on September 24, 1925. Eight months later he home of his cousin, Victor Pepone, 317 West Seventy-seventh treet, was blown up and exactly five onths afterward the home of Jim ussacci, Ferraro's business partner, t 675 Lamar street, was wrecked y a charge of dynamite. Nobody as hurt by the three explosions.

Detectives working on the case liminated the theory in the early tages of the investigation that Ferraro was a victim of hi-jackers. In is car were found six five-gallon ans of olive oil, which were at first elieved to have been full of alcohol.

The officers pointed out that had i-jackers murdered Ferraro they ould have carried away the tins s well as to have stripped Ferraro f his belongings. This was not one as a valuable diamond ring was till on his finger, his watch was not olested and his purse contained $12 n cash.

Ferraro quit the illicit-liquor business about three months ago, his son aid, when Officers Hamlin, Buchanan nd D. McD. Jones "knocked over" an laborate still in a dwelling at 532 outh Soto street. Ferraro admitted later to the officers, they said, that em Margallina, 32, had "taken the all" for him in this case.

WORK OF TWO MEN

The killing of Ferraro was the work of two men, according to Bean. It is believed his assassins either waylaid him or got into his car under ome pretense and then started an argument with him. Bruises on his hands indicated he put up a terrific struggle with his assailants.

An autopsy performed at the county morgue showed he was shot three times, at least once by a .38-caliber revolver. One of the bullets struck him in the back of his neck, a second entered behind his left ear, while a third struck him in the back of his head, ranging upward and making an exit on the top of his head. Powder burns indicated he had been shot at close range.

The finding of a .38-caliber bullet in his brain only added to the tangle of circumstances surrounding his death, the police said, inasmuch as two exploded .32-caliber shells were found in the front compartment of his machine, while a spent bullet from a .32-caliber gun, which went through the cushion of the front seat, was discovered beneath the seat.

Ferraro was also beaten about the skull and face with a heavy tire wrench which was found in the rear compartment. This inflicted cuts from an inch to three inches in length.

CRIME RECONSTRUCTED

Reconstructing his murder, the detectives believe one of his assassins sat in the rear seat while the second sat with him in the front seat. The murderer in the front seat, it is believed, engaged in an argument with Ferraro and then pulled his gun. Ferraro wrestled with him and when the second man saw his companion was getting bested, grabbed the tire wrench and started raining blows on the victim.

The man in the rear seat is then believed to have pulled a gun and shot Ferraro. He was thrown into the rear compartment and his murderers drove his car to Kohler street where it was abandoned. The murder did not occur in the Kohler-street vicinity as no shots were heard.

Witnesses told the police they saw the car parked on Kohler street as early as 10 p.m. Thursday. This is according to Elmer Lesch, 139½ North Avenue 19, and Melvin Coultas, 145 North Avenue 20. K. Uyeno, 629 Kohler street, said he saw the car about 2:30 a.m., yesterday.

Brady's attention to the car was attracted by a stream of blood. All the curtains in the car were pulled down and when he looked in he saw a body sprawled in the rear compartment and he called the police.

WIDOW HYSTERICAL

Relatives and friends of Ferraro were unable to shed any light on his murder and Detectives Condaffer, Hickey and Stevens were unable to question his widow, Mrs. Constance Ferraro, at length, because of her hysterical condition. All said he had no enemies as far as they knew.

His son, Barlow Ferraro, 17, was taken to Central Station yesterday and questioned, but volunteered no information and was unable to furnish any clews which might lead to a solution of the murder. Mussacci, his partner, was unable to name any suspects. He said Ferraro delivered a can of olive oil at his restaurant, North Main and Clover streets, early Friday evening, when he gave him a $12 check in payment. He was alone at the time, he said, and told him he was going to see more customers.

The check was not among Ferraro's effects, and a watch is being kept at a bank on which it was drawn to determine who cashed it.

Ferraro is believed to have been last seen at the home of a cousin, Tony Silleno, 949 Lamar street. Silleno said Ferraro visited him shortly after 6 p.m. Friday, and that he appeared in good spirits. He was alone at the time and did not say where he was going, Silleno said.

From an informant Bean learned Ferraro had told several friends he intended to go to Downey Friday night to deliver olive oil. It is believed he was slain in this vicinity and then driven back to town.

BEATINGS CHARGED

The murder of Ferraro recalled yesterday charges which were made in 1929 against five prohibition officers by James Fiore, an Italian. He accused the prohibition agents of torturing him and Ferraro's son, Barlow.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison announced yesterday that an inquest will be conducted over Ferraro's body at 9:30 a.m. Monday when his wife, the son, his partner, other relatives and police officers will be called as witnesses.

Besides Detectives Hickey, Condaffer and Stevens, Detectives Brody and Kimbrough of the Newton-street division are also working on the case.

In a pocket of Ferraro's overcoat, which covered his body, officers found a .38 automatic revolver. It had not been exploded, however, police said. The clip in the gun was full, a cartridge was in the chamber and a second full clip was found in his pocket. A gun permit, issued by Sheriff Traeger, was in his wallet. It was issued on December 28, 1926, and stated "for self-protection—carry large sums of money."

CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED

Services All Day Tomorrow at Newly Completed $405,000 Christian Edifice

Thousands of churchgoers of various denominations are expected to attend services in dedication of the magnificent Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, to be conducted at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow. Dr. Charles S. Medbury, pastor of the University Christian Church at Des Moines, Iowa, will preach the dedicatory sermon at the Wilshire church, Wilshire Boulevard and Normandie avenue, completed recently at a cost of $405,000.

Dr. M. Howard Pagan, pastor of the church, will preside at the morning program and also at the service at 3 p.m., when pastors of many denominations will bring greetings and congratulations from their congregations. At the evangelistic service tomorrow evening many new members will be baptized in the new baptistry. Dedicatory meetings will be conducted at the church every evening during the next two weeks.

DR. M. HOWARD PAGAN

One of the features of the dedicatory program will be a harp ensemble under Miss Julie Keller, which, in addition to its own group and solo numbers, will accompany the congregation in the singing of hymns. This is regarded as an innovation in Los Angeles religious services. The ensemble will, beginning tomorrow, be on the program nightly during the dedicatory period. The members of the ensemble are Miss Keller, Mildred Hawke, Vera Harrington, Fern Staben, Ann Mason, Helen Bliss, Ruth Riggs and Ila Schaefer.

NOTED EDITOR HERE

Sir Henry Lunn, editor of the Review of the Churches and internationally famous as a lecturer in behalf of universal peace, will be the speaker at the student services at St. Paul's Cathedral tomorrow evening. The public is invited. At the morning hour the speaker will be Dr. W. B. Stevens, coadjutor bishop of the Los Angeles diocese. At the noonday services next week the speaker will be Dr. Charles P. Deems, rector of Trinity Church at San Francisco. The general theme to be discussed by Dr. Deems is "Regaining the Old Assurance."

SIR HENRY LUNN.

PLAN NEW CHURCH

Rev. W. H. Hopkins, pastor of the Olivet Community Church, announced yesterday that a campaign for funds for a new church has been started, to close the 9th inst. The old structure will be removed and a modern, well-furnished temple will take its place. W. A. Graves is chairman of the executive committee of the campaign organization and seventy-five men and women of the church will solicit funds. Tomorrow morning Mr. Hopkins will preach on "In His Steps—What Does it Mean Today?" The subject for evening is "Who Are the Lost?"

TEMPLE BAPTIST

"God's Ultimatum to Man" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. M. E. Dodd tomorrow evening at the Temple Baptist Church. The topic for morning is "A Communion Meditation." The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the morning discourse.

SPEECH MINUS SOUND

In joint services for the deaf and the hearing, Rev. Gerhardt F. Ferber newly appointed missionary to the deaf of Los Angeles and vicinity, will be installed in his new post at Trinity Lutheran Church, Eighteenth and Cherry streets, tomorrow evening. Rev. K. Eichmann, missionary to the deaf at Portland, Or., will preach the installation sermon, and Rev. G. Gaertner, missionary among

MORE DELAY IN CHAPLIN CASE ASKED

Comedian's Attorneys Seek to Quash Service of Summons in Divorce

A new legal maneuver intended to give Charlie Chaplin an additional three months to answer his young wife's divorce complaint was under way yesterday.

Charles E. Millikan, the comedian's attorney here, late yesterday afternoon filed a motion to quash the service of summons on Chaplin on the grounds that the complaint on which this service was based failed to specify a sufficient cause of action.

The motion is scheduled for argument before Judge Schmidt of the Superior Court next Thursday at 10 a.m. Should the motion be sustained, Mr. Millikan said, service by summons to bring the comedian within the jurisdiction of the local courts will have to be started all over again, thus giving Chaplin another ninety days to answer the divorce bill.

The motion filed yesterday asserts that the order for publication of summons is void in that the complaint on file at the time and the affidavits supporting it did not set up a sufficient cause of action. It also asserts that the service is void because the complaint has since been amended by the plaintiff.

As Lita Chaplin's staff of attorneys has been moving forcefully to bring Chaplin into court at the earliest possible moment, a bitter court battle is anticipated when the motion is argued.

William K. Young, one of Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, declared in a formal statement last night that the motion will be answered at the proper time.

"Chaplin was personally served in New York with a copy of the complaint and summons in the action two months ago," the statement read. "His announced intention of meeting issues upon which his wife relies for divorce at the earliest possible opportunity are discounted by the technical proceedings instituted in his behalf. We are satisfied that the affidavit upon which the publication of summons was made is sufficient.

"The only other objection made by this wandering defendant was that the complaint did not state that Lita Grey Chaplin and Charles Spencer Chaplin were husband and wife at the time of the filing of the complaint. The complaint was amended on its face accordingly. Having made this claim under his corporate entity, the Chaplin Studios, Inc., he now makes this claim in his personal capacity."

LEGION FORMS RELIEF PLANS

The American Legion commander will report to the Mayor or other public authorities as to the availability of the legionnaires for service. He also will advise the Red Cross chairman what services his units can render.

A small, mobile emergency reserve of signal-corps men, quartermaster corps men, and motor transport men will be kept constantly on duty at headquarters day and night for the first days of disaster for emergency detail.

WILL AID POLICE

Frequently, the confusion of an emergency paralyzes the policing of the community. The Mayor, Chief of Police, Chief of the Fire Department or National Guard commander may ask for a detail of men to police property, to maintain order and to protect refugees. The American Legion, under these plans, will offer these men.

Establishment of temporary housing, feeding and clothing stations require many men. Tent colonies must often be set up, kitchens established and warehouses organized. Legionnaires will be selected for these details who have had experience in appropriate branches of military service.

SIGNALMEN TO HELP

In case of destruction or being cut off from the outside world, the wire and mail service will be offered the services of signal corps men.

Provision for temporary fire protection, maintenance of emergency lighting and sanitary measures at times become of first importance, and here again the legionnaires may be assigned in accord with the wishes of public authorities.

Last night's meeting also was attended by Capt. James T. McCann, commander of Fire Fighters' Post of the Legion, and Leslie G. Combs, who, with Garvey, chairman of the Los Angeles Post Disaster Committee, are members of a similar committee of the City Interpost Council.

Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go To Church

By Rev. M. Howard Fagan—Wilshire Blvd. Christian Church

Every man is religious. Not all are willing to admit it, but the fact is, "man is a worshiping animal; he is incurably religious." Plato said: "It is religion more than any other one thing that differentiates man from the lower animals." There was a time when men were urged to "get" religion, as though it were some extraneous article that could be secured and added to one's possessions. Now we know every man HAS religion. Implanted within him by his Creator is the desire for communion with God. What he needs is to nurture, cultivate and develop the religious nature with which he has been endowed. For this purpose the church exists—to bring men to God through Jesus Christ. Every church in the community stands as a challenge to men to remember God and to develop their religious nature. No greater good can come to any man than that which comes to him through religion. The religion of Jesus Christ brings out the very best that is in man.

7:45 P.M.—"A Banker's Questions to the Church"

1. If spiritual life is only possible in the Church; is not the church a trade-union, closed shop arrangement?
2. Is not the observance of club psychology and organization or activity a personal question?
3. Why are great men like Pastor, Jordan and Charles W. Eliot outside the Church?
4. Is the comparative world importance of the church today less than a century ago? Why?
5. Why is the curve of the church downward while the curve of societies is always upward?
6. Is the light of fundamentalism and church opposition to science, which will have to change, the church or science?
7. Is not denominationalism a real stumbling block to students and business men?
8. Are not million dollar church structures and gilded ecclesiastical executive salaries in the simplicity of the sermon on the Mount?
9. Why are the churches wrestling with petty things?
10. Are the church and religious goals to themselves or means to an end?

Asked by a Leading Banker of Los Angeles—Answered by Dr. Dyer

Dear Friends:
There will be no opportunity to go to church at Church tomorrow. It is the kind of day that will make all the electrons in your system operative.
We are proud to present to Los Angeles the distinguished guest Sir Henry Lunn. The most influential people in Los Angeles should hear him.
The brilliant banker, whose name is secret has given me plenty to do in the evening service. I am glad to meet the questions of a real man.
Yours for getting at the truth, FRANK DYER

The observation platform of the parlor car never deserved its name as it does now. It's quite time-beguiling just to observe the widely diversified affectations of the girl smokers.

GETTING WORSE

They used to talk of warfare, but now they speak only of war; because nowadays it isn't fair—or, at least, all sorts of things are fair which would have been considered most unfair in less civilized times.

THE KING ROW

All the late wars have been pretty hard on kings, and the Chinese war is no exception. Nanking has been having an awful time and no doubt Peking is tremendously worried over its future.

SLIP RIGHT THROUGH

The mills of the gods grind slowly, but grind exceeding small. The divorce mills in Reno, Paris and elsewhere grind much more rapidly for the reason that a good many of the folks they grind already are as small as they can be.

EASY PICKINGS

It is clear that the immortal Peter Piper, who became famous for picking a peck of pickled peppers, couldn't have been a Southern Californian. Out here he would have found it so much easier and pleasanter to pick a peck of perfect poppies.

HANDICAPS IN FIGHTS

We've seen several unconvincing explanations of the disappearance of the pigtails Chinamen used to wear, but now we suspect we know the reason. A dispatch from Peking says the women of China, long held in semislavery, have lost all awe of men now and are ready to fight for their rights.

MERCY BULLETS

A humane member of the Field Museum has invented a bullet which shoots animals unconscious. It is coated with chemicals which, upon entering the blood-stream, causes victims to go to sleep. Chemicals used by bootleggers likewise render animals unconscious and it takes only half a shot.

NEED A SAFETY ZONE

The League of Nations might take a leaf from traffic rules and create a safety zone in the Balkans. There might be at least a coign of protection for the innocent pedestrian. Such a zone could properly be in the keeping of the League and any blunderhead who sought to jam his way through with a sword would be run into the hoosgow.

INTERNATIONAL SPITE FENCES

We read much nowadays of the wrongheadedness of the various European nations whose allies we were in the war. Newspapers raising voices unfriendly to Europe charge that the nations involved have attempted to bilk us out of money due, that they have shown an intractable spirit, preferring to bicker and quarrel and feed their ancient grudges rather than to adjust and conciliate and forgive, that they are unwilling to cut down their armament expenditures, to shoulder their inevitably enormous load of taxation and to carry on in a chastened and enlightened spirit.

These anti-European sentiments in the American press are to a considerable extent retaliatory expressions which have their cause in Europe's criticism of America, with both sides wrong, but with Europe perhaps in the position of original aggressor. Europe charges that we let them down on the League of Nations, that we have been too business-like and too exacting in our policy on the war loans, that we profiteered in the war and then became cocky and intolerant in our prosperity, that we have been callous to their suffering and sacrifices in the war and throughout the long and bitter period of readjustment.

All this has been taken up on this side of the Atlantic and unduly emphasized. It has become popular to suggest that Americans adopt the policy of leaving Europe strictly alone, especially in regard to European travel. For, we are told, by remaining away we can soon teach Europe how greatly benefited she is by that travel. This is urged as an effective method of "bringing Europe to her senses."

Indeed, it would be effective. A sudden stoppage of American tourist expenditures in Europe would be the last straw of disaster on the back of the European camel, which is now staggering along with a load of debt that is unprecedented in history.

Europe's yearly payments to this country, including interest and amortization, amount in round numbers to about $600,000,000. The visible merchandise balance against her is roughly $1,000,000,000. This means a total adverse balance of $1,600,000,000 that must be found each year in order to continue solvent.

This vast sum is being provided in the following manner: American tourists spend $600,000,000 yearly, which takes care of the interest and amortization payments. Foreigners living here regularly remit to their relatives abroad about $300,000,000 more; American bankers have for the past four years regularly loaned about $700,000,000, thus enabling Europe, though going into debt deeper each year, to stave off actual bankruptcy.

Now, if the hot-headed among us had their way, what would happen? Cut off that $600,000,000 tourist expenditure or any large part of it and the payments of interest and amortization would have to be cared for by new loans to equal that amount.

But this pyramiding of loans cannot go on forever. International credit, while fairly elastic, does finally come to the breaking point. A collapse of the credit structure of the nations of Europe, which would occur if they became unable to meet their obligations, would be a staggering blow to us. The world is too closely knit financially and economically for one great section to go bankrupt without all the rest of the world being gravely affected.

Europe is our best customer. Our exports to the European countries alone in the last fiscal year amounted to $2,333,660,248. If the leading nations there go broke our export market will be disastrously curtailed. Production will have to be reduced to meet the narrowing market and the result will be depression at home, bankruptcy abroad and a general dislocation of international commercial and credit conditions.

In the absence of any other method of helping, the cheapest plan to follow is for Americans to "see Europe till it hurts." This plan may appear a purely selfish one, but it is enlightened selfishness. And enlightened selfishness, intelligently directed, is an effective method of achieving good results.

Thus far the question has been discussed from a purely business point of view. But even the American business man, so jauntily derided by such literary scoffers as Sinclair Lewis, is not so short-sighted nor so selfish as to put our hoped-for friendly relations with Europe strictly and only on a business basis nor does he think that a desire to get our money back should be our principal reason for being decent. For he realizes that there is another and even more important aspect of the question of our relation to the European nations. This is the one concerned with the promotion of kindly human relations through enlightened international intercourse. They know that Americans should continue to go to Europe and Europeans should come to America and one of the chief purposes of such interchange should be the development of a mutual understanding.

International intercourse through the channels of commerce, travel, education and mutual study is the one route through which international misunderstandings ultimately will be eliminated. The man who, unknown, appears a bully or a braggart, a miser or a freak frequently turns out upon acquaintance to be much like the rest of us, after all. Nine-tenths of our differences with Mexico, with Nicaragua and with other countries are directly traceable to the fact that we cannot see things with their eyes nor they with ours—in other words, because of the lack of mutual understanding that comes from contact.

The suggested European boycott is merely an international spite fence. And a spite fence never helped to make better neighbors.

STOPPING THE SMUT

A New York judge has given workhouse sentences to the authors and producers of one of the smutty plays that have been festering the metropolis. This should be a highly effective manner of correcting an evil—especially if the judgment of the court is properly carried out. The actors in the play were released under suspended sentence. This is fair enough, as they but did as they were required in order to hold their jobs. If the police form the habit of gathering in the authors and promoters of immoral dramas the wave of smut would soon subside. No other censorship is necessary.

VAUDEVILLE ARTISTS' BENEFIT

Tonight the National Vaudeville Artists stage their fifth annual benefit with special performances to be held in every vaudeville theater throughout the country. Theater lovers in Los Angeles have a double incentive for attending the performances scheduled for this city.

A large number of stage stars will play hosts for the N.V.A. at our various vaudeville theaters. Leaders of the screen and stage are nowhere better known or more highly appreciated than in this center of dramatic art which has popularized the name of Hollywood over the whole civilized world.

But the chief appeal for a banner attendance comes from the benevolent and altruistic motive of the players who have given their services for the success of a worthy movement. The N.V.A. was instituted five years ago to take care of the sick, suffering and unfortunate members of their craft which brings pleasure and entertainment to so many thousands annually. It provides camps for the tubercular, pensions for invalids, assistance for the maimed and crippled, insurance for vaudeville artists and grants, when needed, for their dependents.

So good a cause, backed by so brilliant a galaxy of artists, will certainly find favor with theater-goers of a city that owes much to the presence here of so many outstanding stars of the dramatic profession.

A TENSE SITUATION

No matter what its aims or pretensions, no Chinese faction can shoot down American citizens, despoil American property and trample the American flag with impunity. Peaceful though our intentions and overtures have been toward China, which we never have sought to exploit or dominate, the new government at Hankow, drunk with power and unable or, as it would seem, unwilling, to prevent its mobs from harassing our nationals and looting and destroying their property, has itself defied and insulted our people and their nation. Reparation must be made and assurance given that there will be no further molestation of Americans in the Cantonese provinces, else it will be necessary to take the same steps we took in concert with the other powers at the time of the Boxer depredations.

Exchanges are in progress between various national capitals on the subject of concerted representations and demands to be made upon the Hankow government. It is sincerely to be hoped that whatever demands are made will be promptly acceded to. If the defiant attitude of the Cantonese toward the peaceful foreign element in China is persisted in despite these reasonable requisitions, punitive measures must be taken.

It is all very well for Chang Kai-Shek to shout his slogan of "China for the Chinese." Our government never has questioned the perfect right of China to manage its own affairs. We showed our willingness in this respect by our overtures to the other powers to relinquish all control of customs and abandon the extraterritorial policy to which we never were wedded, but which was insisted upon by Britain and Japan, with which nations we were operating in what might be termed loose accord.

But now that Britain, under force of circumstances, has shown its willingness to relinquish extraterritorial power and with the United States, Japan and other powers, is maintaining an attitude which should assure the Cantonese that our hands-off policy is a sincere one and that all that is desired for the present is the protection of foreign citizens in China, the insolent tone of Chang's statements regarding foreigners, as well as the outrageous treatment of them by his soldiers, is not to be borne. Should he persist in his defiance of the reasonable requirements of the powers he will probably have far more trouble with them than he has had with the northern war lords.

Chang can well afford to be decent in this matter. He has the good wishes of America in his attempt to stabilize affairs in China, provided he can keep clear of Russian influence, which he lately has repudiated, though not as convincingly as might be. It is to be conceded that our interest in such stabilization is not only a sentimental, but a business one. Writing in Forbes' Magazine, Robert Dollar, the Pacific Coast shipping magnate, says that when the warring factions in China have made peace "the greatest development in the world's trade is going to be in China." That we shall have our share in that trade is obvious. For many years China should provide a market of the first magnitude for American goods.

This is one of the reasons why it is to our interest to see peace and order restored in that country. But the prime reason is the assurance that our nationals shall be able to visit or reside in that land with no more fear of molestation than in other countries. This is imperative, and the fact soon will be impressed upon the Cantonese in a way that will make them understand and respect it.

"China for the Chinese." Well and good, and the sooner the better. But it must be a China that will afford the same protection to the people of other countries that it does to those of its own.

AN UNWORTHY ATTACK

The attempt of the rum runners and their friends to wield a corrupt influence in the courts of New York has fortunately come to naught. Judge Frank Cooper of the United States District Court for Northern New York was known as the bootleggers' and smugglers' most active enemy. He not only punished severely those who came into his court, but his activities in defense of the Eighteenth Amendment went further. He was constantly calling the attention of the law-enforcement officers to violations with which he was familiar, and stoutly demanding the arrest of such individuals.

His activity in upholding the law of his country came near to being his downfall. An attempt was made by Representative La Guardia of New York, champion of the East Side's rights to sell or drink hard liquors, and Representative Seller of Brooklyn to have the judge impeached upon the somewhat amazing ground that he had no right to interest himself in the enforcement of the law. In this manner the interests that are opposed to prohibition hoped not only to punish the judge for his actions, but to hold a club over the heads of other Federal judges who might seek to emulate him.

The House Judiciary Committee refused to take any action after hearing the so-called evidence submitted by the jurists' critics. We are a nation of many inconsistencies, but it would assuredly have been the most inconsistent action imaginable to punish a judge for upholding the very Constitution that his oath of office required him to obey and enforce.

TO A MOCKING BIRD

By James J. Montague

I used to wonder why the bards
Who sung the trifling skylark's praise
Expressed no very high regards
For your far more exalted lays.
For long I used to wonder why
So many of them sang about
That feeble minstrel of the sky

Beside your notes, the nightingale's
Which oft in Europe I have heard
Are but the inharmonious wails
Of a poor, weak, apprentice bird.
I wondered what peculiar whim
Made countless major poets ply
Their pens in deathless songs to him.
And pass you by.

But now I know. That urge for song
That stirs within your slaty breast
Through all the day and night along
Gives neither of us any rest.
I love to hear your silver trill
Out yonder in the woody deep,
It moves me to the core, but still
One has to sleep.

No bard can rise to glorious flights,
Nor ever pretty verses make
Whom for a half a dozen nights
Relentlessly you've kept awake.
There is no songster I have heard
Whose music yours can even touch,
You beat them all, but listen, bird—
You sing too much!

A Commuter's View

MONROVIA, March 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It seems to be the opinion of the commuters that the proposed schedule will not prove or disprove anything, unless it be the desire of the Pacific Electric Company to eliminate all daily commutation privileges, which might tend to increase the population of Los Angeles by the number of residents in suburban towns who could not afford to pay full fares daily nor put up with the decreased number of cars which would be an inevitable result of a decrease in the number of passengers; and this also would affect the freight business to these towns, for a decrease in population would mean less business in all lines.

We presume that the Pacific Electric could handle at least twice the present number of passengers without any appreciable increase in either equipment or personnel, and if, as they contend, their most formidable competition is in busses and private automobiles, why do they not meet competition as all business men meet it by lower prices and better service? Is it not reasonable to assume that, if daily commutation books are discontinued, many of those commuters who continue to reside in outlying towns would use their own cars and the family would ride with them and so Los Angeles would be in an almost unique position in the matter of suburban commutation as compared with other large cities? Too Noisy

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to protest against an unmitigated nuisance in our city. The yelling of newsboys on our streets is becoming intolerable. Must the patient public submit to such a nuisance? It has reached the point where people dislike to wait on certain business corners where these vociferous news venders congregate.

The raucous shouting, far into the night, is more destructive to sleep than the trolley cars. Why do the city authorities tolerate it? If one wants to buy a paper on the street he can see the boy. Bawling out "extry" makes no impression on intelligent minds.

In walking from Westlake Park to Broadway yesterday morning my ear was bombarded at different street corners as follows: Alvarado—"Henry Ford in a smash-up." Figueroa—"Henry Ford dying." Broadway—"Henry Ford dead." The Broadway cryer evidently knew he was lying and slightly muffled the last word.

Shouting of so-called news on our streets is a shame. I don't refer to papers which come to our homes in a quiet, orderly way, but the noisy, huckstering through the day and far into the night is a nuisance that should be abated.

So Simple

PASADENA, March 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In a recent Times editorial I was much interested to read of the danger of infection from "licking" stamps—both postage stamps and Christmas seals. An alternative method of affixing stamps to envelopes presents itself, simplicity itself and universally available to rich and poor, not only for those who pay bills, but for those who present them—a veritable panacea for stamp-lickers.

In short, why not lick the envelope instead of the stamp? Clever! What? You see, unless the envelope is unusually porous the scheme works beautifully, and there is no layer of glutinous animal matter on the envelope to pick up moisture from the air and become a breeding ground for promiscuous I'll bugs.

So much for stamps, envelopes, nasty little disease germs and the public health.

Nobody Is Safe

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read an editorial from the Saturday Evening Post regarding criminal laws. I know The Times has been giving this matter much attention and wish to encourage you and say "keep at it" until we can get real, strict criminal laws in California, such as they have in England and other places. I just read of another bold "Texas" style hold-up today, so it seems we never know whose turn it may be next. A safe has just been robbed in our own store (Yawman & Erbe Co., 905 South Hill street,) so it seems that nobody is immune nowadays.

Yours for more protection to the citizens and better prosecution for the criminals.

UNSHAKEN FAITH

I've traveled to the heights of me,
Bestirred my very soul,
Into the depths that I possessed
To reach emotion's goal.

I've gained a treasured memory
For single moments spent
Within the confines of my heart
Upon adventure bent.

I've delved into unknown spheres
To find but weakness there.
A travesty on life itself,
Without a thought or care.

But there is nowhere else on earth
So vile, so low a thief
As he who tries to rob from me
A well-confirmed belief.

Who dares to take the faith that I
Hold in my fellow-man,
Nor will it ever weaken me
In giving what I can.

Nancey, P more High School, and Angus Maughan, Richfield High School. other district managers are O. Reeves, Carbon County High Sch and L. B. Harmon, Provo High Sch

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Milliken announced that district contest will be held the 2 inst., with some seven or eight scho participating. This district manag has had previous experience with contest, and is lavish in his pra of its aims and objects. He says:

"Among numerous essay and o torical contests this is one of the b The subject is most worth while. L like most contests, this is fostered many interests and does not adv the some special line and is not pu agenda. I have had considerable perience with this contest in anot State and am strongly in its favor."

Mr. Merrill stated that he planned a district contest to be he at Ogden either the 28th or 2 inst., and expects that a majority the schools within the district have contestants on hand. The G den High School, according to Merrill, "has been very much in ested in recent years in the natio rifle shooting contest, sponsored a Chicago newspaper, he stated won first place in 1925 and 1926, in the national band contest sp sored by the National Musical As sation, in which we won third pl in 1926; it is only natural, t fore, that we should be very mu interested in entering this publi oratorical contest. We believe it w be a wonderful thing for our sch and we are very appreciative of t opportunity of entering."

PROSPECT EXCELLENT

Mr. Crowwood states that the d trict contest will be held at Sa City with some five or six scho participating on April 29.

"The Park City High School deeply interested in the natio contest to be held in this secti he says. "District five will be to make this contest a success schools have stated they would b every effort to make the contest over big in this State."

There is fine prospect of m schools participating in the dist presided over by Mr. Haney. T seat of this contest will be Fillm the most centrally located point.

"If the founders of our Constit tion were alive today they would c tainly appreciate the value and sc of this world-wide civic program attainable," says Mr. Haney.

Thirteen schools are expected be present at the Richfield cont according to Mr. Maughan, this c test to be held on the 30th inst. T educator is still another with enco ums for the oratorical contest. says:

"I consider the National Orator Contest on the Constitution the b means that has yet been sugge for developing a better understa ing of the Constitution of the Uni States, and for increasing an in est and appreciation for that imp tant document among the young m and women of our country of h school age."

Sectional Finals Will be Held 29th Inst.

Utah, latest addition to the Pacific-Southwest zone in the Fourth National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution—this zone being sponsored by the Los Angeles Times—shows every indication of entering heart and soul into the task of winning, through one of her high school youths, high honors in this national effort.

According to information emanating from a gathering held in Salt Lake City during the week, the State has been divided into seven districts, these districts embracing every high school in Utah, both church and state institutions. Competitions will be held in the various schools prior to the 29th inst., on which date district contests will be held to select youthful orators to participate in the state finals at Salt Lake City, May 6, the winner of this event to represent the State at The Times grand finals May 13.

Five of the seven district managers were present at the conference and expressed themselves as delighted in being permitted to participate in so worthy a cause. Those present were Dean E. Milliken, East High School, Salt Lake City; A. M. Merrill, Ogden High School; L. D. Greenwood, Park City High School; J. E. Nancey, Fillmore High School, and Angus M. Vaughan, Richfield High School. The other district managers are G. L. Reeve, Carbon County High School, and I. B. Harmon, Provo High School.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCES

Mr. Milliken announced that his district contest will be held the 28th inst., with some seven or eight schools participating. This district manager has had previous experience with the contest, and is lavish in his praise of its aims and objects. He says:

"Among numerous essay and oratorical contests this is one of the best. The subject is most worth while. Unlike most contests, this is fostered by many interests and does not advertise some special line and is not propaganda. I have had considerable experience with this contest in another state and am strongly for it."

Mr. Merrill states that he has planned a district contest to be held at Ogden either the 26th or 29th inst., and expects that a majority of the schools within the district will have contestants on hand. The Ogden High School, according to Mr. Merrill, "has been very much interested in recent years in the national title shooting contest, sponsored by a Chicago newspaper, in which we won first place in 1926 and 1926, and in the national extemporaneous speech contest of the National Forensic Association, in which we won third place in 1926; it is only natural, therefore, that we should be very much interested in entering this national oratorical contest. We believe it will be a wonderful thing for our school and we are very appreciative of the opportunity of entering."

PROSPECT EXCELLENT

Mr. Greenwood states that the district contest will be held at Heber City with some five or six schools participating on April 30.

"The Park City High School is deeply interested in the national contest to be held in this section," he says. "District fifty will be out to make this contest a success. All schools have stated they would send every pupil to speak, the contest go over big in this State."

There is fine prospect of nine schools participating in the district presided over by Mr. Nancey. The seat of this contest will be Fillmore, the most centrally located point.

"If the founders of our Constitution were alive today they would certainly appreciate the value and scope of this world-wide civic program for citizenship," says Mr. Nancey.

Thirteen schools are expected to be present at the Richfield contest, according to Mr. Maughan, this contest to be held on the 29th inst. This district is still another with encomiums for the oratorical contest. He says:

"I consider the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution the best means that has yet been suggested for developing a better understanding of the Constitution of the United States, and for increasing an interest and appreciation for that important document among the young men and women of our country of high school age."

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

In addition to this representation from the ranks of the educators the meeting was attended by representatives of the Salt Lake City Tribune, the Salt Lake City Telegram and members of civic organizations. These gentlemen were equally strong in their praise of the contest, joining with the teaching fraternity in extending full support to the conduct of the contest in the State of Utah.

In addition to the prizes offered in the many advanced stages of the contest by The Times, plans are being made to award prizes within the schools individually and the seven Utah districts. It is believed this will prove a means of stimulating a deeper interest, besides offering association awards for willing workers who fail to reach the oratorical heights necessary to capture first place in such a nation-embracing contest. This is in line with plans consummated elsewhere throughout this zone.

GIRL ROUTS VASELINE BURGLAR

Shot Fired at Man Saves Sister's Jewels

Wilma Rehak

TACTICS of the vaseline burglar, who made his appearance yesterday at the home of Mrs. Julia Rehak, 1286 West Fifty-second street, held no terror for Wilma Rehak, 15 years of age. Manipulation of a six-shooter in the hands of Wilma when she interrupted the intruder in the act of stripping a diamond ring from the finger of one of her sisters in an adjoining room sent him into precipitous flight and made her the neighborhood heroine of the day.

"Keep quiet and give me that ring or I'll throw acid in your face," threatened the interloper, according to Mary Rehak, 24, when she was aroused from slumber shortly before dawn yesterday morning. Miss Rehak slipped a diamond engagement ring from her left hand and concealed it as the burglar applied a greasy substance, believed to be vaseline, to a finger of her right hand and attempted to wrench free another diamond ring she was wearing.

At this juncture the younger sister appeared with a revolver and told the intruder to throw up his hands. Instead he fled, a bullet from the revolver missing him by inches. The girl followed him out of the rear door of the house and fired again as he disappeared down an alley.

SKY ARTIST DEPARTS ON SKETCH TRIP

Aspiring to artistic heights hitherto unattained, Albert C. Essig, artist of Los Angeles, who also is vice-president of the newly organized Sunset Air Lines, Inc., took off in a Ryan monoplane from the Pacific Air Transport field yesterday to complete a series of poster sketches depicting scenic beauties of California and the Pacific Coast as seen from the pilot's seat along the air mail route between Los Angeles and Seattle. Essig's posters are to be displayed at air mail depots, postoffices and other stations where air mail is being handled, by the Pacific Air Transport planes.

He was accompanied on his airy venture in aviation art by J. L. Mushett, Southern California superintendent of the Pacific Air Transport, and Eddie Meher, air mail pilot.

The Sunset Air Lines, Inc., will cover the route between Los Angeles and San Diego with new passenger ships, Essig said. Actual operation will not start until every detail of equipment is ready for the conduct of an up-to-the-minute air transport service fitted for the safe and speedy carrying of passengers and express on an established schedule.

WINE CASE SENTENCES DUE TODAY

Jury Convicts Santo and Thomas Following Bitter Battle in Court

Convicted by a jury on charges of sale and possession of liquor but only after one of the bitterest legal fights ever waged in a local liquor court, Vito Santo and Tony Thomas today will appear before Municipal Judge Stafford for sentence.

The verdict was returned against the two yesterday after nearly three days of testimony and rebuttal, with prosecution and defense attorneys clashing throughout the trial. The case was given to the jury by Judge Stafford early in the morning and a verdict was returned shortly before noon.

Santo and Thomas were arrested on the night of February 4, last, at 894 Cleveland street, by a liquor squad under Officer Gibson. According to Chief Trial Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard, the two defendants sold Officer Howard one quart of wine. Seventeen more quarts were found in a secret plant, Mr. Eberhard contended.

Defense Attorneys W. T. Kendrick, Jr., and Clarence B. Conlin in their fight produced testimony of asserted mistreatment by the officers of Jim Munlo and his sister, Mrs. Nancy Castantino. The latter two yesterday appeared for trial before Judge Stafford on charges of resisting an officer.

Officer Gibson charges in his report on the case that the Munlo gang has been reported by the Juvenile Department and the Board of Education as selling liquor to school children. No testimony involving the two defendants in these charges, however, was introduced.

DEBT STAND OF ENGLAND COMMENDED

Shortridge Lauds British Sportmanship in Speech at Breakfast Club

An American-English love feast developed at yesterday morning's meeting of the Breakfast Club, following the address of Dr. Bruce Baxter of the University of Southern California on the subject, "Is England Decadent?" when United States Senator Shortridge concurred in the preceding speaker's expressed opinion that England is the exemplar of sportsmanship and sincerity in her attitude on the war-debt situation.

Senator Shortridge added the statement: "I think it is but just to say, and to remind the world, that we were not only just but generous in our war-debt settlements; and that these debts should not be canceled, the professors of Princeton and Columbia to the contrary notwithstanding." He also prophesied that the coming session of Congress will further reduce Federal taxes.

Pair Sentenced to Jail Term in Narcotics Sale

Milford F. Ormes of Pasadena, and his wife, Grace, yesterday were sentenced by Judge Craig to spend a year each in the County Jail on a charge of sale of narcotics. The pair had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Several weeks ago the Ormes appeared before Judge Craig on charges of possession of narcotics and at that time were allowed to enter the State Hospital at Patton on their own affidavits that they were drug addicts and desired to take treatment at the institution looking toward a cure.

It was reported yesterday to the court that they had received all the treatment available at the State institution and were well on the road to a permanent cure.

In sentencing the pair to the County Jail, Judge Craig stated he felt they should be confined for the period he prescribed in order to remove them from the menace of drugs until all question as to their cure of addiction has been removed.

Custom-Built Chevrolet Cars to be Exhibited

An interesting and attractive display of custom-built Chevrolet automobiles will open at the J. V. Baldwin Motor Company, Fifteenth and Figueroa streets, this morning. Thousands of persons are expected to visit the novel display, which is said to constitute the first individual automobile show of custom-built Chevrolets.

Local residents, whether users of the Chevrolet or not, will be interested in the show because, although the bodies to be shown are strictly custom built, they have been entirely constructed in the local Chevrolet plant. There will be many and varied accessories and trimmings, combined with novel and snappy designs, special tops, wire, disc and wood wheels, gay colors and special fittings characteristic of the more expensive automobiles. The show, which will be open daily, will close Sunday evening, the 10th inst.

DUNI DENIES FIGHTING BILL 857 IN SENATE

Denial was made yesterday by L. Duni, head of a local detective service, that he was present at a special meeting of the California Association of Detective Agencies Thursday in the offices of the Belger Detective Agency, Sun Building. At the meeting methods of opposing certain sections of a bill known as Senate Bill, No. 857, were outlined, Mr. Duni stated he is not opposed to the measure. According to officials of the association, Mr. Duni was elected to the board of governors of the association when it was organized last February in Fresno and to their knowledge there is no record of his resignation.

Dealers Here Will Meet Olds Officials Today

At noon today at the Jonathan Club, Oldsmobile dealers from all over Southern California will gather to attend a meeting to be presided over by D. S. Eddins, vice-president and general sales manager of the Olds Motor Works, who is due to arrive here this morning. Eddins is accompanied by F. G. W. Sudrow, Pacific Coast zone manager for Olds; R. M. Hatfield, manager of the parts division, and F. C. DeBerry, of the sales promotion division. The two latter officials are from the factory offices at Lansing, Mich.

Today's meeting is for the purpose of outlining an intensive spring sales drive which is to commence at once, and to emphasize to the dealers the benefits which the Pacific Coast dealers' organization will derive from the direct factory branch which the Olds Motor Works recently opened in San Francisco.

Judge Bullock Much Improved but Keeps Abed

Judge Georgia Bullock of the Municipal Court woman's division was much improved yesterday following her sudden illness Thursday while at work in her chambers.

However, she is under the orders of her physician to remain absolutely quiet in bed for several days. The attack suffered by Judge Bullock was caused by an injury to her back several years ago rather than overwrought nerves, she said.

"My physician says for me to rest and I am going to follow his advice," said Judge Bullock over the phone. "If I didn't I wouldn't be showing good judgment that I am supposed to have."

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER BUSY

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Several important players have been added to casts of pictures being prepared at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

GRETA GARBO

Three companies started working during the past few days, and two more will start the first of next week. Every director on the lot is busy working, cutting or preparing.

Under the direction of Victor Seastrom, "The Wind," Lillian Gish's starring vehicle, got under way yesterday with Lars Hanson in the featured male role and with a supporting cast that includes Dorothy Cummings, Edward Earle, William Orlamond, Carmencita Johnson, Leon Ramon and Billy Kent Schaeffer. The picture will be Frances Marion's screen version of the Dorothy Scarborough novel of the Texas Panhandle.

At the same time Director George Hill began work on "The Callahans and the Murphys," by Kathleen Norris, which Miss Marion has prepared as a screen play. Sally O'Neil appears in the featured feminine lead with a large cast which includes Lawrence Grey, Gertrude Olmstead, Marie Dressler, Frank Currier, Eddie Gribbon, Dawn O'Day, Monty O'Grady, Polly Moran, Tom Lewis, Turner Savage, Jackie Coombs and Hannah Washington.

"His Brother from Brazil," a riotous farce comedy, which is to mark the screen debut of Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle as a co-starring team, also started yesterday under the direction of Robert Z. Leonard. The story, in which Cody plays a dual role of twin brothers, is an original from the pens of F. Hugh Herbert and Florence Ryerson, authors of "On Ze Boulevard," "The Demi-bride," "Smarty," and other screen plays. The supporting cast includes Gwen Lee, Gertrude Short, Hedda Hopper, John T. Murray and others.

"Anna Karenina," planned by M.-G.-M. as one of their great pictures for next season, will go into production next week under the direction of Dimitri Buchowetzki. One of the greatest casts of the year is being assembled for the translation of Count Leo Tolstoy's drama from novel to screen.

Greta Garbo is to have the role of the heroine and Ricardo Cortez has been borrowed from Famous Players-Lasky to play the leading romantic male role. Lionel Barrymore and Zasu Pitts have important roles in Lorna Moon's screen version of the Russian story. Prince Youcca Troubetzkoy has another part in the picture.

Reginald Barker has been assigned by Hunt Stromberg to direct Tim McCoy in Rose Wilde and Madeleine Ruthven's original story, "The Frontiersman," which also gets under way next week. Claire Windsor and Dorothy Sebastian have the leading feminine roles of this colorful story of Gen. Andrew Jackson's terrific revenge on the Creek Indians for the massacre of white settlers at Ft. Mims, Ala.

Three big specials, which M.-G.-M. are making, are well under way. They are "Old Heidelberg," directed by Ernst Lubitsch and starring Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer; "The Trail of '98," directed by Clarence Brown and featuring Ralph Forbes, Dolores Del Rio and Harry Carey, and "The Crowd," King Vidor's production, featuring Eleanor Boardman and James Murray.

Madge Bellamy with Fox

Whatever difficulties Madge Bellamy and Fox may have had in the past, the fact remains that Miss Bellamy once more is back at the Fox studio. She has just been signed for the featured feminine lead in "Colleen," a Randall Faye story which Frank O'Connor will direct.

MADGE BELLAMY

The charming young actress was formerly under contract to Fox, which organization she left a few months ago following the close of her contract with the company. She went to New York and appeared in a picture for Paramount, returning here a few weeks ago.

Miss Bellamy, during the past year or two, has been making such rapid strides in the popular favor, notably in a number of Fox pictures, that her services are much in demand. In "Colleen" she will have a charming role.

There is a rumor that Miss Bellamy may again sign a contract with Fox, but no confirmation was forthcoming from the studio yesterday.

Mrs. Reynolds to Return

Kathleen O'Connor, the beautiful young wife of the late Lynn Reynolds, whose tragic death by suicide occurred a few weeks ago, will probably return to the screen, according to the word of her closest friends, who have visited her in her retirement.

The young actress was a leading woman and well on the way to stardom when she met and wed the director, Lynn Reynolds. She played in pictures with Tom Mix and others.

While Mrs. Reynolds is by no means under dire necessity to work, it is said by her friends that in her sorrow she desires the diversion of work.

Patsy Ruth With Universal

Now that Patsy Ruth Miller is free to pick and choose her roles, having finished her contract with Warner Brothers, she is being sought by many companies for principal roles.

Patsy Ruth Miller

She signed yesterday with Universal to play the star role in "Patents Pending," production of which is scheduled to begin next Wednesday, with William Craft directing.

The story was written especially for Miss Miller by Harry Hoyt, noted author and director, who directed "The Lost World" and other noteworthy pictures.

Other members of a feature cast will be announced within a few days.

"Gingham Girl" Starts

"The Gingham Girl," which David Kirkland will direct for F. B. O., is to start on Monday morning, with Lois Wilson in the star role, and with George K. Arthur playing opposite her.

It is reported likely that Dorothy Perdue, absent from the screen during several months, will have a part in the picture, and Hazel Keaner also has been added to the cast.

Lois Wilson declares that she is most happy to be at home again, and hasn't done so much partying in years.

"In New York I used to go to bed at 10 o'clock," she declared, "except occasionally on a Saturday night. I used to go on fishing trips in the warm weather, and in winter time I spent a good deal of time with Gloria Swanson and her husband during week-ends at their home in Croton-on-the-Hudson.

Miss Wilson has just bought a beautiful new home in Beverly Hills, to which she expects to move within a week or two.

"BREAKFAST" SHOW TODAY

"Daphne," a child fairy play in two acts, will be presented by the Hollywood Playhouse at the Breakfast matinee this morning at 11 o'clock. These matinees are especially for children, although they are interesting to older persons also.

"VENUS OF VENICE" DELIGHTFUL FARCE

Constance Talmadge Opus at Loew's Enacted Lightly and Joyously

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

"Venus of Venice," at Loew's State this week, is not only one of the most piesantly provocative titles thrown on the screen recently, but back of the title is an amusing Will o' the Wisp of a plot.

Added to an already enjoyable feature is the still more agreeable fact that Constance Talmadge is the Venus of Venice. Constance hasn't made many screen appearances of late, so her current opus is something of an event.

As you have probably surmised, the locale of the film is Venice, that particularly bright jewel of Italian cities. Sets are pictorial in the extreme, marble palaces, gardens, and winding canals, and apparently they are all authentic. And the picture is played lightly and joyously, which, of course, is exactly the way a Venetian romance should be played.

To tell the plot would be akin to divulging the different ingredients in a particularly delectable French pastry. While the finished product is an optical feast, the "makings" are much less interesting. So it is with "Venus of Venice." There is nothing new to the story itself, just the old premise of a rich young man who undertakes to reform a lovely pickpocket, and in the end falls in love with her. But Marshall Neilan, who directed this United Artists' feature, has dressed the old chestnut in a 1927 spring bonnet until you would never recognize it as our little Nell.

Constance Talmadge is quite ravishing as naughty Carlotta, the Venetian light-fingered artist. The role does not afford any notable acting opportunities, but the younger Talmadge proves again her superior attainments as a light comedienne. She is beautifully photographed in the carnival sequence, too.

"Venus of Venice" should prove much more popular with the Talmadge following—and it is apparently legion judging by yesterday's audience—than "The Duchess of Buffalo."

Antonio Moreno is handsome and sufficiently dashing as the young man who undertakes to reform Carlotta. He surprises, also, by doing a swan dive, a la Fairbanks, from a third-story window to the lagoon below.

Michael Vavitch is quite decidedly a sinister, brutal presence as Marco, the man who would hold Carlotta to a criminal career. Julanne Johnston is lovely in a brief appearance, with Edward Martindel and Hedda Hopper scoring in supporting roles. Carmelita Geraghty and Mario Carillo appear but briefly in a wedding sequence, which opens the picture.

George Marion's titles are worthy ones.

Panchon and Marco present this week the "Hi-Brown Idea," with a big cast of colored entertainers. Whether or not it is the best presentation seen at Loew's recently, it assuredly is the noisiest. The dancing is particularly good, however. Angelus Babe, Ivy Anderson, "Strut" Marshall and Harold Halsell are steppers par excelelnce. Dewey Johnson has a pleasant voice, and the Hi-Brown beauties offer some lively Black Bottom steps. The Cat dance is effective among the chorus drills.

Gene Morgan officially opens the summer season this week by appearing in ice-cream pants.

Eddie Peabody Breaks Record for Attendance

Frank L. Newman, managing director of the Los Angeles Publix Theaters, announced yesterday that all attendance records at the Metropolitan Theater had fallen Thursday with the capacity audiences which stormed the Metropolitan to see Eddie Peabody, "diminutive banjomaniac," who returned to Los Angeles after an absence of several months.

"Yankee Rose" is the name of the Jack Partington presentation in which Eddie makes his return to the magic stages at the Metropolitan. The wizard of harmony offers a large variety of new banjo numbers, as well as the old favorites which Thursday's audiences clamored for. Crowds waited in front of the theater all day yesterday and the S.R.O. sign was out from the time the doors opened for the morning show.

FANNIE WARD HEADS HILLSTREET PROGRAM

Fannie Ward, the 61-year-old flapper, who is heading the Hillstreet bill this week in a comedy playlet, "The Miracle Woman," is to give a free matinee Tuesday at 11 o'clock, when she will lecture on her battle with old age and time.

At this special matinee, Miss Ward will give minute details of her beauty secrets and will answer any questions at a reception immediately after this special performance in the foyer of the Hillstreet. Should any gentlemen feel that they need beauty advice, they are privileged to attend this performance.

CAMERA EXPERT IS VISITING STUDIOS

Among those now in Hollywood visiting the various studios of the cinema is Hubert H. Lucker, of the Detroit firm of Gleason & Lucker, manufacturers of cameras and motion-picture apparatus.

Mr. Lucker is known wherever films are made and discussed as one of the originators and pioneers in the construction of slow motion-picture cameras and other detailed branches of the photographic art.

Leading Lady at Morosco

Kay Hammond

DOUBLE BILL AT FIGUEROA

"Exploring the Amazon!"

This is the highly captivating title of the William Fox travelogue that is having its world premiere this week at the Figueroa Theater. "Exploring the Amazon" is said to be the first picture ever made of the South American jungles, and whether one is inclined to like or dislike the travel film, one could not help but finding himself deeply interested in the pictorial as well as the educational scenes that were flashed across the screen.

As a whole, the film is splendid, the only fault lying in its brevity. The audience that witnessed the premiere yesterday afternoon seemed a bit sorry when the final close-up faded away, and without a doubt the film could have been twice the length and still have held interest.

Of the many unusual and fascinating scenes shown in the travelogue, the most interesting proved to be a sequence filmed while visiting the village of a tribe of South American Indians known as the head hunters. Many intimate scenes of the life of these strange people were taken, including several shots of their sacred rites and meeting-places.

A bit gruesome, but of interest nevertheless, was the scene wherein was shown the process by which the savages preserve and shrink the human heads of their victims.

Extremely clever titles and an occasional map aided in making the picture a highly commendable offering.

As the feature film attraction on the program was the film version of Gene Stratton Porter's novel "The Magic Garden."

"The Magic Garden" is a highly sentimental and melodramatic love story.

The plot is highly improbable, and at times the subtitles, by sticking to the words of the book, proved fatal.

It was an excellent cast, however, that portrayed the story.

Raymonde Keane, as the young violinist gave an excellent performance and the sincerity of the young actor was one of the saving graces of the picture.

Margaret Morris made an appealing heroine.

Tiny Joyce Coad, as the heroine when a child, proved herself to be an excellent little trouper for one so young. Her portion of the footage was a goodly one and she made the most of all of her opportunities.

The same might be said of the other children in the cast, including Walter Wilkinson and Phillipe De Lacy.

Churchill is Retained for Lonsdale Play

When "Alias the Deacon" finally reaches the end of its engagement at the Hollywood Playhouse, it will be succeeded by a play with a reputation on two continents. This will be "Aren't We All," by Frederick Lonsdale, and Berton Churchill, who appears nightly as the "Deacon" in the current opus, will have the role in the Lonsdale play which Cyril Maude interpreted in New York.

"Alias the Deacon" is in its tenth week, with the final curtain nowhere in sight, so the pleasure of seeing Lonsdale's comedy will of necessity be deferred until a later date. The current play reaches its 100th performance tomorrow night. Le Roy Clemens, co-author of the latter, will be present.

"TRAGEDIES" LEAK OUT

Players Confess to Suffering for Sake of Art

Since "Is Zat So?" is enjoying a long run at the Belasco, the players have a great deal to be thankful for. There are, however, certain factors that make their lives a trifle irksome. For nine performances each week the following members of the cast have to make these sacrifices:

Gypsy O'Brien, the leading woman, never eats breakfast. She invariably rises too late to partake of this repast, and has grown to dislike morning meals. Nevertheless, she has to eat nine breakfasts a week in the play.

Robert Armstrong, one of the stars, hates the touch of flannel next to his skin, yet he has to don a flannel shirt at every performance.

James Gleason, co-author and co-star, who is an inveterate smoker, has to abstain from smoking on the stage and has to watch Bob Armstrong, who hates the weed, inhale it.

Jack King, the villain in the play, is a passive, peace-loving person off-stage, who has never been in a brawl in his life. Yet he has to take a powerful blow on the jaw from Robert Armstrong at every performance.

Jack Perry, professional prize-fighter, has never before uttered a line before an audience in his life. In "Is Zat So?" his most painful moments occur when he has to speak his lines.

Roland Hayes to Offer Last Group of Songs

Roland Hayes, colored tenor, whose unique art has attracted the musical and lay public for the past six years, will be heard tonight at the Philharmonic Auditorium, in his farewell concert here.

For the past three years, Roland Hayes has come and given his two recitals in this city to a public that completely fills the Philharmonic Auditorium. Mr. Hayes will be heard in Pasadena, Monday evening, for the third successive season.

PLAYS ROLE OF BENEFACTRESS

Ethel Clayton

Ethel Clayton makes her return to the spoken drama after an absence of several years in "The Firebrand," a romantic comedy by Edwin Justus Mayer, which will have its Los Angeles premiere tomorrow night at Theater El Capitan in Hollywood. Miss Clayton will be seen as the Duchess of Florence, whose interest in the young sculptor, Benvenuto Cellini, is considerable but hardly platonic.

Ian Keith has the role of Cellini, and William Farnum that of the Duke. These two are starred with Miss Clayton in "The Firebrand."

QUARTET ADVANCES COMPOSER'S CAUSE

Persinger Ensemble Plays New Works With Fidelity and Fine Musical Perceptions

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Last night for the third time this season the Persinger Quartet of Santa Barbara presented a concert of representative ensemble works in a finished and musicianly manner at the Beaux Arts Auditorium. Undoubtedly this quartet is giving the best ensemble music to be had in California outside of the big symphony orchestras. Los Angeles is to be congratulated on these programs. The fourth one will be given on the 14th inst.

A Beethoven quartet, the E flat major, was played in commemoration and the interesting smaller numbers included a sixteenth century air, a scherzo by Cesar Franck and an attractive hornpipe by Wallace Sabin of San Francisco.

There could be no more welcome ambassador from the northern city than the Persinger Quartet and the suggestion is offered to Messrs. Persinger, Ford, Firestone and Ferner that they could establish a fine and friendly feeling between the musical cognoscenti of San Francisco and Los Angeles by presenting works of our composers there and vice versa. At least, the composers could get fair treatment at their hands, for the players in this organization have a conscience about new works as well as old ones, and if they undertake to present a modern composer he is treated with the same courtesy as one who is established in favor.

The Debussy Quartet in G minor, which is the one with the exceptionally beautiful second and third movements marked Assez vif and Andantino, was an exquisite blending of tone and sensitive rhythmical balance. The Persingers will soon become as famous for their Debussy as they are for the Ravel Quartet after a few more performances like this one.

The Debussy requires a virtuoso quartet to play it but the effect is lost if any individual virtuoso plays independently. After ten years of intensive playing together the Persinger Quartet has achieved that desired composite sound-drawing which makes possible the reproduction of one man's ideas by four strong artist personalities.

"MATINEE LADIES" IS CONVENTIONAL

May McAvoy's Debut as Star Offers Average Entertainment With Usual Plot

BY KATHERINE LIPKE

Very much like the average program picture is "Matinee Ladies," May McAvoy's first starring vehicle under her new Warner Brothers' contract, which opened yesterday at the Uptown Theater.

It is the usual plot idea about a pure little flower blooming in the hothouse environment of a cafe surrounded by temptations, but finally stepping safely into the arms of the young law student who is earning his way through school hiring out as a dancing partner.

Frankly "Matinee Ladies" is disappointing fare to those of us who look for something different from May McAvoy. She herself is not to blame for her mediocre surroundings and gives an attractive performance throughout. However, as the plot gathers momentum and she finds herself in a houseboat with the villain on a stormy night even May herself seems lost and bewildered.

Malcolm McGregor appears as her leading man, but does little to make his role distinctive in any way. And in the love scenes he is positively tepid. More interesting is the menace portrayed by Richard Tucker, who, as a rich bootlegger, covets the little cigarette girl.

Hedda Hopper, Jean Lessercy and Cissie Fitzgerald all have small roles, which they portray quite well, and William Demarest makes an interesting roughneck. Margaret Sedden plays the mother. "Matinee Ladies" was directed by Byron Haskin.

Abe Lyman and his orchestra are on tiptoes this week with several new numbers and with them are George Givot, who does comedy songs; Scotty Weston with the clever footwork and Helen and Dartine, who dance. "The Collegians" have another picture this week. Worth watching, as usual.

Stage is Set for Benefit at Three Theaters

The stage is all set for vaudeville's show, the fifth annual N.V.A. benefit, which takes place tonight at 11:30 at the Orpheum, Pantages and Hillstreet theaters.

Last-minute additions to the list of those who will appear during the shows include Eddie Peabody of the Metropolitan Theater, Rosita, "the darling of Spain," and a quartet of comics, Ben Turpin, Louise Fazenda, Clyde Cook and Chester Conklin.

REPORTED EAGER TO ARRIVE FOR OPENING

The dedicatory festivities opening Grauman's Chinese Theater assume such importance as a festive event to George W. Kleiser, Los Angeles clubman and patron of dramatic art, that he cut short an European tour and is hurrying to this city for the function.

Just before leaving Los Angeles last December to tour in Egypt, Arabia and Continental Europe with Mrs. Kleiser, he made arrangements to entertain a party of friends at the opening of the Chinese, scheduled for early in May with Cecil B. De Mille's screen opus, "The King of Kings," as the dedicatory attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Kleiser are ardent devotees of the theater and are numbered in the audience of the socially elite that attends every opening of importance in the city.

WOMAN'S ORCHESTRA

The Woman's Symphony Orchestra gave a well-balanced program at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night, in which Marjorie Dodge again displayed the richly melodious quality of her voice to advantage, and Conductor Schoenefeld presented two short orchestral numbers of his own composing, which were received with marked enthusiasm.

The orchestra played a Mozart symphony in memory of Walter Henry Rothwell, conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

NEW MOVE FOR CURB ON LIQUOR

McNabb Leaving Today for Washington Conference

Plans to Seek Co-operation of Canada Indicated

Definite Requests for Check on Smuggling Expected

Indicating that the Federal government plans to seek the greatest possible co-operation from the Canadian government in the suppression of liquor smuggling, U. S. Dist.-Atty. McNabb will leave this morning for Washington where he will confer with Atty.-Gen. Sargent.

The Canadian government recently expressed its willingness to give further aid to the United States in putting a stop to liquor smuggling in so far as Canada is concerned, and it is expected that the conference between the Attorney General and Mr. McNabb will result in definite requests being made of Canadian officials.

The conference called by Atty.-Gen. Sargent also will consider the case of the Canadian Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., which recently was exposed by the special intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Department in Southern California. More than fifty indictments in connection with the expose were returned by the Federal grand jury in Los Angeles and an almost equal number of indictments returned in San Francisco.

Capt. George Ford, the Los Angeles agent of the Consolidated Exporters, is now a fugitive from justice and is said to be living in Canada. Marcus Aldacosta, said to have been one of the rum-runners connected with the so-called $10,000,000 Consolidated Exporters rum ring, recently was convicted in United States District Court here on charge of smuggling. Aldacosta and four co-defendants were sentenced to jail for the offense.

Mr. McNabb expects to be in the East for three weeks. He will be accompanied by his wife and son. During his absence his office here will be in charge of Asst. U. S. Atty. Simpson.

TESTIMONY IN ANDRADE CASE ENDS

Divorce Action Will be Submitted When Lawyers Conclude Arguments

Testimony was concluded yesterday in Judge Valentine's court in the trial of the contested separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Helen Louise Andrade against Albert Francis Andrade, reputed millionaire, and it was expected Judge Valentine will order the case submitted as soon as attorneys in the action complete their arguments.

Mrs. Andrade is suing for $2000 a month maintenance and a division of property she has valued at more than $1,000,000. She charges Andrade with infidelity and names Judith Lane Lavender co-respondent.

Miss Lavender appeared in court in defense of her name and denied the charges. It was revealed in court that she and Andrade had gone through a marriage ceremony in Mexico in January, 1925, after Andrade was said to have obtained a Yucatan divorce from Mrs. Andrade.

Andrade has not been in court during the trial of the case, but has been represented by counsel.

Two Long Beach Men Re-elected to School Board

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, April 1.—Melvin Neel and Eugene I. Fisher were overwhelmingly re-elected to the Board of Education today. The vote stood Neel, 7706; Fisher, 7508; Mrs. Kathryn E. Barnett, 1290; Lawrence A. McGrane, 686; Jerry A. Burge, 466.

Fisher has served two terms on the board and Neel one term. Fisher is a well-known attorney. Neel was formerly a public school principal. The terms are for four years, two members of the board of eight being elected every two years.

The total vote cast was 9028 out of a registration of about 54,000, which is an increase of some 3000 votes over the number cast two years ago.

The Long Beach school district includes, in addition to Long Beach, Catalina Island and the towns of Hynes, Clearwater, Alamitos and Bixby Heights, and Signal Hill, with a total of 110 polling places.

Rites Conducted for Armstrong, Research Expert

The funeral of LeRoy Armstrong, author, historian and noted research authority, was conducted yesterday afternoon at the Hollywood Cemetery chapel. Mr. Armstrong was formerly a newspaper man, known from coast to coast as a brilliant editor. He was editor of newspapers in Indiana and Utah, prior to which time he wrote special articles for many years on the Chicago Herald, Chicago Evening Post and other papers. For the last ten years he was head of the research department at Universal City.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Glenn R. Phillips of Lankershim Community Church. Mrs. R. B. Lawrence of Lankershim sang.

The pallbearers were Sam T. Clover, Ernest McGaffey, Archie Leckie, Homer Carr, A. E. Wilson and John Corbaley. The first four named, now residents of Los Angeles, were fellow-members of the old Chicago Press Club with the deceased more than thirty years ago.

Government railways of South Africa are extending motor-car service to develop districts not served by the railroads.

Women will have abandoned the skirt entirely and will be wearing trousers in thirty years' time, says M. Paul Poiret, the famous French dressmaker.

THISTLE IN ACCUSED'S PATHWAY

Scotch Lass Detects Man in Asserted Theft of Hat, Captures, Convicts Him

When Scot meets Scot it's certain to be a braw, bricht day, and it certainly was yesterday for Municipal Judge Baird when Miss Louise Gallacher tripped to the witness stand to tell how she had aided in catching a man on trial on a charge of petty larceny.

Miss Gallacher told the court how she had observed Thomas E. Farrell walk from Mullen & Bluett's with an expensive hat hidden under his coat. Being Scotch and observant, Miss Gallacher said she knew the man had neglected to pay for it, so she gave chase, and Farrell was halted on the street and held until Officer Edwards arrived.

"That's right," observed Judge Baird, "leave it to a bonnie Scotch lassie to watch that the shillings don't fly away."

City Public Defender Orfila explained to the court that he believed his client was under the influence of a drug at the time of the offense, and was unaware of what he did.

Judge Baird found Farrell guilty and as he had been in jail since last Saturday, imposed sentence of five days more in the City Jail.

Jesse L. Church, 'San Pedro Pilot' Founder, Expires

Jesse Lafayette Church, 80 years of age, a veteran newspaper man and printer, founder of the San Pedro Pilot and a member of The Times printing staff for more than thirty years, died in a Pasadena hospital last night following a year's illness.

Mr. Church was born in Picton, Province of Ontario, Can., in 1868. He came to Los Angeles in 1892 and lived at Monrovia for a short time, later making his residence at San Pedro.

While at San Pedro Mr. Church established the San Pedro Pilot, a newspaper which has continued to be published under the same name. However, he tired of serving in the capacity of reporter, editor and printer and sold his interests, going to San Diego to live.

A few years later Mr. Church returned to Los Angeles, where he was employed by The Times as a printer and continued in this capacity until approximately a year ago, when he suffered a stroke which resulted in partial paralysis.

Mr. Church leaves a sister, Mrs. Sarah Hall of 1450 Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, as his only surviving relative.

Funeral arrangements, which were incomplete last night, will be announced later.

STOP PLANS TURNED DOWN

The request of the Crenshaw Boulevard Improvement Association that Crenshaw Boulevard from Wilshire Boulevard to Adams street be designated a "boulevard stop" has been turned down by the City Council.

BOARD GIVES FUND

The Board of Supervisors has appropriated $20,000 toward the cost of the improvement of Silver Lake Boulevard from Armstrong avenue to Easterly Terrace, the City Council was notified yesterday.

FIRE BOXES ASKED

The installation of fire alarm call boxes and fire hydrants in the Annandale district has been urged of the City Council by the Annandale Improvement Association.

DEATH CRASH INQUEST TODAY

Inquiry Into Double Tragedy Caused by Runaway Oil Tank Car Announced for This Afternoon; Train Wreck Narrowly Averted

The inquest over the bodies of S. A. Saleeby and Thomas Smaja of San Fernando, who were killed early yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a runaway oil tank car on the Southern Pacific tracks at Vaughn street, San Fernando, will be conducted at Noble's funeral parlors, San Fernando, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Tearing along the main line at a high rate of speed the runaway car was upon the automobile of the two men before they realized their danger, witnesses say. On top of the tanker working frantically with the handbrakes to avert the tragedy was Brakeman Clifford Callahan. Callahan had climbed on the runaway after it had broken away in some mysterious manner from a string that was being switched at Sylmar, a station about three miles from San Fernando.

After the car had broken from the train, the conductor, R. R. Land, ran to a telephone and informed the operator at San Fernando. As the San Fernando operator was receiving the message the tanker with Callahan working desperately with the brakes, flashed by.

Unconscious of the peril ahead the engine crew of the Tehachapi, the crack night flyer between Los Angeles and San Francisco, was trying to make up time several miles distant. In an effort to prevent a head-on collision between the passenger train and the tank car, a crew of a Southern Pacific engine at Sylmar sped after the tanker. They caught up with the runaway at the foot of a small grade about two miles from the Vaughn crossing. Its speed was reduced, railroad officials believe, by the automobile wreckage which had become entangled about the trucks.

TANK CAR LANDS IN WOMAN'S BEDROOM

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (Exclusive)—Tired from an overnight trip from Los Angeles, a tank car in a long string on the Southern Pacific tracks, leaped the rails at Seventeenth and Florida streets today and settled to rest in the bed of Mrs. Chris Dietrich in the corner flat. Two freight cars followed, but there was only one bed and Mrs. Dietrich abandoned that at the sound of the first crash of entry. Neither she nor the car was hurt.

Bandits Lock Up Patrons in Store Robbery

Two bandits who were described as rosy cheeked and very young entered the Golden State Drug Store, 1100 South Western avenue, last night and at the point of their pistols held five people at bay while they robbed the cash register and escaped.

Two soda dispensers were at work behind the counter when the bandits appeared. J. Lofsky, the proprietor, and his wife were seated in the rear. One patron was at the soda counter. All were herded into a rear room while the bandits obtained about $72 in cash.

LIGHTS PETITIONED

Edwin J. Sherbrook and other property owners yesterday petitioned the City Council to install ornamental lighting posts on Arlington avenue from Jefferson street to Exposition Boulevard.

DEBATING CONTESTS OPEN

Affirmative Teams Win Two Out of Three Decisions on Education Department Question

Affirmative debating teams of the University of California at Los Angeles and Redlands University yesterday triumphed on the question, "Resolved: That the United States Shall Have a Department of Education With a Secretary in the President's Cabinet," giving the affirmative side of the issue two wins to one defeat in the Pi Kappa Delta's biannual debating contest participated in in Los Angeles by representatives of five colleges and universities.

The educational institutions participating are the University of California at Los Angeles, Redlands University, College of the Pacific, Occidental and California Institute of Technology.

Yesterday, the opening day of a series of debates, oratorical contests and extemporaneous deliveries at Millspaugh Hall, University of California at Los Angeles, marked the defeat of the College of the Pacific affirmative team by the University of California, and victory of the U.C.L.A. and Redlands affirmative teams over the negative crews of Redlands and Caltech.

Occidental negative and affirmative teams forfeited to Caltech and College of the Pacific teams.

To determine debating winners from the five schools, a similar series will take place again this morning at 9 o'clock. In addition, an oratorical contest was held last night, and tomorrow there will be extemporaneous speaking.

JURY WILL GET 'FIXING' CHARGE

District Attorney's Office to Push Investigation

Search on for Others Named in Miller Case

Intimation was made yesterday at the District-Attorney's office that the investigation regarding the asserted "fixing" of cases on trial in Superior Court will be carried to the County grand jury when that body reconvenes on Monday.

While Herman Miller, accused of conspiracy to offer a bribe of $1000 to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill, was being arraigned in Municipal Judge Wilson's court yesterday afternoon, Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis and Deputy Thoms, in charge of the complaint department, were taking a statement from a man who is expected to be a witness before the grand jury. The name of the man was withheld by the District-Attorney's office. The taking of the statement followed a conference of Chief Deputy Davis, City Prosecutor Lickley and Chief of Police Davis.

Miller appeared before Judge Wilson and Mr. Davis requested that his bail be fixed at $25,000. The court, upon protest by Claude A. Shutt, defense attorney, fixed bail at $20,000, which immediately was furnished. Hearing in the case was set for the 11th inst.

The complaint against Miller charges that he offered a bribe to Deputy Hill to influence the latter to cause a dismissal of the charges of possession of narcotics then pending against Brewer Abney and Cornelius Johnson.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT, IN TRAFFIC

Pacific Electric Man Dies After Being Hit by Auto; Another May Succumb

One man was killed and two other persons seriously injured in traffic accidents, police reported last night.

Fred A. Owen, 56 years of age, of 1557 Graham street, a foreman in the mechanical department of the Pacific Electric Railway, died at the Receiving Hospital two hours after he was struck by an automobile driven by Victor Broghers, 1506 West Jefferson street, at Thirty-ninth street and Western avenue.

James L. Cadieux, 70, of 632 Stanford avenue, was struck by an automobile, driven by Robert J. Dunn, 1939 Greenfield avenue, Willowbrook, at Sixth street and Towne avenue. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from a fractured clavicle, concussion of the brain and a possible skull fracture. His condition was described as critical.

Mrs. Laura Link, 64, of 1941 1-2 Wilcox street, was struck by an automobile driven by Russell Schrader, 4506 Lankershim Boulevard, at Wilcox and Cahuenga avenue. She suffered a broken leg and possible internal injuries. She was taken to the Hollywood Physicians Emergency Hospital.

'MAN WITH HOE' AUTHOR IN CITY

dicated because the poem has for many years been regarded as a classic. It has been translated into thirty-seven languages and more copies of it have been sold than of any other poem ever published. Because of its fearless treatment of its subject, it aroused a violent controversy which raged for several years. More than 5000 parodies have been written on it and numberless poets have attempted in vain to answer its challenge.

Mr. Markham is now engaged in compiling and editing an anthology of American and English poetry, in ten volumes, a task which he said will require at least three years. Despite his seventy-five years, he insists that he is "just as sprightly and foolish" as when he was thirty.

After his visit in this city, he will deliver a series of lectures in Northern California and on Thursday, the 21st inst., his birthday will be honored by the State Teachers' College at San Jose. His birthday actually falls two days later, but the celebration will be held on the 21st owing to lecture engagements in other cities.

BANDIT SUSPECTS HELD

Two Arrested in Connection With Bank of Italy Robbery

Arrest of two men suspected of connection with the hold-up of the branch of the Bank of Italy at Melrose and Western avenues Monday was reported last night by police.

Arthur Serrano, 28 years of age, of 333 South Fremont street, and Arthur Hirth, 23, of 1570 South Hobart Boulevard, were arrested on suspicion of robbery by Detective Lieutenants Palmer and Doyle. Police say the men were found at Third and Fremont streets in an automobile which corresponds in number and description to a car seen in the vicinity of the bank about the time of the robbery.

The wife of Serrano, who was with the men, was released. Police said the men denied connection with the hold-up, and Serrano declared the car belongs to him.

RADIO JOINS SEARCH FOR HERBERT MAIDE

Los Angeles newspapers and radio stations last night joined in a search for Herbert Maide, Nashville (Tenn.) business man, to deliver a message to him that his father, John Daniel Maide, is dying. Frantic efforts were made last night by relatives to reach the son by telegraph. He was reported to be stopping for a short time in Los Angeles at an address unknown to friends and relatives.

CHURCH WILL BE DEDICATD

of the Bhagavad Gita will be conducted.

DR. B. H. SMITH

"If Christ Never Had Risen—What Then?" That is the theme of a sermon to be preached by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith tomorrow morning at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The subject for evening is "What Does the Presbyterian Church Teach Concerning Marriage and Divorce?" Dr. Smith will also discuss the question "Will Mussolini Help Elect a Catholic President?"

FIRST METHODIST

Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted composer, and Sol Cohen, famous violinist, will give a forty-five minute program at the First Methodist Church tomorrow evening. The chorus choir will sing one of Cadman's anthems and Gail M. Dimmitt will render Cohen's "Gethsemane." Dr. E. E. Helms, the pastor, will preach on "The Man That Could Not be Hid." The sermon topic for evening is "A Study in Beginnings."

TRINITY METHODIST

"When Virtue and Honor are Gone—What Then?" is the question to be discussed by Rev. Bob Shuler tomorrow evening at the Trinity Methodist Church. High school students are especially invited. The sermon topic for morning is "God's Creatures, Great and Small." At 3 p.m. Rev. J. Hoffman Cohn, son of ex-Rabbi Leopold Cohn, will speak on "How a Jewish Rabbi Found Christ."

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The tenth anniversary of the ministry of Dr. Bruce Brown with the South Park Christian Church will be celebrated at that church tomorrow. The church, almost abandoned as a "lost cause" ten years ago, now has a membership of more than 3000. Dr. Brown, who is president of the Los Angeles Ministerial Association, is one of the best known and most influential ministers among the disciples of Christ. The sermon subjects for tomorrow morning and evening are respectively "Life's Opening Doors" and "Life's Closing Doors."

DR. ANNIE BESANT

"Service as Freedom" is the subject of a free lecture to be given tomorrow evening at St. Alban's Procathedral on Argyle avenue by Dr. Annie Besant, international president of the Theosophical Society. Dr. Besant will also speak at the morning service when the Holy Eucharist will be observed.

TO DISCUSS SCHWAB

"Is Charles M. Schwab a better preacher than steel man?" is one of the questions to be discussed by Dr. Frank Dyer at the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church tomorrow morning in a brief address which will follow a sermon by Sir Henry Lunn, noted editor and lecturer, of Europe. Sir Henry, known throughout Europe for his advocacy of the abolition of sectarianism and for his work for international peace, will preach tomorrow on "Christianity and Civilization." In the evening Dr. Dyer will give his answer to several interesting questions recently asked him by a banker of Los Angeles.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

The Los Angeles district conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, will be conducted at St. Paul's Methodist Church at San Bernardino on the 4th, 5th and 6th, inst. Dr. Charles D. Bulla, presiding elder of this district, will preside. The following delegates will attend from the Trinity Methodist Church: W. L. Elder, Dr. C. C. Stephenson, W. G. Wadley, Dr. F. N. Peters, J. P. Rowand Mrs. F. N. Peters.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET

Dr. Hugh K. Walker will speak on "The Future of the Downtown Presbyterian Church" at a meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association on the eighth floor of the Men's Building of the Bible Institute at 10:30 a.m. next Monday. Prof. F. P. Woellner will speak on "The Kind of Child Modern Education is Hoping to Develop."

SCOTCHMEN INVITED

A message of special interest to Scotch people is promised by Dr. John McNeill for tomorrow evening at the Church of the Open Door. Dr. McNeill will preach on "Old Home Days and Ways" and hymns dear to the hearts of Scottish people will be sung by the congregation and special soloists. At the morning hour Dr. McNeill will speak on "Four Ringing Exhortations."

DR. HUGH WALKER

"The Outstanding Problem of a Forward Looking Church" is the subject of an address to be given by Dr. Hugh K. Walker tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian Church. In the evening a program will be given by the Students' League of Many Nations, and an address will be given by Lieut. G. Baker of the British Royal Flying Corps.

DR. G. A. BRIEGLEB

"Shall Protestants have a confessional?" This question will be discussed by Dr. G. A. Griegleb in his sermon tomorrow evening at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Preceding Dr. Briegleb's discourse, Chief of Police Davis will discuss the question, "What is responsible for lawlessness and crime in Los Angeles—the police, the courts or the public?" In the morning Dr. Briegleb will preach the third of a series of sermons on "My Creed."

"VOLGA BOATMAN"

Dr. J. A. Eby, pastor of the Wilshire Presbyterian Church, will preach tomorrow evening on "What Can Jesus Do for a Sick World?" Preceding the sermon a free exhibition of "The Volga Boatman" will be given. At the morning hour Dr. Eby will speak on "A Happy New Church Year."

"EFFORTLESS POWER"

"Man will never use his power in the right way until he learns there is a power which arises from the indwelling Christ," declares Mrs. Lella Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, who will speak on "Effortless Power" tomorrow morning at the Morosco Theater. Sunday-school will be conducted at 9:45 a.m. at 833 South Spring street.

"THINGS THAT HURT"

Dr. Lindsay E. McNair, pastor of the Westlake Presbyterian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on "The Supreme Question," the topic for the evening being "The Things That Hurt." The Westlake Quartet will sing at both services.

"SUBCONSCIOUS MIND"

Genevieve Behrend, a pupil of the late Judge Thomas Troward, will give a free lecture on "In Touch With the Subconscious Mind," at 11 a.m. tomorrow at 940 South Figueroa street. The public is invited and seats will be free.

FIRST BAPTIST

Dr. J. A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in charge of both services tomorrow, preaching in the morning on "The Central Deed of History and Its Meaning," and in the evening on "Are Missions Coming to an End or Just Beginning?" EXPLAIN CHURCH PENSIONS

Presbyterian Moderator Praises Retirement Fund as Due of Faithful Workers

The man who does not earn more than his salary is not earning his salary and pensions are but deferred payments to the men who never have been paid whae they earned, Dr. William Oxley Thompson, moderator of the general assembly and president emeritus of Ohio State College, told the 350 ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian Church assembled at the Chamber of Commerce last night in the $15,000,000 retirement fund drive.

Dr. Thompson declared that this movement to protect the men who ware under contract to the church had been under consideration for a long time, but no definite program had ever been presented to the 1,900,000 members scattered throughout the United States. He referred briefly to his experience of sixteen years as the president of a life insufance company as evidence of his interest in the soundness of the present pension plan.

"This large fund," he said, "corresponds to the legal reserve in a standard life insurance company; it insures the workability of the plan. It is a $15,000,000 contract spread over five years, or $1.60 per capita per year.

BUSINESS PROPOSITION

"The church should feel that this is a privilege, not a burden. We are creating a great legal reserve trust fund that represents deferred payments to those men to whom we owe a great obligation, and it is an expression of the church's faith in its preachers."

Dr. John Willis Baer, vice-president of the Pacific Southwest Trust Company of Pasadena and Pacific Coast member of the layman's committee, appointed by Will H. Hays, national chairman, declared that the new pension plan which the Presbyterian Church is seeking to put into effect is not a charity in any sense.

"It is deferred compensation which will be paid automatically to each participating member when he reaches the age of 65," the speaker said. "Under the present relief system of our church an applicant must bare his need before the presbytery.

FOLLOW CORPORATION'S LEAD

"The Presbyterian Church is at last undertaking to treat its ministers in the same manner as hundreds of business corporations now treat the men and women who have spent their lives for them."

A group of prominent laymen are sharing the entire expense of the campaign throughout all the States, so that every dollar subscribed or pledged over the stipulated period of five years will go into the pension fund.

Jed W. Burns, presbytery chairman, presided at the meeting and Rev. H. H. Fisher presented the speakers.

PASADENAN FILES SUIT ON CHARTER

Action Questions Validity of Amendment Providing for Election on Thursday

A suit to determine the legality of the Pasadena charter amendment adopted last November under which a new board of seven City Directors will be elected on Thursday was filed in Superior Court yesterday by George R. Langtree of 80 South Catalina avenue, Pasadena, represented by Attorney Milton H. Silverberg.

The petition questions the validity of the amendment on the ground that it was not properly advertised and asks the court, if this objection is upheld, to restrain the city of Pasadena from proceeding with the election of City Directors.

Four members of the present Pasadena board are understood to hold that the amendment which terminates their terms of office is illegal because improperly advertised before the election at which it was adopted. Sponsors of the move to take the case into court now, it is said, say they want the point cleared up at this time, to avoid the confusion which would result if the point of illegality should be raised after the new board is in office.

The petition will come up before Judge Shaw Monday.

GATE CRASHER RISKS TITLE

One-Eyed Connelly Puts Two Bucks in Escrow for Benefit Ticket

A kindly heart and the instalment plan is about to deprive "One-Eyed" Connelly of his hard-fought-for title of "world's champion gate-crasher" for he put in an appearance at the National Vaudeville Artists' benefit box office at the Orpheum yesterday and relinquished a portion of his title by placing $2 in escrow and requesting the boys to hold a $5 ticket for him to the benefit tonight.

"This is a benefit and the commissions shouldn't rule me out of my title for it—so if you'll hold the ticket I'll dig up another three bucks by Saturday and make my first appearance as a paid customer," said the champion.

So "One-Eyed" Connelly, famous for never having paid to see any sort of entertainment, is placing his title in jeopardy to see this show.

"And remember I'm paying five bucks even if I can only see it with one eye," he concluded.

He left for New ...Wednesday but, while he was in Southern California, Dr. Springer gave a number of radio talks through KHJ. In one of his radio talks he mentioned an experience in meeting two prospectors on one of his exploration trips in the Belgian Congo on his return from a trip to the village of the big chief of the region, Moti Yamvo. A day or so after the talk word was received at KHJ from Fred C. Johnston of Long Beach, Mr. Johnston was one of the two prospectors who met Mr. and Mrs. Springer in the wilderness of Africa in 1911-1912.

And so, after all, truth continues to be stranger than fiction even when spring is here and long-distance reception yarns still continue to go the rounds of radio fans.

SPANISH PROGRAM

The Friday evening KHJ broadcast brought to the ether realm a program of Spanish tunes presented by Jose Arias and his Mexican Entertainers in the dreamy lullabies and tinkling dance tunes from sunny climes, and Salvador Baquez, baritone, entertained with a group of numbers including, "Mi Noche Triste," and the ever favorite "Estrellita."

The children's hour of April 1 consisted of: Catherine Cotter, "Sweetheart of Radioland," in conundrums and "granpop" jokes; Margaret Bond, violinist, accompanied by Dorothy Tipton; Billy Lord, "Police Comrade," in readings; Roberta Bush, "Firefly," in popular song hits; Elan and Sammie Martin, in piano duets; Bettimae Pfefferkorn, "Bobolink," in Indian costume, with vocal numbers; and Vivian Marple, "Blue Bell," with selected readings.

KHJ TRIO TONIGHT

The broadcast from KHJ today will open at 6 o'clock when the KHJ Concert Trio presents its usual musical offering, including Neva Chilberg, leader and violinist; Lela Davies, 'cellist, and Helen Davis, pianist. J. Walter Leopold, composer-pianist, known as the Cliff Dweller," will also give groups of popular vocal numbers during the half-hour broadcast period.

Then Uncle John and the children's hour will come on the air at 6:30 p.m. Helen Berta Hanson, "Music Child of KHJ," will sing and play her own ukulele accompaniment; Mercedes Marlowe, the "Boy-Girl," will give piano and vocal numbers; Nona Clapp, the "Sunshine Fairy," will give some popular songs, and will dance the choruses; Dolly Wright, "Dolly of Radioland," in some chosen readings; Arthur Stevens, "King Arthur," will give his weekly radio talk; Marjorie Genevieve Lowe, "June Bug," in recitations; and June Louise Avila, 7 years of age, and Ray Peterson, 6½, will each give a reading, to b efollowed with a dialogue.

HAWAIIAN MELODY

Following the 8 o'clock reading of news items, the program will include Charles Osbourne, tenor, in two groups of songs; the Moana Hawaiian entertainers, in their natics tunes and vocal refrains; E. A. Mulford, "Dixie Dan," in banjo lute numbers with vocal refrains; and the Husking Bee Dancers giving old-time dances in the studio, with Ed Parr calling the dances; Benjamin Sears, old-time fiddler, and Mrs. Sears at the piano.

The weekly educational banking talk will be given at 9 o'clock as one of a series of eight radio lectures, with the topic, "What We Use for Money."

At the Figueroa-street Theater this afternoon there will be a special matinee in honor of Joyce Coad, KHJ juvenile, who takes the part of Amaryllis in the picturization of Gene Stratton Porter's last novel, "The Magic Garden."

KFVD at Venice now has a woman announcer and manager, and is maintaining its former schedule of hours on the air.

VALENTINO SNARL UNWINDS

Settlement of the tangled contract between the late Rudolph Valentino and the Feature Productions, with which company he was under contract at the time of his death, has been agreed upon between George S. Ullman, formerly manager of the actor and now executor of the estate, and the employing company. The settlement was before Judge Crail in Probate Court yesterday for approval, but hearing was continued two weeks, when it appeared that Attorneys Scarborough and Bowen, counsel for Maria Guglielmo Strada, sister of Valentino, would contest the matter.

When Valentino died the picture under way was "The Firebrand." He had drawn $100,000 in advance salary, had given notes for the sums, and accrued salary due was sufficient to satisfy the notes. He had also drawn heavily on expected income from his profit-sharing arrangement, and profits on other pictures sufficed to meet notes given for these sums. More than $90,000 had been spent on "The Firebrand" when he died, ruining that investment.

The producing company, however, held policies on his life in the sum of $250,000, in which Ullman claimed the estate had an interest. It was agreed that all the notes would be surrendered, and that the costs of "The Firebrand" be paid out of the proceeds of the insurance policies, and that the estate should receive one-fourth of the balance of the policies. The producing company would be given all rights in the scenario,, for which $20,000 was paid.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

Mrs. J. M. writes: "I have two little girls, one is 2½ years of age and the other 4. The younger weighs twenty-seven pounds and the older thirty-two. Both eat heartily and have plenty of fresh air and sleep. They go to bed at 8 o'clock and sleep until 9:30 or 10 a.m. They have cereal and cocoa for breakfast. They will eat no vegetables except turnips, but have plenty of soups and broths.

The older one is very nervous. I had St. Vitus dance during pregnancy but recovered. Her grandmother had epilepsy. Do you think this has anything to do with the child's nerves? What should they both weigh? Should I give them cod liver oil?

Answer

The average weight for children of this age is twenty-eight pounds for the 2½-year-old child, and thirty-five pounds for the 4-year-old. So the older child is three pounds under average and the younger but one pound, which in the latter case is indicative of nothing.

Lack of vegetables is one thing to be corrected and lots of soups will not take the place of milk, vegetables, cereals and fruits.

A vegetable soup is excellent because of the vegetables in it and the juices of the vegetables, but the child needs other more bulky foods in the diet.

There is, undoubtedly, some inherited nervous instability since both the grandmother and yourself have nerve disorders. I would be careful that the child's body is built up and so offset this weakness by giving her the benefit of sane care, good food, and plenty of sleep and fresh air, as you are doing now.

In that case there is every likelihood that she will overcome her nervous tendencies, or they will not develop.

By all means give cod liver oil.

We have a new feeding leaflet which is intended to help mothers with the diet of their children from six weeks to six years old. We hope mothers will take advantage of this leaflet, which may be had for the usual self-addressed and stamped envelope and a request for it.

Other leaflets which may be had also are those dealing with prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, layets (the proper clothing to prepare for the new baby,) forcible feeding, a leaflet containing the subjects of cradle cap, hives, hiccoughing, dirt eating, vomiting, lime water, worms, orange juice, cod liver oil, hernia, refractory children; another leaflet on the subjects of sleeping, thumb sucking, periods of nursing and training in cleanly habits.

These leaflets are designed to give the mother the promptest service on the various troubles, and it is suggested that she write for them before asking a personal question, which may be answered by the leaflet.

POLICE WILL SEEK BANDIT IN NEW LAIR

Better Class Apartments and Hotels to be Visited in Search for Criminals

Aroused by the recent wave of banditry, especially bank hold-ups, Chief of Detectives Cline yesterday launched a campaign based on changed crime conditions. Cline declared he has reliable information that many robbers and burglars are now frequenting apapaments and hotels of the highest class.

Whereas in the past police confined their round-ups of suspicious characters to pool, halls and similar places in questionable districts, apartments and hotels of the better class now will be entered by detectives in search of criminals, Cline declared. Suspicious characters will be exhibited to crime victims at daily show-ups in the police shadow box. Those who are connected with definite crimes will be so charged and the others held as vagrants.

Plans for the campaign were made at a conference of captains of detectives from all divisions at central headquarters. A special detail of fifty detectives was organized to round up bandits.

The detail is headed by Detective Lieutenant Barr. All its members are men of experience, expert shots and familiar with criminals of the bandit type, it was stated. In the past it was the custom in such campaigns to use uniformed men and officers of meager experience as well as experienced detectives.

DIET and HEALTH

TOO-TOO-THIN? (Part 1)

YOU'VE GOT TO EAT

Have you tried terribly hard to gain and apparently cannot? Have you given up in despair and decided that it is natural for you to be skinny and scrawny and to shiver and shake; it runs in your family; one can't defy fate?

But you can gain. I assure you, you can. If there is nothing organically wrong with you, you can gain by following my directions. I know you can for thousands have done so and what others have done you can do. One of my directions is that you must eat more.

Read the following story and then confess, aren't your tastes exactly like the tastes of the thin man I depict?

A fat man laboriously climbed onto a street car and placed his perspiring bulk close to an emaciated man. The emaciated man looked up and remarked peevishly that they ought to charge by space occupied on the cars. The fat man responded genially: "In that case I suppose you figure on traveling for nothing, Mr. Slimmer," which wasn't at all a bad comeback.

We will suppose that the thin man got over his grouch and they had a conversation. The thin man speaks.

"Would you mind telling me how you got that way, my friend?"

"I dunno! I eat very little. I never touch potatoes. Gosh, I don't see what makes me so fat!"

"Have you ever dieted?"

"Yes, there is nothing to dieting. I got fatter on the system. I cut off my breakfast, except a couple slices of buttered toast, a dish of cereal and cream, and two cups of coffee with cream and sugar, and for lunch I ate only a couple slices of pie a-la-mode and two glasses of milk, and at my dinner I cut out potatoes entirely and cut my bread and butter down to three slices, when I used to eat five or six.

"Of course I ate a lot of meat and vegetables, but I like 'em and they're not fattening, and for dessert I took cheese and nuts instead of sweets. And do you know, with all that dieting, I actually gained! There's nothing to dieting. If you're going to be fat, you're going to be fat, and nothing will help. I suppose it's the same with being thin. You don't get fat, and I'll bet you eat so much that it makes you thin to carry it around!"

"Yes, I do; that's a fact. For my breakfast I eat two oranges and a couple of boiled eggs and a thin slice of toast. I don't care for cereals and cream and sugar I detest. For my lunch I eat a big salad of green stuffs. They're full of vitamins, you know, and are good for you. No, I don't have mayonnaise on the salad; I can't bear oil; I take vinegar instead. I like sour stuff and greens. I eat a potato a day, too; the Lord knows they ought to be fattening, but they don't fatten me.

"I eat very little bread; I don't care for it. I like thin soups though if there's no fat on them, and I eat a lot of lean meat. I take fruit for dessert. You can see I eat like a horse. I agree with you that eating has nothing to do with whether you are fat or thin."

Now suppose some good fairy had touched these gentlemen with a magic wand and had caused a transfer of their tastes, and the thin one had begun to eat as the fat one did, and vice-versa. Do you suppose in six months they would have thought that dieting had nothing to do with their condition? No. Because they were absolutely wrong, and six months' time or even less would have proved it. Eating has ninety-nine points out of 100 to do with the control of weight, if there is no organic disorder entering as a factor. And even if there is, we won't take off many points.

I am going to give you some specific points on how to gain. I have finished the special articles for our F.F.F. (Friendly Fat Fraternity,) and now I'll give you T.T.T.'s a little attention.

Once you've compared Nucoa with other margarine you'll always use it—

You'll find there's no comparison in flavor—on bread, toast or rolls. You'll find there's no comparison in the richness of your cakes, sauces, and puddings.

And there is no comparison in the uniformly high food value.

A product such as Nucoa must be made for quality, not for price. In no other way can there be assurance of wholesome purity and goodness.

DEVILED CHICKEN FRICASSE

Cut a young chicken in pieces for serving. Put in a kettle, cover with boiling water, and let cook slowly until tender. When chicken is about half done, add two slices of carrot, two slices onion, one stalk of celery, sprig of parsley, bit of bay leaf, twelve peppercorns, and one-half tablespoonful salt. Remove chicken, strain liquor (there should be two cupfuls,) and cool quickly, that fat may be removed and stock used for sauce.

Melt four tablespoonfuls butter, and cook until well browned, add six tablespoonfuls of flour and continue the browning, then pour on, gradually, while stirring constantly, the chicken stock. Mix one and one-half tablespoonfuls mustard, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper, few grains of cayenne, grated rind of one-half lemon, one teaspoonful lemon juice, one teaspoonful vinegar and three teaspoonfuls Worcestershire sauce. Add mixture to sauce. Dip each piece of chicken separately in sauce and then in crumbs, seasoned with salt. Arrange in dripping pan, and bake in a hot oven until well browned, basting once with one-fourth cupful melted butter. Remove to hot serving dish, and pour around remaining sauce.

ONION SOUFFLE

Cook onions in boiling salted water until soft, drain, and force through a sieve; there should be one and one-fourth cupfuls onion pulp. Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add four tablespoonfuls flour, and pour on gradually one-third cupful water in which onions have been cooked, and one-third cupful cream; then add onion pulp. Season with salt and pepper. Beat yolks of three eggs until thick and lemon colored, and add to first mixture. Cut and fold in whites of egg beaten stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered baking dish, and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once.

STUFFED TOMATO CUPS

Wipe and remove thin slices from stem ends of six ripe tomatoes. Scoop out most of the pulp, using a small spoon. Sprinkle inside of cases thus formed with salt, invert, and let stand thirty minutes. Cook two-thirds of a cupful of macaroni, broken in one-third inch pieces, in boiling salted water until soft. Add one-half cupful grated cheese, and one-half the tomato pulp. Season highly with salt and paprika.

Fill tomato cases with mixture, sprinkle tops with buttered bread crumbs and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

HINES PAIR SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

"Baby Farm" Suspects Plead to Check Charges

Trafficking Count Dismissed in Municipal Court

One to Fourteen Years' Term Laid on Woman

The sensational "baby farm" case came to a rather prosaic end yesterday when Mrs. Minnie Hines and her asserted bigamous husband, Clarence Hines, were sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary by Superior Judge Hardy following their pleas of guilty to charges of issuing fraudulent checks and forgery, respectively.

With the pleas of guilty entered by the pair before Judge Hardy on the check and forgery charges, the State dismissed before Municipal Judge MacCoy other charges against them. The charges dismissed by Judge MacCoy included charges of adultery and trafficking in infants, the latter charge being based on an old section of the Penal Code covering slavery.

Mrs. Hines was sentenced to serve a term of imprisonment of from one to fourteen years on the fraudulent check charge. She pleaded guilty to issuing a check for $150 which she did not have sufficient funds to cover. Hines also pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement, following a similar plea on a count of forgery, and was sentenced to one to ten years, with fourteen years' probation after serving the forgery sentence.

The dismissal of the "baby farm" charges was made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello after the couple had made a complete confession of their activities, including admissions of narcotic addiction. A charge of bigamy was never laid against the couple, as the statute of limitations had outlawed the case.

Deputy Sheriff Stensland stated yesterday he had received a letter from Mrs. Ruth M. Babbitt, 32 Judah street, San Francisco, saying she had turned over her baby to a woman giving the name of Mrs. George Wahl, in order that she might be free to work. The woman had disappeared with the child, she said.

OSTRICH EGGS EASTER GIFTS

Novel Presents Sent to Friends in East

LOS ANGELES, noted for developing the unusual in many respects, is to observe the Easter season this year in novel if not unusual manner.

At least Sally Blane has decided to prepare monogrammed Easter ostrich eggs for friends in eastern cities.

The young woman sought the advice of J. E. Light, district freight agent for the Southern Pacific, in methods of packing and shipping the typically California Easter eggs to her friends in New York and other cities.

The large ostrich eggs are being packed in the most approved Southern Pacific method of safety to prevent breakage for shipment to the East.

ALL-FOOLS' DAY NOT SO FUNNY TO RECKLESS DRIVER OF AUTO

James Oliver yesterday appeared before Municipal Judge Turney to plead guilty to a charge of possessing liquor. At any rate the joke was on him when the little session was concluded.

Oliver appeared before Judge Turney on invitation of Officer Washburn as a result of an automobile crash on Sunset Boulevard in which the defendant had successfully demonstrated himself as a billardist of note. Three cars were hit by the defendent in the course of his progress down the boulevard, according to a report read to the court by Detective Caldwell. In Oliver's car, the report said, the officer found a bottle of liquor.

"I couldnt avoid hitting those other cars, your honor," Oliver said in his own behalf, "they stopped right in front of me, and I just couldn't keep from crashing into them."

"That's one on him," interrupted Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins, "there were no drivers in the cars he struck. They were all parked at the curb."

As a result of the crash, or crashes, Oliver's car was so badly damaged it had to be towed to Lincoln Heights Station where it is being held, Officer Wagner told Judge Turney. The defendant was intoxicated, and was driving recklessly at an excessive rate of speed, the officer said.

"While this is All Fools' Day, the situation here strikes me as being totally devoid of humor," commented Judge Turney. "It is almost a mircle that some one wasn't seriously injured or killed before the defendant wrecked his car."

Judge Turney imposed a fine of $125 or twenty days in jail.

HINDU FREED IN MURDER CHARGE

Judge Holds Evidence Fails to Show Guilt

Three murder hearings were conducted yesterday before Municipal Judge Leonard Wilson. One case, failing of completion at the close of the day's session, was continued. One defendant was held to the Superior Court to answer to the charge and the other case was dismissed.

A murder charge against Mahammed Jakh, alias Jack, involving the mysterious slaying of two other Hindus, Mohammed Baksh and Mohammed Salaam, on March 19, last, was dismissed by Judge Wilson, on motion by the defense. Judge Wilson, in dismissing the charge, expressed the opinion that no jury would find the defendant guilty on the evidence. He pointed out that the only possible connection between the defendant and the crime, as shown by the testimony, was his ownership of a gun which used the same type of bullet as found in the bed of the slain men. No motive whatever for the slaying was shown by the prosecution, the judge held.

Ben P. White, accused as the slayer of John Egypty, a motion-picture studio property man, as an aftermath to a poker game in which the slain man was a heavy winner, fared not so well. Judge Wilson denied a motion to dismiss and ordered White held to answer without bail. The judge declared the strongest evidence against White was the tires on his automobile, the treads of which corresponded with the tire tracks leading from the scene of the crime. Egypty was beaten to death in a vacant lot at 5425 Santa Monica Boulevard on the night of March 7, last.

Preliminary examination for Phillip Edwards, asserted Chicago gunman and gangster, charged with the murder of Phillip Gold, 21 years of age, in an argument at a boxing match at Wrigley Field, was continued, to the 6th inst. by Judge Wilson to allow Defense Attorneys William Anderson and Nathan O. Freeman to complete their case. One witness was called yesterday for the defense, who called former County Health Officer Sawyer to testify to injuries found on Edwards's hand following the slaying.

According to testimony of the prosecution, Gold was stabbed when he refused to allow Edwards to occupy more expensive seats than he had paid for. The truth died six days later at Hollywood Hospital.

ALIENATION SUIT JURY SELECTED

Love-Theft Charge Replied to With Same Accusation Against Plaintiff

A jury was selected yesterday in Judge Schmidt's court to hear the testimony in the usual "double-alienation" suit brought by Elisa Nelson against Albert Unruh and Emily Unruh.

In her complaint, Mrs. Nelson charged Mrs. Unruh with enticing away the plaintiff's husband, Olaf Nelson, and that Unruh aided and abetted his wife in the asserted alienation.

Unruh countered with an answer in which he denied he had anything to do with the asserted estrangement of the Nelsons, and filed a cross-complaint in which he charged the Nelsons with causing a separation between himself and his wife.

He added that they enticed her away from him and gave her money to make a trip to Utah. Mrs. Unruh also filed an answer in which she denied the charges made by Mrs. Nelson.

Mrs. Nelson is seeking $100,000 damages of the defendants, while Unruh is demanding $150,000 on his cross-complaint. Owing to the complicated nature of the case, it was necessary for the parties to the action to employ three attorneys to represent them.

Albert A. Kidder appeared for Mrs. Nelson; Perry F. Backus for Unruh, and Marcus C. Clark for Mrs. Unruh. It is expected it will take several days to thresh out the issues involved.

Newspaper Men to be Guests at Midnight Show

Details are complete for the special midnight matinee performance tonight of Maurine Watkins's crime satire "Chicago" to be given especially for the amusement and entertainment of Los Angeles newspaper reporters, photographers, ecitors and feature writers, at the Hollywood Music Box, where the comedy is playing.

As the guests of Louis O. Macloon, producer of the play, more than 400 local newspaper men have signified their intention to attend. According to Macloon, he is setting aside enough choice seats to accommodate the members of the various editorial departments.

In visiting the Music Box tonight, many reporters will see themselves in action for in "Chicago" more than a score of reporters and news photographers play a prominent part in the trial of Roxie Hart, jazz slayer. The play was written by a former police reporter on a Chicago daily.

The performance tonight will start at 11:45 sharp.

ANGELENO CLIMBS TO HIGH POSITIONS

Claude Penwell

Atop the Rives-Strong Building flagpole.

Claud Penwell hitched his trousers, took up an inch of slack, and yesterday showed thousands why he's a steeplejack. Atop the Rives-Strong Building, which stands at Ninth and Main, he clambered up a flagpole in earnest search for rain.

The building is twelve stories high, the flagpole fifty feet, which put the hardy Penwell some distance from the street. Though not a "social climber," Claude, from his dizzy span, turned up his nose at sparrows, looked down on fellow-man.

And while men gazed in wonder, and women wished to faint, quite nonchalantly Penwell brought forth a can of paint. He beautified that flagpole from topmost ball to base, while sounds of deep contentment escaped the sklark's face.

And then he wended homeward. Fright shook him to the core, when he found his youngest hopeful—perched in a sycamore!

MERCHANT ACCUSED IN BALM SUIT

Husband Reveals Asserted Whirlwind Love Affair With His Wife

"Love and Kisses" was the topic of extended conversation in Judge Gates's department of the Superior Court yesterday when there went to trial the suit of Frank L. Carr, fountain pen merchant, for damages of $50,000 against Stanley O. Beery for alienation of the affections of his olonde wife, Lucille M. Carr.

Mrs Lucille Carr

Carr, himself, on the stand all afternoon, related that after a casual meeting at a dance a love affair developed between his wife and Beery with whirlwind rapidity. He said that within a few weeks after their introduction he saw Mrs. Carr alight from Beery's automobile at 3:30 o'clock one morning. He did not know whose car it was then, but later he said he saw his wife and Beery in the same one. He told of standing in a secluded place and watching them kiss each other good night.

Beery has entered a vigorous denial of the charges. Carr, a few weeks ago, obtained a divorce from Mrs. Carr on practically the same charges as are contained in his suit against Beery.

A bitter contest of the case is expected. Numerous witnesses have been subpoenaed and the hearing will be continued Monday. Irvin C. Taplin and Clifford Crail are counsel for Carr, and Beery is represented by Attorneys Tanner O'Dell and Taft.

The first meeting between Beery and Mrs. Carr, according to Carr's testimony, took place at a dance given by the Michigan State Society, of which Beery is said to be a former president. The files of the Carr divorce action which have been brought before Judge Gates, show an exhibit a fervent letter written on the cover of a magazine and signed "Faithfully, Stanley," which Carr says Beery wrote to Mrs. Carr.

Complaint Filed Against Three in Auto Case

Fourteen counts of embezzlement and larceny by trick and device were filed against A. E. Rumery, formerly a branch manager of the Thomas Carney Company, a finance corporation; Al Lynch, an employee of the company, and George H. McNulty, salesman of used cars, in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Thomas.

It is charged that the three, through their associations in the automobile finance business, carried on transactions in automobiles valued at $7000. According to the District Attorney's office, the Thomas Carney Company was induced by Rumery to accept finance papers on cars which, it is charged, afterward turned out to be cars of antiquated model.

Rumery and McNulty were arraigned before Municipal Judge Wilson, bail being fixed at $5000 each and their hearing set for the 14th inst. Lynch was reported under arrest in San Francisco.

Cashier Accused of Taking Funds Remains in Jail

Schuyler D. Orrell, 28 years of age, former cashier for E. F. Hutton & Co., brokerage firm, who confessed he embezzled and lost $244,000 of the company's money playing the market, yesterday was still being held in the County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail, pending a grand jury investigation which is scheduled for Monday afternoon.

Orrell is being held on a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray. The grand jury investigation was called to go into every phase of the case and resulted in the issuance of subpoenas demanding the accounts of Fred C. Adams, broker, and O. R. Stratton, an unlisted broker, with whom Orrell admitted he traded.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Roe This Morning

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Roe, for many years a resident of Southern California, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today from the undertaking parlors of Strother & Dayton, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard. Mrs. Roe, who was 79 years of age, died last Wednesday at the home of her son, William W. Roe, business manager of The Los Angeles Daily Journal. She crossed the plains in a covered wagon and came to San Bernardino in 1861. She leaves two other sons, Frank and Thomas Roe, both of Los Angeles.

Scores of ministers of various denominations will be seated on the platform. Among the honored guests will be Mrs. Dr. W. C. Fiske, daughter of Jacob Riis. Miss Charlotte Canty, chairman of the committee on arrangements, is being assisted in preparing the program by Rev. David Howe, G. S. Thatcher, Mrs. Nancy Weir, Mrs. Ruth Gaut, Mrs. Mary Preston and Cash Whitney. The idea of conducting the service was furnished by the Sunshine Minglers and the 120 members of that organization will be present. Sunset Hill is at Ninth street, between Camino Real and Prospect street.

REWARD URGED FOR POLICE IN CHICAGO

That the reward of $2500 offered by the City Council for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Patrolman Wylie E. Smith be paid to the Chicago police officers who arrested the accused slayer in that city was requested of the City Council yesterday by the Police Commission. Patrolman Smith was doing traffic duty at Seventh and San Pedro streets when he saw bandits robbing a jewelry store. Patrolman Smith attacked the bandits and was shot and killed.

WIDOW OF 'BIG HUTCH' VICTIM ACTS

Mrs. J. B. Norris in Plea to Governor Urges That Bunko Man Serve Term

With the ruling by the Supreme Court of New York that Everett A. (Big Hutch) Hutchings, Los Angeles bunko man who was paroled from San Quentin and then ordered returned by former Gov. Richardson, must finish out his sentence, Mrs. J. B. Norris, widow of the man who was swindled by Hutchings, has again appealed to State authorities to see that justice is done.

Mrs. Norris, whose husband lost $51,000 to "Big Hutch" and who died some time later from shock, took up the fight to keep the convicted swindler in prison just as soon as his secret parole became public. At the time of his release a number of years ago he was paroled to New York City and when the parole was revoked refused to return to California and appealed to the New York courts.

After a bitter fight through all of the courts of that State, Hutchings was ordered turned over to California officers for return to San Quentin. Up to the present, officers have been unable to locate the much-wanted swindler who was at liberty under bond pending the outcome of his case.

Last Thursday through her attorney, George M. Pierson, Mrs. Norris called Gov. Young's attention to the case in a letter and requested that the Governor take a personal interest in it. Mrs. Norris stated that she believed the convicted swindler should pay the full penalty for his crimes. She said she has prepared for publication a book dealing with the details of the swindling of her husband and naming officers and officials said by her to have been implicated.

GLENDALE BOULEVARD WIDENING FORWARDED

Over the protests of a number of property owners, the City Council yesterday adopted the tentative map of the district to be assessed for the widening of Glendale Boulevard from the Glendale city limits to the Los Angeles River. The present plans calls for the widening by taking ten eleven feet off of each side of the Paeleven feet off to each side of the Pacific Electric's right-of-way.

S. B., Detroit, Friday, Fellowship Club, Tenth and Meyler streets, San Pedro, 8 p.m., under the auspices of Seventh Church.

Museum Head Will Speak at Dawn Services

DR. JAMES A.B. SCHERER

Dr. James A. B. Scherer, director of the Southwest Museum and one of California's best known orators and educators, will deliver the Easter message at the fourth annual sunrise services in the Exposition Park Coliseum, the 17th inst.

Easter as a symbol of new light for the world is the theme which Dr. Scherer has chosen as an inspiration for the tens of thousands who will unite without thought of race or creed in the strictly nonsectarian devotions. The speaker is especially capable of introducing the international note as he is one of the most noted authorities upon the Far East, being an author of many books based upon his prolonged residence and visits in Japan and China. "The Seven Ages of Japan" and "The Romance of Japan" are among his most recent works on the subject, while "The First Forty-niners" is his greatest contribution to California history.

Scherer's message will be a part of the program including music by the Philharmonic Orchestra, community singing under a noted leader, and other features.

Miss Bowler Takes Post as Aide to Chief

Miss Alida C. Bowler yesterday took office as secretary to Chief of Police Davis and president of the police bureau of public relations. Miss Bowler, who has had years of experience as a social worker, will specialize in an educational campaign to obtain public cooperation for the police in their work, Chief Davis stated.

ALIDA C. BOWLER

She was the recipient of many floral gifts when she assumed her office.

NEWEST HOLLYWOOD APARTMENTS TO OPEN

Hollywood's newest apartment-house will hold its formal opening tonight. One thousand guests have been invited to inspect the Hollywood Argyle at 2017 North Argyle avenue. Miss Margaret Lehman, the hostess, will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Anna Boyer, Mrs. G. Macon. Miss Geraldine Moore, Miss Emma Purser, Miss Jeannette Fippen and Miss Anna Lee. Among the evening's entertainment features will be the Petite Revue, juvenile comedians and an orchestra hidden in a bower of spring flowers. The lobby of the Hollywood Argyle was designed The Hollywood Argyle was built by the Samuel Bard Company, builders by Leo Mien of New York and Paris, of six other large apartment-houses in Hollywood.

POWER BUREAU WILL PAY $500,000 DEBT

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners, acting on the recommendation of Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood of the Municipal Power Bureau, yesterday adopted a resolution authorizing the repayment in full of a $500,000 loan obtained last December from the city's reserve fund. The records disclose that, according to an agreement entered into between the board and the City Council, the loan does not fall due until next September. In a letter to the board from Mr. Scattergood, it was pointed out that on December 17 of last year, the board had requested a temporary loan of $500,000 from the city's reserve fund in order to meet with cash payments a number of contracts falling due at that time. Under an agreement entered into with the City Council the loan was to be repaid from the Power Bureau's revenues by September of this year.

BURBANK MAN GETS POSITION IN ARIZONA

Prof. Floyd W. Farley of Burbank announced yesterday that his application for the position of superintendent of schools of Gila, Maricopa county, Ariz., has been favorably acted upon by the school authorities and that he will leave Southern California soon to take charge of his new work. Prof. Farley, who was graduated from the University of Southern California, in the last seven years has served as principal of the Fourth-street school at Kingman, Ariz., of the Horace Mann school at Long Beach, and the Meadow Lake Union High School at Truckee, and has taught at the San Diego Senior High School, Porterville High School, and the Alhambra Union High School at Martinez.

REAL ESTATE MEN HEAR ARCHITECT

Willis E. Stone, chairman of the public relations committee of the Hollywood Architects' League, addressed a meeting of 250 real estate men a tthe Hollywood Chamber of Commerce last night on the need of co-operation between the real estate salesmen, building construction firms and architects for community betterment. Mr. Stone stressed the point that the name of a reliable architect is an added selling point for property, and in order that homes of lasting beauty be constructed, the architects must insist that only such materials are used which will gain these results.

CHARITIES BENEFIT UNDER HORN WILL

Numerous Jewish charities will receive bequests from the $100,000 estate of the late Nathan Horn, under his will which was filed yesterday for probate. The principal portion of the estate was left to his son, Harry Horn, and his daughter, Lottie Horn Starrels. Only $1 was devised to the widow, Dora Horn, the will explaining that ample provision had been made for her otherwise.

VETERANS MEET MONDAY

Tom G. Galbraith Camp, No. 93, and Auxiliary No. 73, United Spanish War Veterans, will meet at Chaffee's Hall, 260½ East Main street, Compton, Monday evening.

TWO IN BEESWAX THEFTS SENTENCED

Assertedly afflicted with a novel complex for stealing beeswax, Fred Turner and his wife, Mildred, and Howard Lee, brother of Mrs. Turner, appeared before Judge Craig yesterday on charges of burglary. Turner and Lee were sentenced to San Quentin from one to fourteen years, while Judge Craig continued Mrs. Turner's application for probation for ninety days. Mrs. Turner will spend the ninety days in the County Jail under Judge Craig's order, and the court indicated he would probably admit her to probation at the conclusion of that period. All three of the defendants in the case pleaded guilty. It was charged that the trio stole about $500 worth of beeswax from local dealers in honey and attempted to sell it to an Alhambra dealer.

RADIO CODE CLASS BEGUN

A code class for radio operators has been started at Manual Arts Evening High School. The class meets from 7 to 9 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

SIGNAL TO BE INSTALLED

Chief of Police Davis has notified the City Council that an automatic traffic signal will be installed at the junction of Sunset Boulevard, Santa Monica Boulevard and Sanborn avenue as soon as possible.

INVENTOR STILL MISSING

Police Without Clews as to Reported Demise of Pasadenan in Kansas City

PASADENA, April 1.—Police here and in Kansas City are without clews to the solution of the mystery which surrounds the disappearance and reported death of Jacob H. Baker, 34 years of age, an inventor, who left Pasadena February 28 for Kansas City.

Baker left with $1000 in cash and the plans for a delicate manicuring device in which he planned to interest a Middle Western capitalist. His brother-in-law, M. H. Danielian, 1138 North Allen avenue, Pasadena, says he received a letter dated March 11, last, at Kansas City from M. H. Johnson, a former schoolmate of Baker's, stating that Baker had died.

JACOB H. BAKER

Subsequent inquiries by Danielian and Moses Baker, of Los Angeles, brother of the missing man, elicited the information that Kansas City authorities have no record of Baker's death or burial. The last word received from him here was to the effect that he had met Johnson in Kansas City as planned. A letter from Johnson dated March 8, last, said Baker was taken ill suddenly and had been unconscious for twenty-four hours.

In his last letter, according to Danielian, Johnson stated he was planning a trip to the Pacific Northwest and that if he came to Southern California, he would tell the relatives here more about the tragedy.

No one here knows what became of Baker's money or the plans for his invention, and police have been conducting a fruitless search for him and for Johnson, from whom they hope to get more information.

Baker was engaged to be married to a childhood sweetheart, Miss Serenoosh Salibian, whom he had known for sixteen years, according to Danielian. She is now in South America, and they were to have been married this spring.

Danielian says that Johnson, who formerly attended the Erish Bible School, Harrisburg, Pa., with Baker, omitted his Kansas City address when he wrote to relatives here. Baker at one time studied for the ministry at Pasadena College.

He is described as being 34 years of age, five feet seven inches in height and weighing 140 pounds. His hair and complexion are dark and he was wearing a blue serge suit when he left here.

Put an End to Rent Troubles

Most of us remember only too well what a task it used to be, looking around for a vacant house, an apartment, flat, or room. A day's job it was---and even then it usually ended by renting something less desirable---anything to get it over with.

How convenient it is now! We turn to "Times Rental Ads" and see at a glance what vacancies are offered. The whole city lies before us---each district segregated, houses and flats listed according to number of rooms. What could be easier that that?

A Superartistic Mansion In The Heart Of Beverly Hills

Because of business reasons necessitating his return to the East, the owner has just placed this property in our hands for sale.

The home fully and magnificently furnished, will appeal to the buyer with discriminating taste who seeks not only a costly environment, but one replete with refined charm and all that goes to make a home livable.

The grounds comprise a large triangle of approximately one acre and are beautifully laid out in formal gardens, pool and broad expanse of lawn.

The house, designed & built under the supervision of a leading architect, will bear the closest scrutiny as to construction and has been tastefully decorated by a master craftsman. It contains 11 spacious rooms, which comprise, besides the usual public rooms, 4 master chambers, 2 tile baths and servants' accommodations. There is also a 3-car garage.

Disappointments in New Gift of Science Set Forth With Deficiencies

BY H. G. WELLS

Copyright, 1927, by the New York Times Company. Translation right reserved.

Under the general title of "The Way the World is Going," H. G. Wells is writing a series of fortnightly articles for The Times dealing with the outstanding trends and tendencies of the year. In the following article, the seventh of the series, he passes judgment upon the radio and everything as he has encountered it in England.

LONDON, April 2. (Exclusive)—Now I think of the way in which mankind in general takes the gifts of science, gifts actual and gifts contingent, there comes back to my mind my own perhaps earliest encounter with these gifts. It took the form of a box entitled, if I remember rightly, "The Young Chemist"—an impressive box with ungrammatical and badly printed instructions for eliciting the wonders of science to "the delight of all beholders" who could be induced to behold. It evoked "a lead tree," which in practice proved to be a mere seedling that damped off, and some sluggish powder and several very gratifying stinks and smells and we wound up by mixing everything and preparing for a stupendous crash that never happened. And another very early gift was a telephone made of two pillboxes and a tightly stretched length of cotton thread between.

I still recall the sense of wonder of passing beyond common experience during those pioneer experiments with this great modern convenience. My elder brother and I were to communicate secretly and marvelously by means unknown. I had no doubt and he had no doubt that things would happen along that stretched cotton together livelier and livelier than the common speech and whispers of every day. He went to an upper window, from which he shouted directions to me through the vulgar air, and I stood down in the back yard.

Says United States Has Become Banker to Southern Neighbors

NEW YORK, April 2. (Exclusive)—"The moving-picture industry must be its own censor. I have a growing confidence in it. Today the lowest levels of morals and inspiration in the films are higher than the current stage itself."

So declared Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in the course of a speech tonight at the dinner of the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America, given to the ambassadors, ministers and representatives of the Latin-American republics.

In the course of his remarks, in which he dwelt upon the friendly relationship that has grown up between the republics of North, Central and South America, and which has strengthened as the nations have come to better understand each other, the Secretary said the moving-picture industry in recent years has had and still has a distinctive place in the upbuilding of this acquaintanceship.

"The motion picture," he said, "is not solely a commercial venture; it is not solely an agency of amusement and recreation; it is not solely a means through which the world has gained a new and striking dramatic art; nor is it solely a real and effective means of popular education. Beyond all this it is a skilled and potent purveyor between nations of intellectual ideas and national ideals. But it can also transfer the word within us as well as the best here in there lies a heavy obligation upon this industry.

GREATEST AGENCY

"If we search into the channels through which acquaintance, appreciation and respect may flow over our borders, we discover that in the last twenty years a vast new current has been added by the motion picture. It is the most penetrating and persuasive of all these methods of world communication. Literature, science,

STAMP THIEF SUSPECT DENIED FREEDOM WRIT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2. (Exclusive)—Louis Babbick, so-called stamp thief of Los Angeles, was denied a writ of habeas corpus by the District Court of Appeal today and must remain in San Quentin prison. His attorneys had contended that he was convicted by an unsworn jury and asked for dismissal of the conviction or a new trial. Babbick was convicted of receiving stolen English, Irish and Colonial stamps valued at $3500.

GUARDS ASKED IN ELECTION

State Military Units to be Ready for Chicago Riots; Howling Mobs Fill Streets

CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—Adjt.-Gen. Carlos Black was ordered to Chicago from Springfield today to determine whether it will be necessary to call out the National Guard to insure a riotless Mayoralty election here next Tuesday, Gov. Small, in a statement revealing the order to the Adjutant-General said.

"I have instructed Adjt.-Gen. Black to go to Chicago and confer with Maj.-Gen. Roy D. Keehn and Sheriff Charles E. Graydon and give whatever situation may arise his personal attention.

"I have too much confidence in the people of Chicago to think there will be race riots or other serious disturbances. But when a Sheriff asks intervention or preparation for intervention, his request must be taken seriously.

MAY VOTE IN SAFETY

"We are going to see that the people of Chicago can go to the polls Tuesday and safely cast their ballots."

The Governor's action followed a request by Sheriffs Graydon of Cook county that the Governor be prepared to mobilize the National Guard on quick notice.

Pandemonium in the city's three-cornered Mayoralty contest broke tonight, shouting, jostling crowds jammed downtown streets, spasmodic fist fighting was reported by police, the streets about the hotel in which Mayor Dever, Democrat, and William Hale Thompson, Republican, both have their headquarters, were crowded. The third candidate is Dr. John Dill Robertson, running on an Independent Republican ticket.

PLOT CHARGED

Sheriff Graydon, who is aligned with the Republican organization backing Thompson's candidacy, said he was impelled to ask Gov. Small to be ready with troops by what he characterized as a "Democrat-inspired plot." This was the sending of letters to 10,000 negroes under the stamped signature of Thompson. The letters requested the recipients to meet Thompson at his hotel headquarters yesterday.

Thompson said he believed the letters were for the purpose of filling the downtown streets with large numbers of negroes wearing Thompson badges. A fight was to be started, according to Thompson adherents, with the possibility of a riot resulting.

Managers of Mayor Dever's campaign said the plot appeared to them to be somebody's April Fool joke. They disclaimed knowledge of it.

Whether or not soldiers are called to guard the ballot boxes, there will be unusually strong police protection.

SENATOR KING GLAD HAITI BARRED HIM

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—Senator King of Utah, who was barred from Haiti recently by President Borno, expressed himself as "well satisfied with his exclusion after a call today at the State Department. "The situation could not have been better ordered had I done it myself," he said. The incident served his purpose, he said, because it attracted attention to the little to the public "and the fact that American marines are still there and that we have abrogated Haiti's constitution and given them one of our own making."

RITCHIE CANDIDACY URGED

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) April 2. (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates today unanimously adopted a joint resolution asking Gov. Ritchie to announce his candidacy for the Democratic Presidential nomination. The resolution was passed by the Senate last night.

VALLEJO BATTLES FLOOD

Heavy Rains Threaten to Burst Municipal Dam; Northern Downpour Heaviest in History

VALLEJO, April 2. (Exclusive)—A large force of men was prepared for a desperate battle with nature late tonight in an effort to prevent flood waters from tearing out the Vallejo Municipal Dam at Lake Curry and spreading over the fertile Suisun Valley in which the towns of Suisun, Fairfield and Cordelia are located.

The new battle against the flood waters was ordered following the receipt of reports of additional heavy rains in the foothills back of the dam which are expected to cause another rise in the level of the lake.

A force of nearly 300 men including 100 men from the Mare Island navy yard, was being organized and were to be dispatched to the scene of action within a few hours. With the men from Mare Island were to go ten automobile trucks and a large quantity of other equipment. More than 100 men were to go from Vallejo and scores of farmers from the Suisun Valley volunteered to assist in the work at the dam with teams of horses.

NORTH HAS HEAVIEST RAINFALL IN HISTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2. (Exclusive)—Reports of the heaviest rainfall in history in the northern portion of the State, probable damage to prune, plum and cherry crops and danger of a disaster to the Vallejo Municipal Dam followed today in the wake of the most severe rains, snow and hail in Northern and Central California since the February floods. It is still raining.

Cloudy skies which overhung the bay district all day today finally began leaking again about 3 p.m., precipitating a general drizzle.

The town of Kennet, eighteen miles north of Redding, had 7.55 inches of rain during the twenty-four hours ending at daylight, a downpour never before witnessed there. The seasonal total is now 86.34 inches, a previously unheard of precipitation for the vicinity.

RECORD AT REDDING

In Redding rainfall to date is 53.74 inches, the greatest ever known there, and yet more than thirty-two inches less than Kennet.

Treka experienced more rain in a single day than any previous record for the entire month of April, which came directly after half an inch of snow, the latest date recorded there on which a measurable quantity of snow has fallen.

Reports from Sacramento are that a survey is being made of prune, plum and cherry orchards as it is believed there has been damage.

Twelve feet of snow is reported on the ground at Summit in the Sierras, despite warm rains last night. The pack is only four inches less than the greatest amount in fifteen years. At Blue Canyon the snow depth is twenty-eight inches and at Truckee, twenty-two inches.

OIL LEASES ORDER VOID

Harding Decree Revoked

Coolidge Returns to Navy Department Control of Petroleum Reserves

Sinclair Accused in Brief of Altering Attitude in Teapot Dome Case

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—President Coolidge has revoked the executive order issued by President Harding on May 31, 1921, under which Albert B. Fall, as Interior Secretary, negotiated the naval oil-reserve leases with Edward L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, which led to both civil and criminal actions in the Federal courts.

The order of revocation was dated March 17, last, and it was stated at the White House that it was issued in keeping with the decision of the United States Supreme Court revoking the contracts and leases made with Doheny covering the Elk Hills (Cal.) reserve and oil-tank storage at Pearl Harbor.

Made public at the State Department in the usual routine way of publishing executive orders, it reads:

"Executive Order No. 3474 of May 31, 1921, committing to the Secretary of the Interior the administration and conservation of all oil and gas-bearing lands in Naval Petroleum Reserves Nos. 1 and 2, California, and Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 3 in Wyoming, and naval shale reserves in Colorado and Utah, under the provisions of the acts of Congress approved February 25, 1920, and June 4, 1920, is hereby revoked."

UP TO NAVY

By this order jurisdiction over all of the reserves save that in Wyoming—the celebrated Teapot Dome—is left exclusively with the Navy Department. The Wyoming reserve still is in the dispute, with Sinclair appealing to the Supreme Court from a Circuit Court decision revoking the lease.

Both during the Senate investigation and the hearings on the civil suits for the recovery of the reserves, President Harding's order was attacked as illegal because it in effect set aside an act of Congress placing jurisdiction in the Navy Department.

In deciding the Doheny case, however, the Supreme Court did not pass judgment on that proposition. Justice Butler, who read the decision, declared the transaction evidenced by the contracts and lease with Doheny was not authorized by the Act of June 4, 1920, under which Fall and Edwin Denby, as Secretary of the Navy, contended they had authority to revoke the time-honored policy of keeping a great naval petroleum reserve in the ground.

FALL'S IDEA

Evidence before the Senate Oil Committee was that the executive order which Harding signed was drawn in the Interior Department and the charge was that the plan of leasing the reserves originated with Fall, who accepted $100,000 from Doheny during the negotiations covering the Elk Hills reserve.

The executive order was approved by the Navy Department and it was taken to the White House for Harding's signature by Theodore Roosevelt, then assistant Secretary of the Navy.

After the order was signed negotiations for the leasing of the two principal naval reserves were entered into, first with Doheny's company and later with Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company. They extended over a period of more than a year and in holding that the Doheny lease and contracts were tainted with fraud, the Supreme Court cited the secrecy which attended their negotiation.

Fall has faced one jury with Doheny on a charge of criminal conspiracy. Both were acquitted, but the former Interior Secretary is charged jointly with Sinclair with criminal conspiracy in connection with the Teapot Dome leases. That case is set for trial in the District of Columbia Supreme Court on the 25th inst.

BRIEF FILED IN SINCLAIR CASE

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair's lease and contract for the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming were in effect declared illegal by the Supreme Court in the decision in the Doheny leasing case, governmental counsel contended in a brief filed in the court today preparatory to oral argument on Sinclair's appeal in about ten days. They insisted that the Doheny litigation has decided against Sinclair practically every point he sought to raise.

The brief, which is voluminous, charges that Sinclair has completely shifted his position in the Supreme Court. He is now attempting to defend himself, the government asserts, on the ground that his lease and contract were made for motives different from those which inspired the making of the Doheny leases and contracts and were solely for the conservation of the oil.

Recalling that lower courts had held there was authority to negotiate the Sinclair lease under the act of June 4, 1920, although the Circuit Court ordered it canceled on the ground of fraud, the government insisted that the Supreme Court in the Doheny case had taken a contrary view in its interpretation of the act and had held that leases under it could only be made to preserve underground oil from depletion.

The Sinclair lease and contract were declared to show "a complete

AMERICAN CLASH IMPENDS OVER NANKING OUTRAGES

Action Indicated at Washington as Consul Places Entire Blame on Nationalist Army

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—An impending clash with Nationalist authorities in China over responsibility for the Nanking antiforeign outrages was indicated tonight when the State Department made public "conclusions" of Consul John K. Davis at Nanking, holding Nationalist military commanders directly accountable for what happened.

Davis said all evidence showed that the attackers of foreigners were Nationalist troops and that the attacks clearly had been planned and carried out under orders.

CHEN CONTRADICTED

A statement by Eugene Chen, Nationalist Foreign Minister, published in Nanking and which denied participation of Nationalist troops in the attack prompted publication of the Davis report. Chen attributed the outrages to "reactionary" counter revolutionists and "remnants" of the defeated northern forces from which the city had been taken by the Nationalists. He protested the bombardment by British and American war craft and declared hundreds of Chinese had been killed by foreign naval guns.

Davis said seven persons "were killed in cold blood by soldiers in the uniform of the Nationalist army." Information from "a wide range of disinterested sources," he added, showed that only three Chinese civilians had been killed in the naval bombardment and that these Chinese military casualties could only have been among the forces attacking foreigners.

"The outrages were committed by the same troops which were engaged in disarming the remnants of the northern armies and they carried on their conversations in the dialects of Canton, Kiangsi and Honan provinces (all Nationalist territory)" Consul Davis said. "These soldiers bore no resemblance whatever to northern soldiers and it is absolutely impossible for them to have been agents of the northerners."

OUTRAGES PLANNED

"It is proved that the outrages were planned and could not possibly have been the accidental getting out of hand of a few troops."

Publication of the Davis report is particularly significant since the State Department refused today to discuss what steps it is preparing to take to exact reparations for the insult and injury inflicted upon Americans at Nanking. Indications are that a final determination has not been made, although demands to be presented to the Nationalist authorities are believed to have been drawn up and to conform generally to those the British Cabinet has decided to make in behalf of British sufferers and British prestige.

Chen's statement, if taken at face value as the attitude of Nationalist authorities in regard to the outrages, may influence the ultimate decision in Washington as to the course of the government in dealing with the Nanking incident.

The complete secrecy with which Secretary Kellogg is surrounding his study of the Nanking outbreak and formulation of American policy in that regard is itself significant of the seriousness of the situation. The State Department preserved silence even in the face of London disclosures that there had been official exchanges with Washington and that the London government was pressing for a vigorous and united stand by the powers involved.

It was admitted officially that Admiral Williams, American naval commander in China, was being consulted by the State Department in shaping its program.

FIRED DELIBERATELY

The summary of Consul Davis's report given out at the State Department follows:

"Consul Davis reports that Nationalist soldiers deliberately fired upon with intention to kill the British, Japanese and American consuls, knowing them to be such. In the consul's own case, he had just given them his card and asked to see their officer.

"In the case of the Japanese consul, he was shot at while ill in bed.

"All three consulates were deliberately looted, and although this was known by Nationalist officers, no effective measures were taken to afford protection up to the time of the naval barrage to rescue the party that had

FERDINAND IMPROVES

Rumanian King May Recover

Prayers Will be Offered Today in Every City and Hamlet

Carol Reported Prepared to Seize Throne if Father Dies

BUCHAREST, April 2. (AP)—News that King Ferdinand's condition had improved tonight was received with enthusiasm throughout Rumania, where the entire population has centered its interest on the royal palace at Cotroceni, where the King is staying. The members of the royal family are optimistic that he will pull through, and this optimism was shared by his physicians, for in their latest bulletin, they said:

"The amelioration established in the sovereign's condition yesterday has been maintained. His respiration is twenty-six, pulse ninety, and temperature 36.4 centigrade. (About 97 Fahrenheit.)"

Public opinion, strong in the knowledge of the ruler's qualities, feels that his indomitable courage will conquer. The suddenness with which the slight cold turned to grippe aroused the sympathy of all Rumanians and prayers were being offered today for his recovery. Tomorrow there will be prayers for the King in every city and hamlet throughout the land.

CAROL READY TO CLAIM THRONE

[Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, April 2. (Exclusive)—The blinds are drawn and there is not a sign of life at the villa at Neuilly, where Prince Carol of Rumania and Magda Lupescu are living. The neighbors stated that the Prince and his redheaded companion left this morning for a week-end in the country.

Prince Carol's intimates declare that he is ready to return to Rumania if his father dies, to claim the throne on the grounds that the renunciation of his royal rights was forced on him by politicians and his family and the people wish him to return and wear the crown.

Secret emissaries from Bucharest assured Prince Carol that the army solidly supports him and no troops would obey Bartlano's edict to bar him from the country.

It is reported that Prince Carol has arranged to hire an airplane and a well-known French pilot to fly direct to Bucharest, where he will march to the palace at the head of a column of military supporters, when the time is ripe.

QUEEN MARIE FACES OBLIVION

PARIS, April 2. (AP)—Queen Marie, looked on by her admirers as the strongest figure of the Balkans, may face political oblivion if King Ferdinand dies at present, in the opinion of Rumanian circles in Paris, but there are many who believe she will find her way to power again.

ITALIAN ACE HEADING WEST

De Pinedo Flies From New Orleans to San Antonio; Due at San Diego Tomorrow

SAN ANTONIO, April 2. (AP)—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian airman who is touring four continents on a 30,000-mile aerial journey, waved good-by to the Gulf of Mexico today and completed his first dry land hop in the United States when he flew from Galveston to San Antonio.

His gigantic twin-motored monoplane, which is equipped to land on nothing but water, made the 250-mile journey without mishap and is in shape to speed away at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning for Elephant Butte Dam, N. M., where it will land on the waters impounded by that dam. His next hop will be to the Pacific Ocean at San Diego, Cal.

Commander De Pinedo turned his plane to the west early this morning at New Orleans, his first stop in the United States, and flew approximately 300 miles along the gulf, arriving at Galveston shortly before 11 o'clock. After three hours spent in dining and tuning his plane he took off for San Antonio at 1:41 p.m., and flew almost due west until he crossed the city and came to rest on the waters of Medina Lake, thirty miles away.

MET BY ESCORT

A flight of five army planes met the flyer near the outskirts of the city and formed an escort for him until he had located the lake, which is hidden among deep hills. After circling the lake once the Italian dropped to the surface while the other machines sought near-by landing fields.
